In is reported that the Democrats in the Lover End of the county, are extremely anxious to trade off one of their candidates for Director of the Poor. The proposition is to vote for Squire Harper provided Republicant will vote for Mr. Star. This is done with a view to securing a Democratic Poor Director and electing both from that section. Our Republican friends had better "nip this thing in the bud."

M. S. LYTLE, ESQ., one of our dele gates to the State Convention, was honored by a Secretaryship of that august body and filled the bill to the letter. REPUBLICAN STATE CONVEN-

Elsewhere in this paper will be found the proceedings of the Republican State Convention which convened, on the 5th nst., at Harrisburg. The proceedings inlicate that there was not as much harmony of feeling as might have been expected. The smouldering issue between Hartranft and Cameron was almost fanned into a blaze and thereby a fight precipitated. This we regard as the result of very bad generalship on the part of the friends of Hartranft. It is probable that the latter's lieuthat by rushing Hartranst into the breach that Reeder could be saved. PERMANENT CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the Concention.

I thank you for the unexpected honor you have conferred on me. We have assembled under circumstances which demand of us the calm consideration of grave questions which affect all the diversified interests of the Commonwealth. We should discuss them in a spirit of candor and fairness, and with due remembrance that diversity of opinion is the necessary attendant upon independence of thought, and that in a body so large at this, unity of action now and harmony in the future will depend largely upon the generosity of consideration which we extend to each others' views. We cope with a party unscrupulous, as it is hungry for the spoils of effice. They come to this contest with the desperation of a party, maddened by sixteen years of uninterrupted defest, and prepared to force a victory by whatever means may insure success.

We may justly charge upon the Democratic party that they have through years of persistent misrepresentation and for merely partisan purposes exoited unnecessary and unjustifiable antagonism between capital and labor, until it has culminated in riot and murder, and the unprovoked destruction of millions of property essential to the economy, and by the refusal of the House of Rep-resentatives controlled by Democratic majority to concur in necessary legislation, defeated the ap-propriations necessary to the proper maintenance of the Army and Navy, and the Courts of the United States, whereby the Indian frontier has been exposed to the merciless violence of savage warfare, and peaceable citizens upon our Southern border exposed to depredations upon their prop-erty, and the insecurity of person and life without adequate means of defense.

They have left the courts without funds to pay ordinary and necessary expenses whereby the administration of the Federal courts was of necessity suspended for a time both in the Supreme Court of the United States and in many Federal judicial districts, and have by factious exercise of party power in the House of Representatives thrown unnecessary and vexatious hindrances for party purposes only in the way of national administration.

They have, for the same purposes, attempted They have, for the same purposes, attempted to subordinate the financial policy of the country to political success. They have, by repeated and authoritative atterances of the party, proved themselves to be without coherence of principle' upon any national issue, and their announcements of party policy are as varied as the localities in which they are preclaimed. We charge them with disloyalty in war, with insubordination in pages, with systematic corruption of the ballot, and with total unfitness to administer the government in either the National or State Administration.

It is our business to see that this demoralise and corrupt party is agair defeated at the polls Let all minor and personal considerations be los in our multed efforts for the public good—and when victory shall again settle upon the banner of the Republican host, we will proudly remember Full and Accurate Report of Proceedings. 7. That the administration of Gov. Hartranft calls for our warmest approbation. He has established a State policy which has justly endeared him to the people of this Commonwealth, and he has amply justified the confidence placed in him. The steady reduction of the State debt during his administration, and the successful refunding of a large portion of the debt at a lower rate of interest, are the best possible evidences that the State has been well and economically governed, and that the people have everything to hope from a continuation of the Republican party in power.

Buslington, Iowa, Sept. 4, 1877.

Dear Editor:—On taking my departure from your midst, I taeitly consented to write you an occasional communication, and inasmuch as I still pride myself in having a little of the spirit which was so characteristic in "Little George's" make up, I will proceed to give you a hurried outline of my journey to this point, as well as a brief description of the place. After procuring a ticket and bidding kind friends and acquaintances an affectionate "good-bye," I boarded the Tast Line on the evening of August 15th, and hied westward. I stationed myself in the rear of the hind car and as I noticed the familiar faces and scenes recede from my my view, I fully appreciated the following lines: clique influence in the nomination of our ticket, let us nominate Howard J. Reeder. Major A. W. Norris: I rise with extreme sorrow; for I know I will, by doing what I intend, provoke the hostility of men who have been my friends. Now I went to men who are now against Howard J. Reeder, and they said if they were not for him they would at least be neutral. But now these men are against him and are here hissing Mr. Wolfe.

In Philadelphia we are fighting gallant young Republican, and all these On we thundred through hills and over mountains until we finally reached Pittsburgh. At this point we change from the P. R. R., to the Ft. Wayne & Chicago. It is now past midnight. I take my seat and make myself as comfortable as it is possible to do in a railroadcar, and forgetting everything pertaining to the future or the past, I give myself over te "tired nature's sweet restorer, baimy sleep." As I swake in the morning and take my bearings I find we have journeyed some distance into Ohio. As I go to the rear of the car and look toward Pennsylvania, a beautiful sight opens out before me. "Old Sol," apparently, is making an herculcan effort to clear the mountains in the east that he may better shed his invigorating rays on the extensive corn fields which are to be seen everywhere; such fields of corn—acres upon acres on all sides. A person raised in the mountainous region of Pennsylvania is at a loss to conjecture what becomes of all the corn he sees in the great States of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois; but when he remembers the large number of cattle and hoos that are annually exported from these men who are now opposing him were for him. But since a certain judical fight in Philadelphia they have turned against Howard J. Reeder, and proclaim that the Governor shall not appoint a judge before consulting them. I know it, and I say now before my God that this fight is a fight against Governor Hartrauft. [Applause.]

