THE LAST CHANCE, AND LAST NOTICE.

For two months we have been making an effort to effect the settlement of the accounts standing on the books of the late firm of J. R. Durborrow & Co., but up to of which there is some controversy among this time but a very small number of those to whom we have sent bills have responded. These accounts must be settled. From those who are unable to pay the cash we are willing to take their notes, for a limited time. On the first of August we had the words which to it were, of course, obintended placing our books in the hands jectionable. Having greater political foreof an officer for collection, but we will extend the time to the first of September, at which date all unsettled accounts will be collected by due process of law. If you would save costs and annoyance, give this to "that other place," which "no good thing would save costs and annoyance, give this notice your attention. We are averse to this mode of collection, but when no attention is paid to our bills and appeals for payment, there is no other plan left for us to "that other place," which "no good thing comes out of." That may have been so when he spoke to the convention. But we think now, that he is not only looking to it, but is willing to go to it. He is wanting to be invited. Will the Democrats please call payment, there is no other plan left for us invited. Will the Democrats please call to pursue. Don't compel us to add costs their convention soon and not keep him in then apparent that the panic was not caused to your accounts.

THE CONVENTION.

The Republican convention which assembled at this place on Tuesday last, was gal tender act in 1862, and to the whole composed of able, faithful and representa- financial policy of the government during tive members of the party. It was conspicuous for the large number of delegates who have been life-long opponents of the Democratic party; in fact, there were United States, speaking to the creditors of none of any other kind in it, and it was the nation, to the holders of our bonds and rendered respectable by the absence of those who through interest, ignorance or weakness, have yielded to the allurements of the greenback faith. The ticket is such as was to be expected from such a convention, the candidates being men in regard to whose Republicanism there can be no question, or doubt. They are also men whose integrity can be implicitly relied upon in any position, public or private, bring about the very result they said would to which they may be called and are especially and eminently fitted by personal character, ability and education for the respective offices for which they have been nominated. We place their names at the head of our columns and will battle for them with all our might until the close of the polls on election day, hoping and believing that their success is among the certainties of the future. We are unable this week to give the usual personal notice of each candidate, but will do so at the earliest possible day.

S. G. ISETT'S "figures won't lie," nor do the figures that show that he wasn't nominated for Treasurer.

WE haven't heard of a printer being nominated for Congress lately. Neither has Lindsay. Bankers are preferred by the labor party.

NORTH did the Boring that made the nomination for Register and Recorder. It was a bore on those who were brought before the convention with the expectation that a ballot would be taken.

D. ETNIER, JR., of Mount Union, ought to know by this time whether the greenback movement will benefit the laboring men. It hasn't done much good yet for the toilers who wanted the nomination for Assembly.

HENRY S. GREEN said long ago that he didn't believe the people of Huntingdon fidence in Foust and Doyle by requiring a county wanted him to fill any office. His new pledge in much stronger terms than belief will be firmer than ever since the the one given the convention, and by putresult of his candidacy for Prothonotary ting it in writing and requiring their sigin the greenback party.

REV. DOYLE'S COMPLIMENT TO THE DEMOCRATS.

We had an experienced and skillful reporter at the Greenback convention who from the official records, showing the any county of the district but Huntingdon, took down carefully the various speeches made during the proceedings. The Monior also obtained reports of the speeches, ortions of which it published last week. We find, however, that it omitted a part of Rev. Doyle's remarks, a very brief part, it is true, but, in view of the present political situation, a very interesting and important one. Mr. Doyle, as a candidate in the new party, thought it necessary, or advisable, to say that he had dissolved his advisable, to say that he had dissolved his that were incomprehensible to those whom onnection with the Republicans and that they desired to mislead and deceive, that he could not go over to the Democrats. In the reliable data herewith presented has the reliable data herewith presented has fact, he was expected to say something of this kind when called upon, with other into the error that there has recently been circulation in this county, filed a voluntary bottle, or six bottles for $5. All I ask is a this kind when called upon, with other into the error that there has recently been circulation in this county, filed a voluntary candidates, "to define his position." But a large contraction of the currency should petition in bankruptcy on Saturday last. in speaking of the Democratic party, he now be set right. On the other hand, the The Advocate was a greenback organ and went farther than was intended, it being fact should be impressed upon them that was furnished to subscribers at the represumed by the managers that neither he the purchasing power of our currency is markably low price of twenty-five cents nor the others would be so indiscreet as to now greater than it has been at any time per year. His language they were during the war are urging: was as follows, the portion omitted by the Monitor being designated by italics and capitals:

"I have always been a Republican. It is a little strange that an Irishman should be, but strange things will happen, and for reasons sufficiently convincing to myself, I have been a Republican and acting with them while I thought there was any use to act. For a few years I have not voted, because I didn't see any use in voting the ticket after the party had ceased to do what it started out to do: and to look to the Democratic party for salvation, I never thought of that in my life (cheers and laughter.) No good thing comes out ofno, not Nazareth-BUT THAT OTHER PLACE" (immense cheers and laughter.)

"That other place," is the phrase by which so "mild a mannered man" as Rev. Doyle refers to the locality about the existence theologirns, and which we called last week by its right name. It is a comparison between the Democratic party and Hell and a very unfavorable one for the party. That the Monitor regarded it in this light is evident from the fact that it suppressed sight than Rev. Doyle, it merely omitted what, according to its view, he should not have said-a severer condemnation, per-

He has never thought, then, of looking suspense.

WE have several times called attention to the opposition of the Democrats in Conress and out of it to the passage of the lethe war. So bitter did this opposition become, and, so great was the danger of a rapid depreciation of our currency, that in 1864, Congress, speaking for the people of the other obligations, passed an act declaring and promising that the amount of legal tender notes should never exceed four huntender notes should never exceed four hun-dred millions of dollars. The Democrats alloged that the greenbacks would become alleged that the greenbacks would become worthless, called them "rag money," and predicted that the time would come when it would take a bushel of them to buy a bushel of potatoes. The general denunciation by the Democrats of the Republibring about the very result they said would come, and to prevent the consequences they can financial legislation had a tendency to of legal tender currency. For the pledge of the responsibility and ought to be the last to suggest a violation of it. But the men who are now in favor of converting the entire national debt into greenbacks. are the same who opposed all greenbacks in 1862. They would now repudiate the limiting act of 1864, and would no doubt afterwards repudiate the debt itself. Upon emphatic and appropriate language of Senator Blaine :

I charge the greenback agitator not only with I charge the greenouse agracion for only what standing on an absurd and visionary theory, not only with flying in the face of the experience of all nations in all countries, but I charge him with a still more serious and still more flagitious course of action. "THE Greenback Labor Reform Club, of Huntingdon, as it is labeled, undertook, on Friday night last, to doctor up the candidates for Legislature, the pledge in regard to the election of a United States Senator, the dissatisfied greenbackers, and the party generally. An effort was made to remedy the mistakes, the shortcomings. and the omissions of the recent convention, and to exact promises of support from those who had expressed any opposition to the ticket. Now we are told, with equal effrontery and want of reason, that the ills of which the country complains are to be removed by the new National party, and the assertion is made by the same men who claimed that power for the Democrats.
