Republican State Convention.

HEADQUARTER'S REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE, In pursuance of a resolution of the Republic State Committee, adopted at a meeting held in Harrisburg, this day, a Republican State Convention, to be composed of delegates from each Sena torial and Representative district, to the number to which such district is entitled in the Legislature, is hereby called to meet in the city of Harrisburg, at 12 o'elock noon, on Wednesday, August 29th, 1877, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Supreme Judge, State Treasurer and Au ditor General, to be voted for at the ensuing general election on the sixth day of November next.

By order of Committee.

THE GREEVY CASE.

For some unaccountable reason the Philadelphia Times has given great prominence to the Greevy case in Bedford county. From the statements of the parties, directly and indirectly interested, made to us a few days after the publications in the Altoona Globe, we have been led to regard the matter as a personal affair, be tween Judge Hall and Mr. Cessna. Mr. Greevy took up Mr. Cessna's grievance, if he had any, and Mr. Cessna made use of him to say some naughty things that he wanted said to the Judge. Whether Mr.

On the other hand, Judge Hall is a strict disciplinarian, an able lawyer, an upright Judge, and a courteous gentleman, and it would only be under the most grieyous professional discourtesy and want of good faith, as was instanced in this case, that his usual serenity of temper could be disturbed. The immediate facts in the case, as we have learned them from both parties, foot up thus: An embezzlement case was submitted to a jury in the evening, just before the adjournment of the Court for the day. The Judge proposed, with the permission of counsel, as discussion took place. The constable, in charge of the jury, was several times approached, by counsel, during the evening, and importuned to know how the jury stood. It is alleged that the discussions of the jury were overheard and that advantage was taken of this discreditable proceeding. In the morning, as Judge Hall was entering the bar, he was approached by the constable, with the request that in the future, when a jury was out at night, he should direct the constable to keep the Court room free from intruders, stating wious night, he had been approached by members of the bar to ascertain how the jary stood, and that he was confident that of the offender or offenders and, smarting all of which we know a thing or two. under the outrage that had been perpetra ted by officers of his Court, he seated himself upon the Bench and directed the Court to be opened, considering what would be the proper thing to say or do; but before he could collect his thoughts, and direct the jury then assembling in the box to be sympathy which exists between the stomach and the brain, and in part also to the fact that the jury then assembling in the box to be motion for the polling of the jury. This movement, at this step of the proceedings, was manifestly improper, but the Judge took the paper remarking, "Why, Mr. Cessna, you agreed to the sealing of this

THE last Globe contains Prof. Guss' aledictory, in which he travels over the many hard fought fields of the last four years, that immortalized Huntingdon county journalism, and criticises freely, from his standpoint, endorsing and disapproving by turns, complimenting here and condemning there, in quite a philosophical manner. After all the smoke, and the battles, and the blood of these eventful years, Professor, we are sorry to lose you. What you and the writer have experienced in that time has passed into history-a history that is not likely to repeat itself. Good-by, and when next we meet it will not, we hope, be in battle array, fierce for the fight, but in the happier, calmer moods, where peace, contentment and happiness have superceded the bitter, criminating, and blunted weapons of journalistic strife-Good bye, and may the future use you better than the past, and may all your future works redowned to your credit and the credit of mankind.

ANOTHER victory is reported for the revolutionists in Cuba. The Government forces, it is asserted, were badly whipped. Why is it that the Government of the United States does not recognize the revolutionists by extending to them beligerent rights? It is a disgrace to the nation that we have apparently stood by, disinterestedly, and witnessed a handful of brave men contend for freedom, for almost half a score of years, without giving them the least manifestation of encouragement. We are under no obligations to Spain and if she did not like our attitude towards her down-trodden,tax-ridden Islanders, she might lump it as the dog did the hot

Chief Joseph Completely Routed. Official Report of the Battle by General Noward—Great Braverg of the Soldiers. San Francisco, July 14 .- The following offi-

Passing around Tranverse Canyon for a mile and a half, I began the battle in earnest, and dismounting, formed in ravines and behind rocks, a barricade well prepared. For seven hours every charge was made we gained on them. Still at night our, residion, was not a successful at institute our, residion, was not a successful at night our residence. them. Still at night our position was not a very good one, as the enemy lay contiguous communication, as I was short of rations. This morning by a determined effort, we regained our spring of water from some sharpshooters. This afternoon I gave our line to the care of Capt. Perry, commanding the cavalry, and Capt. Miles' battalion of infantry. I drew out Capt. Miller's battalion of artillery, acting as infantry. Just as we were ready to recommence the offensive work Capt. Jackson and a pack train appeared in sight beyond the Indians position. Miller pushed out in skirmish order, met the train and es-corted it successfully. They had hardly form-ed a junction with us when the artillery battalion already beyond the enemy's flank made a rapid movement, taking Gatling guns and a heavy howitzer along. The Indians made one desperate effort to flank Miller, but failed, and then gave way. Everything was then pushed in pursuit. We shelled them rapidly from the high bluffs as they escaped from the left bank of the river, and followed them. They fled in every direction as far as the river, and are now across and going into camp at 9:30 P. M. The losses of the Indians appeared to be thirteen killed and quite a large number wounded. We have Captain Bancroft and Lieutenant Wiliams and eleven enlisted men killed, and twentyin great haste, leaving much plunder. The Indians fought as well as any troops I ever saw, and so did ours, not a man failing in his duty. I now believe that I am in fine coudiduty. I now believe that I am in fine condi-tion, just as soon as Green appears from Boise, to make thorough work with these Indians. They are making for the Snake country, and I for concentration at Mt.
