R. McDIVITT,

THE BIRTH OF PARTIES.

It is a significant fact that what has now been named the "National Party," and has heretofore been known as the "Labor Reform Party," "Currency Reform Party," and so on, has been quietly carrying elections. The party has attracted just enough attention to be despised and ridiculed by the leading newspapers of the great money centres, but has developed strength enough among the people to carry elections even in some places against the combined strength of the two old parties. In his recent speech, Blanton Duncan gave some interesting facts bearing upon this topic. In Colifornia, the "Nationals" are carrying everything before them. In Alameda they elected a State Senator by a large plurality; in Santa Barbara they elected a Representative; they elected the Mayor of Sacramento, the capitol of the State, on the 12th of March, and on the same day elected the city ticket in Oakland; and finally their leaders are not without hopes of carrying the State in the coming election. California has made millionaires-twenty men have nearly all the wealth of the State, and the result is the formation and success of the Labor From the extrme West let us turn to the extreme East. The Labor Reformers had forty votes in Maine in 1875; in 1876 they had 500; in 1877, 5,000, and they now claim to have 25,000. In our own State the Reformers, or Nationals, have won victories in Corning, in Utica, in nia, though they can hardly be said to have carried any conspicuous elections, are in their favor of carrying Pittsburgh at the next election. In Illinois they have been successful in Centralia, Elgin, and other minor places. In the recent town elections in Michigan the Nationals have been successful in a number of places, such as Reading, Pawpaw and Jonesville. This movement is too widespread to be ignored, and, indeed, so full of possibilities of danger to the old parties is it that astute politicians are even now taking the throat with a carving knife. measure of what the party newspaper is pooh-poohing. It is clear that this movement could have never had birth if it were not for the general distress. If times were good and labor employed, founding a new party would end in talk. The great extension of the distress of the laboring classes may be accurately measured by the success ful foundation of a new party and by its ability to carry election.

For observers of political and social movements in this country to-day the significance of the "National" movement has not so much in what it can and will do directly as its power to effect changes indirectly-its power lies not so much in action as in modification. We have now no real "Democratic" party. We have no party of progress properly so-called. Both parties are led by lawyers whose one great maxim is to stand by custom, usage, decid ed cases, precedents. They are always groping in the dust of the past for chains to bind the present and finger-posts for the future. The lawyer is naturally a conservative, and very few lawyers would agree with Lord Mansfield that law changes with the manners, customs and wants of a people The National party is by no people The National party is by no to inform us who it is that loses the eighty one cents every time a dollar's worth of nickel is passed? Who loses four cents every time a called will be the Smith murder, and "Hairy" lawyers do not take kindly to the move ment, and, indeed, it must be acknowledged that some of the leaders of the new movement have not scrupled to assert that our lawyer legislators are many of them intent on furthering the interests of them. lawyers do not take kindly to the move intent on furthering the interests of themselves and the class to which they belong rather than the interests of the people. The new party platform does not refer to the "Resolutions of '98." On the other hand, it boldly asserts the duty of the Government to do something. It is right o'clock Monday morning to eight o'clock Saturday evening. Harry Vaughan, of Pittsburgh, are having a little fight of their o'clock Saturday evening. Harry Vaughan, of Pittsburgh, are having a little fight of their own caused by a demand of the former recertain things for the people which the people in their individual capacity could beltworth $500 and $2500 prize money. Vaughnot do for themselves. The National par-ty is able to wint and win picture of the series and process $250. ty is able to exist and win victories because neither of the old parties have any distinctive principles which are vitally important.

Every indication now is that we are on the eve of the formation of a great liberal face. The child coughed, gasped for breath face. The child coughed, gasped for breath the eve of the formation of a great liberal progressive and national party, which will be suited to the present condition of the country, which will offer a distinctive political creed to struggle for, and which will drive all opponents of that scheme into a great conservative party. One of the prominent points of the new creed will be the power and the duty of the Government to intervene in great commercial crises, when private credit breaks down and the laborer is thrown out of employment, by prosecuting vigorously at such times needed works of a national character. In a word, the central dogma of the new party of progress must be the need of a more energetic Government than we now have. The Government must become more paternal in the sense of working for the general welfare-New York Graphic.

THE prospects of an immediate war be tween Russia and England are alarming. Both nations are hastily preparing, and the war fever is running high. England will be obliged to fight single-handed .-Her selfish policy has made this necessary, but when the sword is once drawn there is no telling when the trouble will cease. All Europe may eventually be involved. And it may all end in bombast.

