In discussing his subject, Mr. Geissinger took somewhat of a new departure. He was not content to lay the blame of the prevalent drunkenness of our day on, whiskey sellers, or legislators, who pass license laws, but cast it upon the drinker himself. The evil is in the man, not outside of man, and when once the heart is touched by the finger of God them, at a price less than the cost of the cards.

An annual tax of fifty cents on male and one dollar on female dogs will be levied, which will be kept in a separate account by the county treasurer, from which owners of sheep shall be compensated when dogs deplete their droves, provided that the owners of the dogs cannot be ascertained. If discovered, the latter must make good the biloss. Assessors are required to take an le be taken not oftener than once in two years, upon acceptance or rejection, and it will re-main with the voters to pronounce upon the merits of the measure.

THE propriety of improving the Juniata niver and making it a slack-water navigable stream for vessels of twelve feet draft is approved by a large majority of our people. There is no reason why this should not be done, and that speedily. Had the South and West a stream half so beautiful or well adapted to the profitable pursuit of commerce it would long ago have been made navigable by the general government. Such improvements would greatly relieve the suffering labor of

MEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 18, 1877. MR. GILES-Dear Sir: I have used your MR. GILES—Dear Sir: I have used your lodide Ammonia Liniment and find it the best remedy I ever used. For a sprain or callous there is nothing equal to it. My wife sprained her ankle last Saturday evening; I used the Liniment as per directions; the second application was a perfect cure. Some of my friend started last night for Johnson Co., Kentucky they have taken several bottles with them. I have used it on my horses and it works like a charm. I am going to Kentucky next month —farming. If you have any works treating of horses and other animals, please send me two or three copies, and oblige

THE LATEST SNAKE STORY .- Our friend, Simon Bales, of the "Lick Ridges," in Henderson township, we are informed, lost a valuable cow a few days ago, the disease being so peculiar as to induce Mr. Bales to make a post-mortem examination of the animal's stomach. The examination revealed the ength, having two perfectly shaped heads and four eyes. How his snakeship became domiciliated in so strange a locality is a mystery, more difficult of explanation than that of the "old sarpint" bimself when he came to Paradise incog; but nevertheless, we are reliably informed that it is a fact.

reterson's Magazine for July comes to us brighter and fresher than ever. The principal steel-plate, "In Arcadia," is beautiful beyond words The double-sized fashion plate, containing five figures, elegantly engraved on steel, and exquisitely colored, is a very gem in its way.

There is also a design for the new-style window curtain, printed in colors: and about five words.

Superfine Flour & bbl. 196b.

Extra Flour & bbl. 196b.

E PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for July comes to us that gentleman, apparently in his usual health, when he was again stricken down. The attack came on at 10 o'clock A. M., rendering him unconscious, in which condition he remained until the hour of his death, which occurred at about 4 o'clock, P. M. Mr. Stewart was a clever, sociable gentleman, and his death will be deeply regretted by his host of friends.—His age was about 57 years. His remains were taken to Tipton, Blair county, on Tuesday last for interment.

There is also a design for the new-style window curtain, printed in colors; and about fifty wood engravings of fashions, patterns in embroidery, &c., &c. "Peterson" still continues to hold its proud and eminent position for powerfully written original sories. Among the contributors in the present number are, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, Rebecca Harding Davis, Frank Lee Benedict, and others of similar first-rate rank. No lady's book, in fact, has such writers. In every way it is indispensible in a household. No family should be without it, and as the price is buttwo dollars a year, postage free,

The July number of the Electic Magazine, beginning a new volume, offers a favorable opportu-nity for commencing subscriptions, and its con-tents are certainly of a kind to attract all classes of readers. It is embellished with a fine steelengraved figure-piece entitled "The Roman Childrer," affording a pleasing variation from the portraits of which one is usually found in each number. The leading paper is a trenchant reply
by Dr. Elam to Tyndall's famous Birvingham loss. Assessors are required to take an account of all dogs in their districts, with the name of the owners. If at the end of the year the amount of money in the hands of the county treasurer from this source exceeds a given sum, the surplus is to be divided among the school districts. The adoption of this law is made optional in counties. A ballot shall be taken not oftener than once in two years, by Taine, and a curious account of "The Gardener Bird." There are some delightful "Memorials of a Man of Letters," by John Morley; and "The Greatness of the Romans," by Goldwin Smith, is one of the best magazine articles of recent times. Besides several shorter papers and poems, there are four chapters of Black's "Macleod of Dare" and well-filled editorial departments; and the number altogether is one of great variety and interest. Single copies, 45c; one copy one year, $5. Published by E. R. PELTON, 25 Bond St., N. Y. For Sale at the JOURNAL Store
