THERE is a Wallace machine in Huntingdon. It is Sp(h)eer-ical.

ANDREW G. CURTIN has been nominated for Governor. It was done at Foxburg. That was the right place to do it.

A CORRESPONDENT asks: "If the Wallace machine is a coffee-pot, how can it grind out poetry ?" Oh! the pot is of no use without the mill, you know.

The Nationals believe in slaughtering the powers that be-with ballots .- Co Or, with muskets, as Brick Pomerey recommends in the National organ of that party. Mr. Burchard net only led the Democratic mule to water, but made him drink.—N. Y.

Mr. Burchard must have had a difficult job. It is very un-Democratic for even a "Democratic mule" to drink water. Hereafter, when the Republicans want any little piece of work done, confidentially, you know, they won't be likely to confide it to a red-headed man. Anderson has a red head, d—n him!—Democratic Watchman.

No. but the Democrats will be hunting up all red-headed men in the country for cupation can apply to Potter. No man by this House. with a red head is above suspicion now.

House of Representatives was increased by admitting all the Democrats who contested the seats of Republicans. It was This is certainly a change of front, a Demonly necessary for a Democrat to say, "I want in." and in he went. We should not be satisfied to elect our member in this district by a small majority. It must be so large that it cannot be overcome at Washington. Let us do our work so well that they will have no chance to cheat us.

THERE are, as far as we know, three candidates for Congress in this district .- action upon it. All their conduct hereto-They are T. M. Mahon, of Franklin county, Wm. H. Harding, of Snyder, and L. E. Atkinson, of Juniata. The first two have the conferees of their respective counties, while Juniata has not chosen conferees .-We do not know that any other person is spoken of as a candidate except Hon. H. G. Fisher, and we do not understand that he has yet consented to be one.

ANDERSON wanted an appointment to a "warm climate." According to his own picture of himself, he is a proper subject for the hottest one we have ever heard anything about. But President Haves had no anthority to send him there, all disposal of a certain cloven-footed gentleman with whom our government holds no intercourse. But he will call on Anderson after while. Meantime the latter will sojourn with Potter.

THERE was a little excitement at Quebec a few days ago. Some of the citizens had a sham battle with the military. People outside of Canada call the citizens "a mob," and their demonstration "a riot," but such people don't know anything about the circumstances. The Canadians are expecting an invasion and were only train. ing themselves to meet it. They took some flour out of the stores so that they will have a supply when the enemy comes upon them. The invaders of whom they are living in dread are the Fenians and not the copperheads. They are looking for the latter too, but know that their coming means war in the United States and peace in Canada.

IT IS not too soon for Republicans to begin to organize. Our State ticket is in the field, and united, concerted effort for its election should commence at once .-There is no reason why we should wait for local candidates will follow as a necessary consequence. We will assure the election of both tickets by organizing now. Huntingdon should have a Hoyt and Tariff Organizations should also be made in the townships, and meetings held weekly or semi-monthly. A CONFEDERATE RETREAT

The revolution has been checked: the onfederates have fallen back from their advanced position; they have made their first retreat. It is almost a month since they started out upon their campaign, ostensibly against "fraud," but really against the peace and integrity of the nation. "Fraud" was inscribed upon their flowing banners, "fraud" was proclaimed as if a thousand evil Gabriels, if such there could be, had enlisted in their special trumpet service. "Fraud" was to be attacked, routed, annihilated. "Fraudulent" returning boards, "fraudulent, statesmen and a "fraudulent" cabinet were alike to be trodden under the heel of an avenging Nemesis. It was the Presidency particularly that this Nemesis wished to get at. The enemy against which they set out to do battle has not been discovered. They have scoured Florida and Louisiana without finding the giant whose name they held aloft and shouted aloud. They have called those who were supposed to know of his whereabouts, but no tidings of him have been found. They have come, therefore, to the reluctant conclusion that the monster, "Fraud," does not exist, and have withdrawn their line of battle from what they now confess to have been but an imaginary