On Saturday night, Mr. Hale, of Maine, gave a dinner at his residence to about twenty Republicans, amongst whom were Zach Chandler, ex-Minister Pierrepont and Senator Blaine. Conkling was not present. It is possibly for the reason that the relations between Senator Blaine and the New York Senator are not of the most harmonious character, or it might be for another reason, which

Who Losses the Eight Cents.

Seventy or eighty persons have come to hand this week, inquiring in a pathetic voice who it is that losses the eight cents when a laboring man takes a ninety-two cent silver piece for a dollar and passes it on his butcher for a dollar and the butcher passes it on the shoemaker for a dollar, and the shoemaker passes it on the landlord for a dollar, and the landlord passes it for a dollar on the State tax es, and the State passes it for a dollar on a pason for work on the new State House, and the mason passes it for a dollar to a merchant for a silk dress for his wife, and the merchant passes it for a dollar to the custom house officer for import duties, and the United States reasurer passes it as a dollar to a soldier, and the soldier passes it as a dollar to the same carpenter hereinbefore previously mentioned, wo are unable to see who has lost the eight eents. Happy thought! perhaps the loss fell on some man who did not get it! Seriously the same man lost the eight cents who loses sixteen cents every time he takes four silver quarters that have only eighty-four cents' worth of silver in them. But, even then, the five cent nickles puzzle us. In a dollar's worth of these there is only nineteen cents' worth of metal. Now, will some of the editors who lie awake at night to figure such things out please nent of the Bland Bill can pass one of those fraudulent tokens-even at a distance

Myths are But Symbols of Truth.

Myths are But Symbols of Iruth.

As the scholar sees in the vain but beautiful mythologies of the ancients the embodied expressions of the hungry human soul, blindly groping after the Infinite, so the physician sees in that popular myth of the sixteenth century the fountain of perpetual health and youth—an expression of the longings of suffering humanity for a remedy that should forever prevent the incursion of disease. The wilds of Europe were ransacked for this wonderful fountain, and Ponce de Leon sought for it in the cypress-swamps and tangled everglades of our sunny Florida. Men have searched for it everywhere and anywhere but where it really is—in the human body itself. The blood is the real fountain of perpetual health and youth. When this source is corrupted, the painful and sorrow-producing effects are whether in the said arrest and detention any breach whether in the said arrest and detention any breach whether in the said arrest and detention any breach and reducing the deceased Senator Hon David A. The says in the same of the sa paiuful and sorrow-producing effects are visible in many shapes. The multifarious forms in which it manifests itself would form forms in which it manifests itself would form subjects upon which I might write volumes. But as all the varied forms of disease which depend upon bad blood are cured or best treat-ed, by such medicines as take up from this fluid and excrete from the system the noxious elements, it is not of practical importance that I should describe each. For instance, medical authors describe about fifty varieties of skin disease, but as they all require for their cure very similar treatment, it is of no for may ore long prove a repetition in American political life—a parallel to that interesting historic event enacted in the days of the Cæesars upon the banks of the Nile. HARRISBURG, March 29, 1878.

The past week has been a busy one in the Legis lature, especially in the Senate, where work has progressed rapidly, and at the same time quietly. The House as usual has been a bedlam. Even the immortal "J. N." was disgusted with their unruly conduct, and refused to address them on Monday night. The Senate is, at least, a month ahead of the House in work, and on the principle that the good boy may go out and play while the bad one must stay in and work, it has gone home for a vacation of ten days, and has left the House to work in its absence, so that the work of the lower branch may be reasonably well finished when the time for final adjournment arrives, as it must, at farthest, on the 30th day of May when the constitutional limit expires. Sessions of rapid routine work were held in the Senate on Wednesday night and yesterday so that the Senate calendars have been almost entirely cleared of bills. If the House works as it should during the absence of the Senate, something may be accomplished. HARRISBURG, March 29, 1878. $196,000 in Pittsburgh, which is twice as much as any one of the six preceding years.

The House has been further amusing itself by The House has been further amusing itself by tinkering at the present salary system. Two reform bills are before the ouse. One which forcibly reminds us of the sacrifices which Artemus Ward was willing to make for his country's sake during the late war. The bill proposes to cut down the salaries of the clerks and employes of the legislature, and leaves the salaries of senators and members at their present figure. Another bill proposes to cut down the salaries of department clerks. These bills amount to nothing for they are merely gotten up by puny statesmen, ment clerks. These bills amount to nothing for they are merely gotten up by puny statesmen, (who shrink from entering the field of true political reform) to make a little wee bit of political capital. Yet there is certainly room for reform in the matter of departmental salaries. It however lies not in the legislation above mentioned, Eliminate the drones from all of the departments, raise the salaries of the working clerks 25 per cent. and it will be found that the gross amount paid by the commonwealth for department salaries, will be decreased at least 25 per cent.
