In a few weeks politics will begin to look up. The State Conventions will soon be held and then things will begin to move. In this county politics are pretty badly

THE Philadelphia Times must certainly feel very kindly to the Republican party since it advocates the appointment of Mr. Quay for Recorder. It is by the appointment of this gentleman and others, in Philadelphia, that the Republicans expect to perpetuate their party in this State. The Times is very kind, indeed.

COUNT CAYOUR predicted, shortly before his death, a new religion, not a new hypocrisy, but a veritable religion. Well, there is plenty of room for it. If it will only produce more real virtues, and banish the brutality that we find on every handwe do not mean brutal violence but brutal traits-the sooner it is ushered in the better. We want a religion of charity and kindness instead of austerity and hypocri.

READER, did you ever have the hankerafter-office disease? It's symptoms are very peculiar. It appears to pump all the stolidity and dignity out of man and puts him on the best of terms with every one and himself in particular. We have frequent ly observed a Huntingdon county man "having it bad." His good nature bubbles over, he shakes, and he bows, and he scrapes and "smoles" the most ghastly smiles, until you think he is a fit subject for Kirkbride's. It is the only time when the Huntingdon man, as a rule, comes entirely out of his shell, but only to this extentnothing more. We have seen old men, middle aged men and mere boys in the toils and the ludicrous figures they cut would make a mule laugh.

THE Philadelphia Recorder Bill was passed by both Houses and approved by the Governor, and Hon. M. S. Quay appointed to fill the place, for the next ten years, at a salary, it is said, running from $30,000 to $50,000 per annum. Thus the men who $50,000 per annum. Thus the men who be found.

have controlled the Republican party Yesterday the resolution agreed upon in of this State, for the last ten or fifteen years,-controlled it without any respect to the rights of others, who have worked as efficiently and successfully, but who have exhibited their honesty and faith in the principles of the party by their works and not by seeking their own aggrandizement,-are being pensioned, at enormous salaries, in localities where it is thought that, by the judicious manipulations of the masses, they will be able to perpetuate their rule in the State. With Mr. Quay and other strong organizers, that we can name, securely fixed in Philadelphia, it is supposed that the State can be held for years to come. The interior of the State will have something to say to this. If the organization is simply to be kept up to fatten the few, who ignore all other Republicans who do not belong to their select circle, the obituary of the party might as well be written now, better now than to wait until pensions for life are voted to each and every one of them.

In a conversation held between Gen Campbell of the Blair district and the President, on Tuesday last, the following sentiments were uttered by the latter in reply to the General's suggestion that those who fill the offices should provide the ammunition to run the campaign: "Precisely," said the President, "we agree there The only difference hitherto has been one of methods. The executive order alluded to was designed to let faithful officers understand that their first allegiance was to the Government and its interests and not to parties and persons. I believe this is now very generally understood, but so far as contributing a reasonable share out of their incomes to meet expenses of the campaign, there can be no reasonable objection to that, but it cannot be demanded under threat of removal, as hitherto. An officer can give or not, as he pleases, without affecting his tenure of office for or nipulations, overrule the wishes of the people and subject Republicans to the alternative of voting for obnoxious candidates or submitting to party defeat. The order apsubmitting to party defeat. The order applying to officers of the Government in this masters accepting such a proposal. The Black-sense will be rigorously enforced, but after burn and Burnley operatives resist uncomprothe candidates are fairly in the field, without the aid of conventions packed with offive holders acting at the beck of a dominant clique of politicians, there will be no ters have passed a resolution to the effect that objection to officers doing their share, so long as it does not interfere with their ofcial duties, in the field work of the campaign, the same as any other citizen."

This action leaves sittle doubt that the struggle will eventually involve the stoppage of over 200,000 ele of traffic. No longer will gamblers make it their business to hawk it about and cry it up or down as their interests may suggest. We have got down to rock bottom.

