AN APPEAL IN BEHALF OF THE SIL-VER CORNET BAND .- Our citizens will be called upon to contribute something toward sustaining this worthy organization during the present and the coming week. It has, for several years, been trying to maintain its organization without direct aid, but the hard times-the panic-has effected it as seriously as all other organizations maintained by individuals who have only their labor to depend upon for their support, and if it does not now eceive assistance it will be compelled to disoand. The members say they are willing, once in a while, to play for the benefit of the public, but that they cannot do so at the sacrifice of their daily labor. They require money to pay their leader, Mr. Neff, to buy a few new instruments, to repair old ones and to pay rent. Within two years they have paid out over a thousand dollars. We are satisfied that our people only want to be appealed to Huntingdon and Bedford, met in this place, to come to their relief. This organization has
