Messrs. Rhodes & Kennedy, a few days ago, showed us some of the first beef we have seen for months. They bill good cattle.

Sale bills printed at this office, at very reasonable figures, and the sale inserted in the JOURNAL for a trifling advance. Every one ought to advertise their sales in the news papers.

Our subscribers are not paying up as they should. We need money to pay a few bills that are extremely annoying. Come to time, do.

Remember that the JOURNAL Job Room turns out the handsomest, most attractive and cheapest bills in the county. Send your order.

An unusually large number of traps were visible in all quarters of the town on Saturday, and a majority of them were quite youthful in appearance.

A Huntingdon young man was heard to remark on Saturday night that he believed he wouldn't come to Altoona for "fun" again.—Altoona Tribune.

It is reported that a servant girl living in this place was requested to return to Saxton to attend her mother. It is reported, in down with the small-pox.

The Lecture of Rev. D. H. Geisinger, in behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church, on last Friday night, was quite a success. It was well attended.

Our young friend, Thomas Doyle, son of J. P. Doyle, of West Virginia, was in town safe at Hayes city, Kansas, and we are informed delighted with the country.

Some bad blood was exhibited at the meeting of the Democratic County Committee, in this place, on Friday night, and it looks as though it would be tried in Africa.

Amos G. Boushall, ex-one of the editors of the Democrat and Register, Millintown, has been appointed bank assessor for the counties of Franklin, Cumberland, Fulton, Adams and Juniata. Shake!

We have just received an additional supply of "cats" suitable for embellishing sale bills, and are better prepared than ever to do this kind of printing. Orders from a distance will receive prompt attention.

Hot drinks should be avoided in day time during cold weather, as they have a tendency to weaken the lungs and affect the throat.—Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for all cases of cough, colds and hoarseness.

An eloquent was reported one evening last week. Some man going off with some other man's wife and child. So the story ran. We did not hear the particulars. The parties were reported to be from Broad Top.

An eighteen inch vein of fossil ore has been opened and is being mined on the farm of our old and highly esteemed friend, K. L. Greene, ex., near Three Springs. We congratulate our old friend on this bonanza.

Counselor Lovell will occupy his handsome new residence, corner of Second and Penn streets, this Spring. It is one of the handsomest and most convenient private dwellings in town. May he live long to enjoy it.

The rumor spread was founded that a number of prominent citizens of Baltimore have resolved to erect a monument to the memory of the late Dr. J. W. Bull, discoverer of the wonderful remedy, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Potato bugs have put in an appearance in this place; they sit upon the fence three or four days and look on while the gardener prepares the ground for the tubers, and gently haul that popular air, "in the sweet by-and-by."

A new meat market is to be opened at the corner of Fourth and Main streets. Huntingdon town soon have as many meat markets as she has consumers. The butchering business, like all others in this place, is overdone.

Our friend, Harry H. Scott, ex., a former Huntingdon tyro, who is now employed in the extensive publishing business of Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, dropped in to see us on Wednesday last, looking as young and fresh as he did in years gone by.

We have the finest "horse cuts" in the State, and are prepared to get up horse bills in a style superior to any other in the State. The facts of their ready to have their posters printed.

A publisher will indulge a subscriber, perhaps, three, four, five or a half dozen years, but the moment he pays up he wants the paper stop, and he will not see another line of his until he has paid for the next year.

The Mt. Union Times, Mr. James C. Davis of Germany Valley, died of apoplexy on last Saturday morning, the 9th inst., while on a visit to his son, P. H. Davis, in this place.—He was aged about 50 years, and has been a resident of Germany Valley for the past fifty years.

"Night" is what Uncle Jake Zeigler, of the Butler Herald, calls the witty McKife, of the Cambria Freeman, when speaking of the latter's candidacy for the nomination for county treasurer at my 77th and goodly age, and glad of all competitors in the race for the money-bags of "Little Cambria."

There is such an amount of freight at the Pittsburgh freight yard, that the tracks for a distance of four or five miles are completely standing full of loaded cars awaiting shipment, the motive power of the P. R. R., not being sufficient to remove them promptly. This is a good sign of revival of trade.

The Democrats had a nice little light over dinner to the State Convention, at the County Committee meeting, on Friday of last week. Mr. Speer was elected senatorial, and Col. John S. Miller and Dr. W. P. Felt were representative delegates. Messrs. Petrikon and McTeer were unsuccessful contestants.