HARRISBURG, April 20, 1878. The large number of appropriations to charitable and other institutions throughout the the State Treasury are increasing yearly, and it is a question whether many of these institutions are doing any good to others than their well paid officers. The House during the past week passed bills appropriating an enormous amount of money to the various institutions asking aid of the State. A much larger sum by far than the already depleted condition of the Treasury can in any wise warrant.

by far than the already depleted condition of the Treasury can in any wise warrant.

In the work of the week Sherwood's salary bill number two has had rather a prominent place. This bill is one of the hobbies of which Mr. Sherwood has not a few. He desires to cut down the number, and the salaries of all the heads of departments, and employes on the Hill. He went at it like a bull in a china shop but failing to keep nu the anglogy bear that the salary the salary the salary to the salary that the salary the salary that t shop, but failing to keep up the analogy, he has been busied for some time past in patchhas been busied for some time past in past-ing up some of the dissatisfaction which the bill has caused. Some of the clerks on the hill showed not a little uneasiness at the per-

J. Murray Moorhead, the unfortunate contractor on the Mattamores railroad, if his story may be believed, is, still persistently hammering at the doors of the Treasury for admission, and his bill asking for an adjudication of his claim, has been the subject of not a little excitement in the House. During its discussion members grew rather personal in their remarks, and the whole tenor of the discussion was not very complimentary to Mr. Moorhead who, if he be an ignored individual in this matter, has also been, indeed, a long suffering

Among the most tedious matters of the session have been the contested seats in the House. All of last session the Hozlett-Agnew case attracted attention, and during the present case attracted attention, and during the present session the question of appointing a committee to investigate alleged irregularities in seating Mr. Agnew was discussed almost beyond en-durance. The Fowler vs. Felthoff case which has been on the tapis all of this session has at last been decided against the sitting mem ber Felthoff, democrat, and in favor of Fowler contestant, republican. It is a matter of very little importance, except to the two individuals personally interested.

The famous Recorders' bill defining and enlarging the duties of the Recorder of Phila-delphia has become a law. The Senate amendments were concurred in by the House on Thursday, the Governor the same day signed the bill, and nominated to the Senate for the position of Recorder Secretary of the Commonwealth Hon. England's Great Strike.

TWENTY THOUSAND OPERATIVES LOCKoperatives, which has begun at Blackburs, springs from the determination of the employers throughout Lancashire, the seat of the British cotton industry, to enforce a reduction of ten per cent. in the operatives' wages. This reduction has caused general commotion and led to several meetings and conferences. On the 9th inst., a conference was held in Manchester at which the operatives offered to submit to a reduction of five per cent., but the masters refused to agree to it. The cotton masters met at Manchester on Friday, the 12th inst., and resolved to support each other pecuniarly to the event of isolated strikes against the ten per cent. reduction, until the conflict officer can give or not, as he pleases, without affecting his tenure of office of or or against him. I expect to contribute my proportion to the campaign expenses, and there will be no objection to others in office doing likewise; in fact I should be pleased if they were to do so." COOPER & CONARD,

Three Adjoining Stores Corner of Ninth and Market Streets,

PHILADELPHIA.

The unusual rush at our counters during the last two weeks reminds us of the flush times preceding the panic. We have received a splendid stock of which we are selling lower than such goods were ever sold before in this section of country.

We have an immense stock of CARPETS which we will sell from 15 cents to $2.00 per yard.

We sell the best PRINTS at 6 cents per yard. We sell Boys' and Men's HATS from 50 cents to $4.50 each. We have a beautiful line of FLOOR OIL CLOTH at panic prices.

We undersell all opposition in CLOTHING. We sell the best SYRUP in America at 75 cents per gallon. We sell good GUNPOWDER TEA at 50 cents per pound. We sell the best SUGARS lower than they have been for years.

We sell everything in our immense stock at the very lowest CASH prices, and we deliver all goods any place within the borough limits. Everybody is invited to come and see.

HENRY & CO. P. S .- We are selling the celebrated EIMEIGH SHIRT. Laundried, $1.50 each; Unlaundried, $1.25 each. Breasts are made of 2100 linen; Shirts are made of Wamasuta

Muslin. The only shirt that won't wrinkle. HENRY & CO.
