An Unanswerable Argument. The strongest argument which can be urged against the advisability of administering such corrosive and nerve-destroying poisons as arsenic and quinine for intermittent and remittent fevers, is the vastly superior success in the prevention and cure of such diseases of a medicine which is the very antipode of the above named drugs, both in respect of its composition and the results wrought by it. Such a medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a purely vegetable preparation, which not only eradicates with wonderful prompti- tude every trace of fever and ague, and kindred types of malarious diseases, from the system, but is a certain preventive of all maladies begotten of miasma-tainted air and water.
