THE LAST CHANCE, AND LAST NOTICE.

For two months we have been making an effort to effect the settlement of the accounts standing on the books of the late firm of J. R. Durbin & Co., but up to this time but a very small number of those to whom we have sent bills have responded.

ONLY absolute fools talk about "absolute money."

LET Foust and Doyle be sworn. Greenbackers can't believe them without an affidavit.

If you want a greenback dollar to be worth as much as a gold dollar, vote the Republican ticket.

If you don't want the government to pay hundreds of millions of dollars of rebel claims, vote the Republican ticket.

WILL Foust vote for Mason or Dill? The Nationals should insist upon an answer to this question before voting for him.

SUPPORT the party that made the greenbacks and that redeems the promise contained upon the face of every note issued by the government.

KEARNEY talks a great deal about Hell, but he hasn't said yet that that is where the Democratic party came from. He isn't as bad as Doyle.

THE Democrats in Congress during the last session extended the same kind of friendship to the Indians that they did to the rebels during the war. They were opposed to an army.

DEMOCRATS are mistaken if they expect to get Rev. Doyle to vote for a member of their party for United States Senator. He cannot forget that "no good thing comes out of Nazareth—but that other place."

THE Monitor, of last week, under flaking capitals, makes an unwarranted attack upon our associate, Mr. Lytle, charging him with having written and paid for the publication of a communication in the Nationalist of the week previous to its purchase by the Spear wing of the Democracy.

M'CLURE, of the Philadelphia Times, is booked to deliver the annual address at the State Fair, in Erie, on the 26th of September. We don't know how he will do on agriculture, but if it is turned into a poultry show, Aleck will be at home, for which he don't know about "roosters"—legislative—ain't worth knowing.

THE Nationals of Luzerne county are troubling Hendrick B. Wright, who wants the support of both Democrats and Nationals for Congress, with some knotty conundrums. One of them is whether he will vote for Dill or Mason. The same question ought to be put to Foust. Press it upon him.

ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS had determined to be a candidate for Congress whether his party renominated him or not, and as his election was reasonably certain, the party was obliged to yield to him. He will therefore again represent the eighth Georgia district. As he got enough of revolution between the years of 1860 and 1865, we can depend upon his opposition to the new one the Democrats will begin after the election.

It will be remembered how bitterly the Monitor was opposed last year to Democratic voting the Greenback ticket. Its editorials on the subject were vigorous, emphasized, italicized and capitalized. Now, it wants the whole Democratic party to vote for the Greenback candidates. Might it not as consistently urge its party to support Mason and the rest of the National States ticket? If willing to join the Nationals in one thing, why not in all?

GENERAL HOYT.

His Speech in Lehigh County—Views on Corporations—New Constitution Abridged Explained.

The JOURNAL last week contained the record of Mr. Dill, Democratic candidate for Governor, as a Senator and Representative in the Legislature, in support of corporations and of measures in their interests as against the welfare of the people.

SUSPICIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

Ex-State Treasurer Bickel's Bond Missing—Unsuccessful Search for it in the State Department.

Not only have a hundred thousand dollars of State bonds passed mysteriously and unaccountably into the hands of private parties, but the official bond of the State Treasurer during whose term the loss occurred, is also missing. The Harrisburg Telegraph states the result of the search for it, as follows:

"There seems to be no room for doubt but that the bond given by State Treasurer Bickel in 1862 and 1863 had been stolen from the package containing the bonds filed by State officials in those years. The search for the bond was concluded on Saturday, every package of bonds from 1860 to the present date having been carefully gone over by a competent clerk in the State Department, but no trace of the missing bond was there with the bonds of others for the same years, but while the package of bonds for 1862 and 1863 contains all the bonds of the State Treasurer for those years the bond of Mr. Bickel is missing. It has gone where the woodwork twines, and all further search for it has ceased."

"For the past ten years, probably less, there has been kept in the State Department a book in which are copied all the bonds given by these State officials who are required to give bonds. The original bond, after being copied, is filed away. Had this method of making the State secure been in vogue during Mr. Bickel's occupancy of the State Treasury there would have at least been one sure source for securing the necessary information."

The Democrats denounce such occurrences as these as "dead issues," but they are the most recent cases of defalcation and stealing of records that have taken place in the Treasury Department, and although they have been sleeping for a long time, they seem to have wakened up almost as soon as the Democrats got their fingers into the money bags again.

THE SCOURGE—For a week or ten days past the yellow fever has been raging in some of the Southern cities and towns with appalling fatality. The death rate in New Orleans, Memphis and Grenada is very large, and these places are almost depopulated. All citizens who are able to do so are fleeing from the pestilence. In the town of Grenada, Miss., the suffering is terrible, and the few citizens remaining in the plague-stricken town are calling for nurses, food for the poor and assistance to help bury the dead. Hundreds have died, and there seems to be no abatement of the disease. The towns, boat and railroad lines are quarantined and every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

A steamer arrived at the Delaware breakwater, a day or two ago, having on board several persons suffering from the disease, the captain of which died at that place.

Senator Wallace, of Pennsylvania, would be a good Vice President. And so would Wade Hampton. And it is about time that the South had a proper recognition.—New York Express, (Dial.)

