The rail road should take all parties to the Centennial from now until the close at the rate of $4 per passenger from this place. The last notice was entirely too short. Two-thirds of our people knew nothing of the opportunity.

The communication of "True Republican" reached us after our forms were full. We think the less said about that matter the better. It won't admit of much stirring up. It would only draw attention and the community is full of people who think that way.

The young man who disturbed the Republican meeting, at the Court House, on Saturday night, by cursing "the d——n niggers," should remember that it does not require a black skin to make a "nigger," as his conduct on this occasion conclusively proved.

After this week the JOURNAL will be itself again, and the usual amount of interesting and instructive reading matter will fill its well printed pages. As the long winter evenings are here a copy of the JOURNAL should be found in every well-regulated household.

The editors of the Altoona Mirror have been arrested and held to bail to answer the charge of libelling James M. Stiffler, esq., the Republican candidate for Sheriff in Blair county. Some fellow, one night last week, destroyed the transparency hanging from a window of the Band room, requesting the "Democrats to call and pay $130 for playing last campaign," and the night following he stole the frame of the transparency, to be used, no doubt, on the occasion of the mass meeting of the "unterrified" in this place.

There is a considerable number of young ladies—at least they desire to be called ladies—who make a practice, under the cover of darkness, to brush with force, against every male they pass on the street. These collisions are anything but pleasant, and the young woman that is guilty of this sort of rowdyism ought to be treated as a rowdy.

At the late Tanner's Convention in Judge's Hall, Centennial grounds, on the 5th day of July last, a National Tanners' Hide and Leather Association was arranged to meet on the 18th of October, at which time it was organized by delegates from nearly all the States. Ex-Governor Jewell, of Connecticut, was made President, with other officers to meet annually hereafter.

As that class of birds styled "insectivorous" are not generally known to gunners, we give the following list from the revised edition of the game laws, for the especial benefit of "pot-hunters." Nighthawk, blue bird, cat bird, cedar bird, tanager, red or cardinal bird, robin, oriole, flicker, woodpecker, sparrow, whipporwill, thrush, lark, finch, martin, chimney swallow, barn swallow. The taking or killing of the above named birds is not allowed, under a penalty of five dollars for each bird except for scientific purposes.

Here is a fact not generally known:—An act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania passed June 13, 1836, says: "The father and grandfather, and the mother and grandmother, and the children and grandchildren of every poor person unable to work shall, at their own charge, being of sufficient ability, relieve and maintain such poor person at such rate as the quarter sessions of the county were such poor persons reside shall order and direct." This, it will be seen, makes children and grandchildren responsible for the support of their parents and grandparents if the latter are unable to maintain themselves, while it also makes parents and grandparents liable for the support of their children and grandchildren in case the latter are dest.tute and unable to work.

Yes, and still they come. Who come? Why, the people come to Montgomery's clothing store, to buy their ready made clothing for men and boys, under clothing, hats, caps, boots, ladies', misses' and children's fine gaiters and coarse shoes, all sold cheap for cash.

Go to Samuel McCulloch's Hardware Store if you want a Cook or Heating Stove. He will undersell any one in the county [nov3-2t.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—WHAT IS LIFE Insurance? Apoplexy, &c.—Many people insure their lives to benefit their families by death—how paradoxical is this. To prolong life by preserving the health would be a far more rational manner of assuring it. Apoplexy is swift and insidious in its attacks, striking its victim without a moment's warning, happily a preventive has been discovered—Holloway's Pills—the only safe and certain antidote for this disease, they cool the blood and equalize its circulation through the system. To preserve the stomach in a sound condition and the blood pure is the true secret of health—Holloway's Pills will do this most effectually and thousands owe their actual existence to them at the present day. 183

Any one who wants a Cook Stove, or a Heating Stove, can buy from Samuel McCulloch cheaper, than from any one else in the State. [nov3-2t.

Yes, it's true. What's true? Why, that the place to buy your clothing is at Montgomery's clothing store, nearly opposite the post office.

An Unanswerable Argument.

The strongest argument which can be urged against the advisability of administering such corrosive and nerve-destroying poisons as arsenic and quinine for intermittent and remittent fevers, is the vastly superior success in the prevention and cure of such diseases of a medicine which is the very antipode of the above named drugs, both in respect of its composition and the results wrought by it. Such a medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a purely vegetable preparation, which not only eradicates with wonderful promptitude every trace of fever and ague, and kindred types of malarious diseases, from the system, but is a certain preventive of all maladies begotten of miasma-tainted air and water. These results mineral anti-febrile remedies do not effect with certainty, and their continued use entails consequences highly pernicious to the system. The Bitters, on the contrary, not only afford speedy relief, but establish health on a permanent basis. [nov3-1m

"Och, me honey, an' what's de mather wid yez?" "Be gone, I say an' buy your clothing at Montgomery's."