What has been accomplished by the Potter committee after three weeks of investigation? Absolutely nothing. Nothing has been elicited that was not before well-known. gle individual in regard to affairs in Florida and Louisiana, nothing that has weakened the faith of Republicans in their party. The effect has been rather the reverse, to harmonize, to solidify, to consolidate that party in facing what they believe to be an overwhelming danger. It is this effect, so contrary to what the conspirators expected, that has caused them to turn and beat a hasty retreat. The cry of "fraud" was a sham from the beginning. They knew they would not find any, but believed that under the pretense of searching for it, they could cover up their attack upon the very citadels of the Republic and break them down before their defenders would find out that they were the real objects of attack. The campaign against "fraud" might have been continued indefinitely, if that had been the real purpose, but in opposition to an awakened and outraged public opinion the revolutionists could not persevere in their ulterior designs.

Let us examine the recent action o Congress in reference to the President's title. On the 12th instant the House of Representatives adopted the following preamble and resolution :

WHEREAS, At the joint meeting of the two Houses of the Forty-fourth Congress, convened, pursuant to law and the Constitution, for the purpose of ascertaining and counting the votes for President and Vice-President for the term commencing March 4, 1877, on counting the votes, Rutherford B. Hayes was declared elected President, and William A. Wheeler was declared elected Vice-President for such term; therefore:

They had abundant opportunity to say the same thing at an earlier day, when they would have excited no suspicion by so doing. They could have said so in the resolution providing for the Potter investigation, they could have said so in their caucus when the subject was brought up and when they refused to take fore has pointed to a denial of the title of President Hayes Chairman Potter, in his you, Mr. Speer, by private letter. open letter, said that the work of his committee might be followed by action on the part of Congress. That letter was published weeks ago. Would it not have afforded the Democrats an excellent opportunity to have said just what they say now to have repudiated the doctrine of the chairman, if they then believed it erroneous. That Potter is a "revolutionist" is now beyond question. His Democratic colleagues have so branded him, and there are twenty-one other Democrats in Congress who bear the same stamp. There was a time when there was not that numthe consulates in that region being at the ber of rebels in the whole United States, but rebellion grew until it involved the entire population of fifteen States. So "revolution" may grow until the twentyone revolutionists now in Congress increase to a majority, and then what weight will be attached to either the declaration of the present Congress, or that of the last one, determining, as was supposed, the Presidential title? The Democrats abandoned their intention of removing Mr. Hayes, or of declaring the office vacant or that Tilden ought rightfully to occupy it, only when they failed totally to connect the President with alleged frauds or to prove his knowledge of them. In acknowledging his title in. violate, the Democrats have paid a high but unintended compliment to his innocence and integrity, for if they could have found the least taint upon these, they would not have spared his title. They have made a confession that their investigation is a failure; they hesitate to precipitate a revolution because the pretext for it has been utterly swept away.

But we call this a retreat merely. The have not quitted the field. Their ranks may be reformed and reinforced. The the nomination of our county ticket. An item floating around says : The Huntingdon Journal is fearful that J moson Africa will carry that county an oull the Democratic local ticket through

The Journal ought not to be afraid. success of the Democracy is just what the Huntingdon people desire, and if Mr. Africa can carry the county and pull the balance of the Democratic ticket through with him, the Journal ought to rejoice instead of lament. Huntingdon has been so long cursed with Republican rule that her people are anxious to make the late breaks in the ranks of that party permanent, and therefore most of them will vote for Mr. Africa and the whole Democratic icket .- Democratic Watchman. We have noticed the item quoted by