Nominations for State Treasurer being in order, Hon. George Lear, of Bucks, nominated Wm. B. Hart, of Montgomery. He sketched Captain Hart's military and civil career in a masterly manner, eulogiz-ed his honesty and ability, and commented on his skillful management of the affairs of the State Treasury while chief clerk; on his skillful management of the affairs of the State Treasury while chief clerk; he is an intelligent man who understands the duties of the office, and his name upon the ticket will encourage the young men of the Commonwealth, and will inspire them to make an effort to give him an immense majority in November. [Applause.] mense majority in November. [Applause.] Mr. Dushane seconded the nomination

Mr. Kitzmiller nominated Dr. E. G. Fahnestock, of Adams, which nomination night ride and we arrive, tired and hungry, at our journey's end.

Burlington is quite a business place, situated on the "Fathers' of Waters," about one hundred miles south-west of Chicago. It is built on three bluffs or hills, which are respectively known as the North, South and West Hills. The population is variously estimated at from 25,000 to 30,900. In 1870 the resultation was that 14 230 as you will charve lin, of Lancaster County, who moved that Mr. Hart be nominated for State Treasurer by acclamation, which was agreed to with loud applause.

THE PLATFORM.

Mr. Cessna, from the Committee Resolutions, reported the following as a platform of principles, and asked that it be read by John A. Smull, esq., who had been selected by the Committee as their Secretary. The resolutions were read by Mr. Smull, as follows:

1. While we recognize and respect the different 1. While we recognize and respect the differences of opinion existing among us as to the course pursued by President Hayes towards the South, we are in hearty accord in honoring the patriotic motives which have guided him, and in hoping that the results of his policy will be peace, good-will, and the complete recognition of the Equal Rights of all men in every section of the country; and to the efforts of his administration to carry into effect the articular of the platform upon which he

2. The Electoral Commission having been crea-2. The Electoral Commission having been created at the urgent solicitation of the Demogratio party, and after the oft repeated declaration of its leaders in both Houses of Congress that no faction could cavil at its decisions, we witness, with profound astonishment, the assaults of that party upon the august tribunal of its own creation, because its decisions disappointed their expectations of official patronage. Such assaults, so far as they seek to impair the confidence of the people in the just title of the President to his high office, are equally childish and foolish, but may become extremely mischievous in assisting to diminish the popular respect for the decisions of lawful tribunals.

The spirit for manufactories and city improvements has taken quite a hold on Burlington. Rolling mills, nail factories, water works, and sewers are all freely discussed. The Havk Eye makes its appearance every morning with from one to three columns devoted specially to these subjects; but to a person who has lived in "ye ancient Borough" for the last eighteen months, and has heard Water Works, French Plate Glass Works, etc., discussed, cussed, re-discussed, and re-cussed, will not get much excited over such small matters. It is the general opinion, however, that Burlington will ere long have water works. The water will be pumped from the Mississippi by an engine, at an estimated cost of $350,000. Since my arrival I have made the acquaintance of W. J. Adams, esc., who was born and raised in "ye ancient Borough" and who, at one time, served as "devil" on your paper. I find him quite a jovial fellow, and am glad to say that he is doing quite an extensive insurance business, being the special agent for the Hawk Eye Fire Insurance Company for the State of Iows. popular respect for the decisions of lawful tribunals.

We respectfully but earnestly entreat all members of the National and State Legislatures to assist the return of prosperity to this great country, by adopting such measures to that end as are in their power; to devote less attention to partisan strife and more attention to the business interests of the country, in order that wise and proper laws may be passed to lessen the burdens of labor and increase its rewards; to encourage and restore to enable the country to find a foreign market for its enable the country to find a for

it a splendid young BEARING APPLE ORCHARD, BEARING APPLE ORCHARD, and an abundance of spring water near the door,
and in nearly every field on the place.

The soil is of limestone nature, and is productive. This farm lies in a good community, near good markets, mills, churches, &c., one mile from the railroad depot at either Saltillo or Three Springs, and is the Mansion part of the old Ashman property, the situation being the most desirable and attractive in the county. There is a well of water at the door, and a stream running through the south end of the place, called Spring Creek.

Purchase money made in payments. Any information can be obtained by addressing the undersigned at Saltillo, P. O., Huntingdon co., Pa. sep14-4t]

NOTICE TO BRIDGE BUILDERS. The Commissioners of Huntingdon county will let, at public outcry, to the lewest bidder, the contract of re-building the WOOD WORK and one STONE ABUTMENT, of the bridge across Aughwick Creek, in Shirley township, near the farm of Isaac Rorers, and the mouth of said Creek at Levelock p. m. on the country of the country o

South and west Hills. The population is variously estimated at from 25,000 to 30,900. In 1870 the population was but 14,930, so you will observe that Burkington has been making some rapid strides within the last seven years. There are seven railroads centre at this point, and in connection with the advantages of navigation on the Mississippl, you will readily see that there are few points with equal shipping facilities. It is certainly a grand sight, on a fair evening, to stand on one of these bluffs (on which a portion of the city is built) and watch the declining sun as he disappears beneath the Western horizon. The reflection on the waters is peculiarly magnificent and would require the descriptive pen of a Sun Set Cox to do it justice. As youllook toward the East you can see for miles into Illinois. As you cast your eyes toward the South the great Mississippi takes its circuitous course toward the Gulf and to the west the broad and fertile prairies of Iowa open out before you, whilst all around you are beautiful residences, built with all the modern improvements. The lots are large and elevated from the pavement from eight to ten feet. The houses are cenerally placed in the middle of the lots. and