If you want a Lap Robe or Horse Blanket, go to Samuel McCulloch's Hardware Store, 416 Penn st. [nov3-2t.

Having made arrangements, any one wanting the celebrated Burt Shoe, either in Men's, Women's, Misses', or Children's sizes, can have them on short notice, by leaving their order at the American Boot and Shoe Store, 334 Railroad street. [oct27-2t

If you want anything in the Hardware line, go to Samuel McCulloch's. He has the cheapest goods in the county. [nov3-2t.

Montgomery bought his goods for cash and down at bottom prices. Montgomery's is the place for you to buy cheap.

The neatest fitting and cheapest overcoats made to order in town are at Montgomery's.

To the Readers of the Journal.

I've finished up me job, frinds,
An' washed me dirty face,
An' feel as happy as a dog
Brimfull of Switzer kase.

Wid vigor all renewed, frinds,
Me writin' I resume,
An' rouse my ould hard throtin' muse
From out her mouldy tomb.

Anxiety I know, frinds,
Has torn ye're jintle hearts,
And left thim like a road thraversed
By twinty thousand carts.

But now prepare to shed, frinds,
The sympathizin' tear,
Whilst radin the pathetic lines
That weekly shall appear.

I've made a firm resolve, frinds,
To do me level best,
And hope me wild endeavors will
Wid victory be blest.

I hope ye will excuse, frinds,
Me silence long and loud,
Me muse I find is rather slow
In getting off her shroud.

The election is so close, frinds,
It's scarcely worth the time
Required to find out where I stand,
To mix it in me rhyme.

But if ye wish to know, frinds,
Me sintiments complate,
I'll shove me ticket for the man
Who was the last to trate.

Financial storms still bate, frinds,
Upon me classic brow,
If e'er me purse was inside out,
Begob, it's that way now.

I cannot long survive, frinds,
Benathe its mighty roar,
I hav'nt had a drop of grog
For sivin months or more.

I tell ye this in time, frinds,
So that if I should fail
To raise ye're risibilities
Ye'll not yer love curtail.

So now wid these remarks, frinds,
I'll narrow to a close,
I'll fold me sheet of foolscap up
And blow me celtic nose.

Yours affectionately,
DENNIS O'RAFFERTY, ESQ.

There is no Medicine that has accomplished so much as Shiloh's Consumption Cure. It has established the fact that Consumption can be cured, while for Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, and all Lung diseases it has no equal. No medicine was ever sold on such favorable terms. If it was unreliable it would be the greatest folly to guarantee it. It costs nothing to try it as it can be returned if it does not give satisfaction after using two-thirds of a bottle. Call at my store and get a sample bottle, 10 cents or a regular size 50 cents or $1.00. If your Lungs are sore or Chest or Back lame use Shiloh's Belladonna Plaster which seldom fails to give relief. VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

UNION TWP., Huntingdon Co., Pa.
October 30, 1876.

J. R. DURBORROW, ESQ., EDITOR JOURNAL:—As you seem to take more interest in the farmers and tax-payers than any other political editor in the county, you will very much oblige one of that class of men, by giving me a small space in your columns. In the Globe of October 17th, I see an article reflecting on the political character of our esteemed neighbor, John Mierly, esq., which for downright cowardice, and falsehood caps anything that have ever read. No one but a sneaking coward would be guilty of furnishing material for such an article against so pure and honorable a man as Mr. Mierly. I feel glad to believe that there is not a man among the editors of Huntingdon county, except the foul-mouthed editor of the Globe, that would stoop so low as to try to disgrace any honorable man in such a way. Guss speaks of being sorry to make such a charge; why, sir, the man that would countenance such a charge against a man like Mr. Mierly, being acquainted with him as Guss is, is certainly lost to shame, and nothing but a death struggle would drive him to such an act. Now, sir, I do not refer to this on account of any injury that it will do Mr. Mierly at home (for it will make him votes here, that he would not have had without it); but for the information of persons that are not personally acquainted with the gentleman.

