In season and out of season it was foremost in urgstood by them. In a sale by auction there are ing that which had a tendency to aid our material wealth. And yet all this public spirit three parties, namely, the owner of the property to be sold, the auctioneer, and a portion of the brought nothing to us in a material sense. When the time came some other person even grabbed up the credit. We were ignored at very turn. If there was any money to be the auctioneer or any one else to bid for him: There are cases on record where a bid was not made out of our suggestions, some one els made it, and never even asked whether a lit reserved, and the vender had a bidder who tle bit of patronage would be acceptable Thousands of dollars were made out of the against the vender by the highest outside bidenterprises that we suggested, and, they were very likely, lost afterwards, as they rightly der for the article, and it was decided that he, the plaintiff, was the highest bidder and entitled to the article against the vender. So, deserved to be. Inordinate greed is very like y to be punished in this way. But what we want to get at is this: The public institu-tions of the town, which benefitted so much by the energy and enterprise which we advo-ted and constantly supported, were equally of England and so repeatedly decided by the cated and constantly supported, were equally as selfish as the individuals—they gave us no patronage and some of them were gratified at NEW COUNTERFEIT.-It is a matter of importance to warn our readers that a new and dangerous counterfeit five-dollar note, on

In nothing is the above more illustrated than in the course many pursue in certain kinds of disease. In order to save a few cents they have what they call their own prescriptions, such as Balsam Copabia, Turpentine, &c., little knowing the baneful influence these drugs have on the constitution, the disgusting smell from the breath, and, with all these disadvantages, there is no saving of money, as the dose has to be renewed over and over again until at last the condition of the patient becomes alarming; then other means have to be resorted to. Read the works of a sufferer: ing: then other means have to be resorted to. Read the words of a sufferer:

Desmond & Co., 916 Race Street, Philadelphia: I appeal to you, and if there is any earthly relief for me I wish you would do something for me. About eight months ago I got into trouble. I took capsules, went to doctors, and it has cost me one hundred dollars—first for this medicine, then for that—without any benefit, A few days ago a friend told me of the Samaritan's Gift; he said it would certainly cure me. This is why I address you for advice. Let the above be a warning to others. When you get in trouble procure at once the Samaritan's Gift, and you will be all right in two or three days, for remember the had effects that follow the use of these injurious drugs are often worse than the original trouble.
