business; regards it as one of the noblest of callings; is wide awake to all its interests, and takes an active part in every enterprise to push them forward. But our model farmer has no hatred of honest workers in other lines of industry, and knows full well every pursuit is made prosperous through the harmony and prosperity of all the rest.

2. Our model farmer is a thinker. He has laid out his farm with especial reference to the highest possible convenience. The arrangement of his barn, feeding-sheds and pig-pens, all show the thoughtful purpose. His fields are cultivated with a rotation of crops settled upon years before hand. The model farmer likewise plans the work of the season so that every particular job has its place, and there is no confusion or doubt as to what comes next.

3. The model farmer is likewise a model business man. He is wary about going into debt, knows just what his liabilities are, keeps systematic accounts of all his transactions, can tell you the exact cost and profit of every crop and of every herd, meets his obligations with promptness, and don't finish up a new house or a new barn with a mortgage.

I am happy to add my testimony to the great value of the "London Hair Color Restorer." which restored my hair to its original Color, and the hue appears to be permanent. I am satisfied that this preparation is nothing like a dye but operates upon the secretions. It is also a beautiful hair dressing and promotes the growth. I purchased the first bottle from Edward B. Garrigues, druggist, Tenth and Coates street, who can also testify my hair was quite gray when I commenced its use.

You will find on his tools neither rust or rot. He does everything in its proper time-loves thoroughness, hates weeds, hates slovenly farming, gives his stock good shelter and abundant food, and knows and practices the art of feeding for a specific purpose—whether for growth or fattening, butter or work. He knows also

"London Hair Color Restorer," which I like very much, in fact better than anything I have used in the last nine years. If you please, send me one dozen bottles C. O. D., care of W. S. 5. The model farmer is an economist. He wastes no time. You will not find him loafing in groceries or whittling the dry goods boxes of the nearest town. His time is a part of his capital, and he invests it so as to get the greatest profits. He is also an economist of labor. He seeks constantly to accomplish results with the least possible wear and tear of muscle, and every genuine appliance for shortening processes in labor finds favor with him. Being far from market he condenses his products so as to transport the highest value in the least bulk. Consequently he raises the best stock, keeps it in fine condition, and cultivates the best of fruits .- Progressive

Good Rules.

The Country Gentleman gives editorially ten rules for farmers which deserve to be printed in letters of gold. Here they are, in black and white: 1. Select good land, and reject sterile

2. Raise no weeds, but only profitable

no matter how cheap.

3. Underdrain wherever needed. 4. Adopt a good rotation of crops and adhere to it 5. Provide sufficient shelter for domestic animals. 6. Keep everything connected with domestic animals neat and clean. 7. Plow well, cultivate well, do all work well, and not slipshod. 8. Accumulate and save manure, and apply it properly. 9. Procure good implements, and take care of them.

10. Raise good animals and take care of them. The preceding ten rules will be of much use if carried out, and we add two more,