I was present at the debates referred to in said charge, and I am confident that no such question was proposed by any one; besides this I have talked with a number of persons including some who took part in the discussions, and they unanimously say that no such question was proposed or discussed. But for the man; We have no better citizen. During the war we had no better Union man than John Mierly; no man who did more for the comfort and benefit of the soldiers' widows. He was on hand at wood haulings or any kind of parties (of which we had many); his pocket book was open to assist in helping to bring sick soldiers home; so much so that when some of the folks were crying out against Democrats, even Republicans said they took notice that when any money or help was needed some of the Democrats were more liberal than some Republicans.

But the article referred to only shows the desperation to which Guss and his friends are driven. When men have to go back fifteen years to get material for a false statement, we think it is a recommendation to those assailed, and we say, without fear of honorable contradiction, that Squire Mierly is second to no man here in point of honesty and integrity, and we intend to prove the same at the election by our votes; although he is a Democrat we know him well enough that we can trust him, and we feel confident that he will make a Representative that will take care of the intersts of the tax-payers and that the county will be proud of. Truly Yours,
A. W WRIGHT.

MESSRS. EDITORS: In your last issue I noticed some remarks in regard to the crowded state of our primary schools and the apparent necessity of larger accommodations.

Permit me to suggest a very simple remedy. Instead of keeping the schools open ten months a year, drop off the months of September and June, commencing with the 1st of October and closing with the close of May; let the school tax remain as it is, and thus curtail the year's expenses one-fifth. Let the Directors take this one-fifth of present annual expense, and apply it by enlarging the present school buildings. This policy pursued for four or five years, will provide ample accommodations without increasing the present taxation, which is already a heavy burden. I presume that the schools do not fill up until about the 1st of October, and thin out very much in the hot days of June. In conclusion I venture this assertion, and am willing to appeal to the result of the experiment for the truth of it, that at the end of any given period, of two, three, or five years, the average of education among the scholars, and the standard of education in the schools, will be just as good on eight months schooling as on ten months. HUNTINGDON.

[We cannot agree with the learned and venerable author of the above. We regard the coop on the hill as a disgrace to the town and a drawback upon its progress. Any effort to patch it up would only be money wasted. There is no town of the size and with the wealth of Huntingdon in the State that has as disgraceful a school structure. If the Directors could have built one themselves to have kept some one else from doing it, or could have done it illegally after the manner of selling school books, in all probability a new house would have been built long ago. As to cutting down the school term until a house of sufficient capcaity is acquired we leave that to the people, but a new house is an absolute necessity.—ED. JOURNAL.]

STEWART.—At Hillards, Franklin co,, O. on April 11, 1876, Robert Stewart, in the 56th year of his age.

The deceased was a native of Huntingdon county Pennsylvania, and was one among a family of twelve children, of whom there are yet living five brothers and four sisters. Mr. A. Stewart of this place being the only brother now living in Ohio. In 1838, Mr. Stewart was joined in marriage with Miss Rebecca Dearmet, who survives him, and who bore to him three children, but one of whom is living, Mr. A. M. Stewart, recently of this place. In 1846, Mr. Stewart brought his family to Ohio, and located his new home near Newark, Licking county, where for twenty years he was actively engaged in farming. About ten years ago he came to Plain City, and from that time until his death followed lighter pursuits, enjoying here as he ever did elsewhere, the full meed of that public esteem and confidence which always attend such quiet careful lives his has been. His last illness, painful and protracted, seemed almost hopeless to his physician, from the beginning; yet after a time, the strong will of the prostrated man seemed ready to prevail over physical weakness, and restore him again to activity and usefulness. In this condition, and with increasing hope from family and friends, about two weeks ago, he removed from Plain City to the place where he died. Long a member of the Presbyterian Church, his end was a fitting one—painless and peaceful. His life had been empty of vanity and useless words, and its close, among those nearest and dearest to him, was full of assurance for the new awaking that awaited him,

The remains were brought to Plain City, on Wednesday morning; and after a funeral discourse in the Presbyterian Church, by Rev. Mr. Hunt, were followed to their last resting place by a large concourse of regretful friends and relatives.

STEWART.—On Friday, Sept, 15th, in Plain City, Ohio, Alexander Stewart, aged 59 years, 9 months and 3 days.

Mr. Stewart was born in Huntingdon county Pa., and moved to Plain City, about ten years ago. His somewhat unexpected death cast a wide spread gloom over the whole community. The entire period of his life had been one of business activity, which though not prosperous financially, was characterized throughout by the most sterling integrity. His walk in life has been a modest and unostentatious one, which, with his uprightness of life, had won him many friends, and he died without a known enemy in the world. He never had connected himself with any church, but was a firm adherent and supporter of the Presbyterian church, at which, as well as others, he was a regular attendant, and gave evidence in his last hours, that his was the death of the righteous.