A participant in the election at the Lutheran Sunday School in this place, desires us to state that if there was any "unintended contest" for the position of president, he would not be exclusively confined to our informant, and the subject of the nomination must have been among the many, for no one else knew or cared anything about it.

James Campbell, a youth of Celtic extraction, who vegetates in the neighboring town of Bedford, now languishes in jail, in Pittsburgh, to answer the charge of passing a bad check. He was arrested by the sheriff, and money was found upon his person, and it is more than probable that the lad innocently violated the law.

The vocal and instrumental music which preceded and followed the Lecture at the Court House, on last Friday night, was very fine. Miss Hoar acquitted herself splendidly and was roundly cheered. Miss Stewart is an extremely fine performer, while the duo, Mrs. Johnston and Miss Hunter was deserving of the highest encomiums.

Said a young man to us the other evening: "A man might just as well work in Huntingdon, as to go over to the West, and make nine o'clock in the evening, because there is no way for him to spend his evenings profitably." How true it is, and it is that it is true. A Huntingdon man can certainly not find a way to make a public library.

Col. John S. Miller, of the Exchange, in this place, has leased the large three-story brick house on the corner of Fourth and Allegheny streets, adjoining the Hotel de France, and has converted it into a hotel. Carpenters are already at work making the necessary alterations and improvements. It is elegantly located and well adapted for the purpose of the patronage of the travelling public.

The best hit made by the Rev. Geisinger in his lecture on "Delusions" was when he said that at least half a dozen crazy men went to Washington, on the 10th inst., and, as expected, to be inaugurated with great pomp and ceremony, President of the United States, and a large number of people were gathered to witness the ceremony. One of them had been inaugurated.

About two miles west of Everett, in Snake Spring township, Bedford county, a week or two ago, a cave was discovered on the lands of Wm. Hartley, by some workmen employed in quarrying limestone, which created quite an excitement among the citizens of that place. The new discovery has not been thoroughly explored, but it is believed that the prospect will be a rich one.

We observe an item floating around that says that the Attorney General has decided that School Directors need not confine themselves to their own county in looking about for a suitable man for their Superintendent. According to the Attorney General, any citizen of the United States who is capable is eligible, and the Directors convention can go out of the county to get a man if they wish.

Get your money out of the strong box and put it in circulation. If Christians can't, so much confidence in their fellow men, so much so at least as to trust those who will pay a reasonable price for their goods, and who will give them the money to get over, and to avoid any in the future, refuse to sign every "shirt tail" note offered you. No man but a thief ought to be asked to sign such a note.

Our excellent young friend, Cloyd Seybert, ex., of the first silver dollar of the new coinage—the dollar of the dollars—that was received in this place, it was forwarded directly to him by Mr. E. L. Anderson, of Philadelphia, by George Scott, ex., son of Hon. John Scott. Cloyd ought to have it penebared and wear it as a token during the remainder of his days.

Amelia Galford left Lock Haven on the twentieth of last December, for Edinburg, Clarion county, since which time nothing has been heard of her. She is about 16 years old, and is a high, dark complexioned girl, with blue eyes, and was dressed in blue silk dress, with black sack or coat. Any information in regard to her will be gladly received by her mother, Mrs. E. L. Anderson, Lock Haven, Pa. Exchanges please copy.

The officials of Hollidaysburg have adopted measures looking to the breaking up of corner and street trading, and the corner statutory of that town will be faced and imprisoned if he persists in the same. The Council of Huntingdon should pass a similar law, and see that it is enforced. After dark a female is not safe from insult when passing the streets of Hollidaysburg, and it is up to the street corners. Stop it at once.

The Industrial Publishing Company, limited, of Altoona, is preparing to issue an eight-page weekly Globe. We hope it will prosper. It will hope every newspaper will succeed in this place, on Friday night, and it looks as though we never do, and after a lapse of a few years we see the fellows going round with the seats out of their breeches, just as they were in the days of the late President Lincoln. Only two things they have more of railroad passes and debts.—Johnston Tribune.

Frank Moultrie, a colored farmer in Onedia township, residing about one mile distant from this place, died, on Tuesday night last, of cholera, and was buried in the cemetery, by what section of our county the scheme originated.
