A correspondent writes to the Oxford Press and as follows: A young man by the name of John M. Fagan, of good address, is calling upon the farmers and offering to sell what he represents as Swedish clover seed, setting forth to lay in their supplies of sand in the summer months, when the river was navigable, so as to run their business during the winter. All frosts won't thaw it out, claiming therefore that it will last for years, and be always very productive—requiring but two quarts to the acre, and selling it by the acre at $1.50. In a day or so he delivers the seed done up in paper bags with but one quart instead of two. The seed is the Alsike clover that gained a noturiety a few years since by extensive advertise.

In nothing is the above more illustrated than in the course many pursue in certain kinds of disease. In order to save a few cents they have what they call their own prescriptions, such as Baisam Copabia, Turpentine, &c., little knowing the baneful influence these drugs have on the constitution, the disgusting smell from the breath, and, with all these disadvantages, there is no saving of money, as the dose has to be renewed over and over again until at last the condition of the patient becomes alarming: then other means have to be resorted to. Read the words of a sufferer:

Desmond & Oo., 915 Race Street, Philadelphia: I appeal to you, and if there is any earthly relief for me I wish you would do something for me. About eight monthsago I got into trouble. I took capsules, went to doctors, and it has cost me ene hundred dollars—first for this medicine, then for that—without any benefit. A few days ago a friend told me of the Samaritan's Gift, he said it would certainly cure me. This is why I address you for advice. Let the above be a warning to others. When you get in trouble procure at once the Samaritan's Gift, and you will be all right in two or three days, for remember the bad effects that follow the use of these injurious drugs are often worse than the original trouble. A DEODORIZED EXTRACT OF PETROLEUM. The Only Article that will Restore Hair on Bald Heads CARBOLINE is prepared from the oil as it flows from Nature's great chemical laboratory, by a peculiar process invented by a practical chemist, who was led to experiment upon Petroleum as a hair restorative by reading an interesting account written by Mr. Geo. Horton, resident of the frontier town of Kiachta in Russia. Mr. Horton had tried with extraordinary success the use of Petroleum upon cattle and horses that had lost their hair on being affected with the cattle plague. The idea was suggested to him through a very curious circumstance, namely, he recollected that a former servant at the hotel, prematurely bald, had a singular habit when trimming the lamps, of wiping his petroleum-besmeared hands upon the scanty locks still remaining to him. Three months from his first appearance at the hotel he was the subject of general remark, his head being covered with an abundance of FINE GLOSSY BLACK HAIR. Such a wonderful change in so short a time Mr. Horton deemed of sufficient importance to make public to the world. From practical experiments our chemical friend became convinced that Petroleum if properly prepared and freed from all irritating and illuminating substances had the remark, able property of restoring the hair to its natural state and color; still further experiments were necessary to produce an article combining the medicinal qualities of the oil in an agreeable form and oder, which renders it susceptible of being CARBOLINE | CARBOLINE is prepared from the CARBOLINE CARBOLINE in elegant dressing.