We elect our officers and obtain expressions of public sentiment upon political questions just as they do in Centre county or any other place where fair elections are that we don't want anything of the kind. Mr. Africa has himself been a candidate several times when the people said they did not want him. In 1856 he ran for in 1871 he was defeated for Legislature. It is nearly twenty years since he was elected to any office in this county. His attempt since the war was a signal failure. that he is by no means a formidable candidate here, and the JOURNAL is not at all fearful that he will "carry the county" or "pull the Democratic local ticket through." By the time he gets through himself he will be so completely flattened out that he will look more like a map of Africa than the genuine article. As to in Scripture about a camel going through the eye of a needle. The "late breaks" in if they were not, any anxiety on the part of Democrats to keep them open would do

Now, hasn't Mr. Speer recommended himself quite as much as he has Mr. Dill? The oil region has his sympathy. And what can the oil region give him in return? He'll let them know in due time. But what was wrong out there that a letter of the control of the contro ter, and a private one, too, was required from Mr. Speer? Is that the way the crooked places in Mr. Dill's record are to be straightened out? If so, Mr. Speer will have an abundance of letter writing to do. There is the nine million steal, and the resolution declaring that the rebellion could not be put down by force of arms and that military record. These things need a little attention Let us hear from DILL was a member of the Democratic State Convention in 1861, which declared that the Union could "never be maintained by force of arms," and that as Democrats they were "not willing to take up arms." Ross was a delegate to the National Democratic convention in 1860, which nominated McClellan and declared that the war was a failure. These are the two leading candidates upon the Democratic ticket. That such men are selected by that party is evidence that its old associations have not been severed nor its sympathies changed. It used to resolve in favor of the rebellion and now it nominates the men who made the resolutions. It resolved until the Southern Democrats went into the war while the Northern wing staid out. Since the struggle closed, they are resolving and nominating in the same old way. What will they resolve to do if there should be another war? Not to fight, of course.

COME ON, SITTING BULL.

Since Democratic parsimony has en couraged the Indians to commence a war, let it go on. Let the red-skins take Washington. If they could only get there while some of the Democratic patriots are lingering around, what a happy day it would be for the country! Hurry up, Sitting Bull, there is a fine scalping ground about the capitol. There is one top KNOTT from Kentucky you can get hold of, and you may be able to help us get rid of other revolutionists. And if most of the Congressmen should be gone before you get there, the investigating committee and witnesses will remain. . You can scalp Anderson, and Potter, and Ben Butler, and can sell the fur off the top of Ben's head or trade it for ammunition.

THE Potter committee has not found any frauds because it has not looked in the right quarters. A narrow minded partisanship confined the investigation to Florida and Louisiana. If it had been extended to New York, Oregon and Misson of the property of the paths of t extended to New York, Oregon and Misextended to New York, Oregon and Mississippi, the committee would have had and liver, and ensures complete nourishment and increased vigor of the system. PUNISH THE SCOUNDREL.

The Democrats in Congress, having failed in their partisan and one sided investigation, to connect President Hayes with the alleged irregularities in Louisithe Democratic county ticket, we would ana, or to prove his title fraudulent, now remind the Watchman of that comparison say it cannot be attacked. Oh! no, what they can't do, they won't do. That is an easy kind of virtue, which even better peoour party are permanently repaired, and ple possess. It is reported that no more Democrats are joining the Greenback party. They are keeping suspiciously shy of it, but are advising Republicans to join. The efforts of their canvassers are especially directed to the conversion of the latter. It mus, be refreshing to hear a man who hasn't been two months out of the Democratic party, if out at all, asking Republicans to abandon theirs. It looks so disinterested. Nobody could think that he had been put at that particular kind of work. Oh, no!

But perhaps we had better reserve our flags and fire crackers for the National holiday. Let it then be remembered, however, with thanksgiving and exultation that Congress has adjourned.

REPUBLICANS, if you should vote the Greenback State ticket, would you have any expectation of electing it? We dare say, you would not. Then who would be benefitted and who injured? Why, you would really be helping the Democratic party and, perhaps, defeating your own .-That is just the purpose for which the Greenback party is kept alive in Huntingdon county.
