work. The cost of this, to a farmer who raises his own feed, should not be over $10 a ton for the hay, and $20 a ton for the grain. This would give the following result per day and per year: 14 fbs, of hay daily, at $10 per ton... 7c per day 12 " corn " 20 " ... 12 "

19 " This is nearly at the rate of $70 a year. An improvement on this ration is the following, which gives a larger variety of feed and a lower rate of cost: 6 ths. of cut hav. rn storer, cut fine, -6 cents per day

" corn andoats together— 10 "

The cost of this formula is $58 40 a year, taking the carrots and stover at $5 each per ton.

Army Rations of the United States .-According to the report for 1861, the daily rations for horses in the army was 14 pounds of hay and 9 pounds of grain. This feed, if estimated at the same rate as the above, would give for the cost, 16 cents per day, or $58.40 per annum.

If we take the average of these three rations, it will give 26 pounds of feed per day, at a cost of 17 cents, making the yearly expense to the farmer a trifle over $62. Of course, the cost of keeping horses in cities is a very different matter.

The Weight of Hay.

So many things have to be taken into consideration in calculating the weight of hay in bulk, it makes it difficult to get at it precisely. For example, fine, newly mown hay, like red top or herd grass, would probably require 500 cubic feet for a ton; timothy, 550; clover, 650; course meadow hay, 700, or more. After being stacked 30 days the bulk would be decreased from five to ten per cent possibly more, according to the size of the stack and the pressure upon it. Again hay will vary somewhat in measurement according to the time it is cut. If this be done when it is just coming in blossom, as it always should, it will pack eloser and weigh more per cubic foot than if left till the seed begins to ripen, and the stalks and leaves have grown coarser and become drier. Good judgment and some experience in measuring and weighing are required to get at this correctly. A neighbor of mine informs me that he once had the curiosity to weigh his timothy hay as he put it into the barn in July. He sold it about nine months after, and on weighing it, as it came out of the barn, greatly to his suprise it had shrunk to within a fraction of twenty five house alone, 10 cwt. per annum of the best manure in the world. Hence fifty fowls make more than enough manure for an acre of land, 7 cwt, of guano being the usual quantity applied per acre, and poultry manure being even richer than guano in ammonia and fertilizing salts. No other stock will give an equal return in this way and the figures will demand careful attention from the large farmer. The manure, before using, should be mixed with twice its bulk of earth and then allowed to stand in a heap covered with a few inches of earth, till decomposed throughout, when it makes the very hest throughout, when it makes the very best manure that can be had.

To Tell the Age of a Sheep.

I often hear persons disputing about the age of a sheep, to my surprise be it said. For, than to tell the age of a sheep nothing is easier. A sheep's front teeth the first year are eight in number, appearing all of a size. Second year the two middle ones are shed out and are replaced by two much larger than the others. Third year two very small ones appear-one on either side of the eight. At the end of the fourth there are six large teeth. Fifth year all the front teeth are large. Sixth year all begin to show wear-not till then .- Cor- 330 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia respondent Country Gentleman.

To MAKE cottage pudding, take three eggs well beaten, one half teacup of flour mixed dry with one teaspoonful of yeast powder, one pint of sweet milk, lump of butter size of a walnut; bake twenty minutes in a quick oven; serve hot. Sauce for same: one teacup of sugar, one tablespoonful of corn starch. one-half teaspoonful of tartaric acid, half tea-cup of water boil together. If the corn starch is mixed first dry with the sugar it will not lump.

WINDOWS IN BARNS .- A farmer who has profited by experience writes this sensible paragraph: "In building a new barn, I would study to put in all the win."

Lead I could receibly get in of course not would advise all who are suffering from this distance. dows I could possibly get in, of course not making a green house of it, but as many as most folks put into dwelling houses. It lief. is so much better doing the work in a light barn than in a dark one. cattle are Philadelphia. more easily taken care of; and are more quiet and better contented in a light place than in a dark one."

NOVEL SANDWICHES .- A new way to is boil a few pounds of ham and chop it very fine while it is yet warm, fat and lean together-and rub dry mustard in propertions to suit your taste through the mass; add as much sweet butter as is usually 330 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia spread on bread sanwiches, and mix. Then | Sole Proprietors and Manufacturers of split light biscuits in halves and spread the ham between.

KEEP AWAY THE HAWKS .- A Maine farmer says: If poultry raisers would erect martin houses about their buildings, on poles 16 feet high, martins, would make their homes in them, and keep hawks away from their chickens.