"RECOGNITION" is what the South has been wanting for a long time. It is just what was asked for the Southern Confederacy, and as she didn't succeed in getting it as an independent government, she now claims that it should be given her by placing prominent rebels at the head of the nation which she was whipped into submission. She must make her appeal to the Democratic party, which may be prevailed upon to give Hampton the preference over Wallace, and, if so, Republicans can have no objection. A Southern Democrat will suit us as well on the Democratic ticket as a Northern one, and would no doubt be as worthy of the office. By all means, Democrats, let the South have "proper recognition."

In the campaign of last year, it was claimed by the Democrats that the election of their candidate for State Treasurer, Mr. Noyes, would lead to the disclosure of gross mismanagement of the State finances on the part of the Republicans. After his election, he neglected for so long to publish a statement of the financial condition of the Commonwealth as he had promised to do, that his attention was called to the matter in a very polite way by a Democratic county committee. Had that committee known the reason for that delay, they would not have been so anxious for the statement. It was impossible to make the disclosures that were expected, and Mr. Noyes hesitated about disappointing the party that elected him. But he yielded to the demand when made upon him, and the result is the most complete vindication of the Republicans that was ever received by any party.

THE over-issue and disposal of State bonds to the amount of $100,000 during the official term of John M. Bickel, a Democratic ex-State Treasurer, who is still living in Philadelphia, is the only instance of "financial mismanagement" the present Democratic State Treasurer has been able to expose. Mr. Noyes was elected for the purpose of disclosing the short comings and dishonesty of his Republican predecessors, but in this respect his promises have not been fulfilled. He has given his party an exposure of a Democratic defalcation, feeling obliged, no doubt, to discover some wrong doing, even if it should be in his own party. And now they are mad at him. Has he not shown his incompetency by failing to find any Republican crookedness and by not overlooking Bickel's transactions as a financier? According to the Democratic view, he has.

THE editor of Spear's paper No. 1, is sorely troubled because the JOURNAL and the Globe did not publish sketches of the Republican nominees. Suppose you try your hand on writing sketches of Foust and Doyle, Spear's candidates for the Legislature. Tell the laboring men how these worthies have toiled for head, and when you are in the sketch business write one of your master, and tell us of his Five Thousand Dollar Salary Grab; of his being kissed by the Reading convention; of the several creatures he has in his employ; of his maudlin harangue at Bedford, and of many other things that you are supposed to know. Do this, Mr. Monitor, and you will find that you have quite enough to occupy your time without meddling with that which is none of your business.

NATIONALS, when Mr. Durbin or you through the Spear-Foust organ that you must surrender to the Democrats, you'll do so, won't you? Certainly, you will. Lay down your arms, now. It is a Democrat who is to be elected United States Senator.

However, before proceeding further, I

THE Monitor is trying to divert the attention of the people from the efforts of Spear to run the Greenback party, by raising the old worn-out cry of "Woods and Orlandy." This charge is the silliest kind of nonsense, for it is well known that these gentlemen had no more to do with the nomination of the Republican ticket than any other members of the party. You may cry "Woods and Orlandy" until you are hoarse, but the people will not lose sight of the fact that Spear and North are running the Democratic and Greenback parties in the interest of the Salary Grabber.

THE new organist, in chiming in with the Monitor's tune, does not mention the defeat of Cameron as one of the important objects to be secured by placing the National organization in the hands of the Democratic leaders. We would like to hear what he has to say about Mr. Cameron, the Cameron ring, and Cameronism generally. It may be presumed that he desires to accomplish the same purpose the Democrats do by the proposed surrender, and why? Will he tell us? Why is he opposed to Cameron?

THE Greenback Nationalist of last week, in advocating a fusion of the Nationals and Democrats, compares those parties to two drowning men. This illustration is a very apt one, as the Monitor says the Democrats cannot elect their ticket if they nominate one, and the Greenback organ says the Nationals cannot elect theirs. The very original idea is therefore advanced that as neither can swim alone, they ought to take hold of each other and sink together. We hope they will do it.

THE Democrats of Pennsylvania will not be for Tilden next time. The supporters of Randall for the Presidency and of Wallace for the Vice Presidency will be equally interested in killing him off. Chairman Spear, however, as a matter of policy, will be permitted to pretend to be for him until he sends that bar'l of money to help along with this campaign. But after getting his greenbacks, whom will the Chairman support, Wallace or Randall?

BEFORE the Democrats endorse Foust, they will probably want to know for whom he will vote for Governor? It would be too bad if they should have to take two candidates for Legislature who will support Mason, and one of whom says he could not go over to the Democratic party because he says no good thing comes out of Nazareth.

HON. JNO. M. BAILEY, chairman of the Democratic county committee, has issued his call for a convention to be held on the 27th inst. If Spear, with the aid of his two newspapers, can control the convention no ticket will be nominated, but we mistake the temper of straight talk, honest Democrats if they will permit the Salary Grabber to ignore the right of their party to make its own nominations.

THE lightning struck a powder magazine, at Pottsville, on the 17th inst., and ignited twelve hundred kegs of powder. The explosion was terrific. Several persons were killed and a number of houses torn into kindling wood. A swath fifty feet wide was cut through a forest in which the magazine had been built. The excitement in Pottsville was intense and the greatest consternation prevailed.

THURMAN, Hendricks and Voorhees are mentioned as three of the Democratic lights to appear in Pennsylvania during this campaign. We presume that three more of them will be Cronin, Jim. Anderson and Tilden. In mentioning the latter as lights, we do not refer to Cronin's nose or Anderson's red head.

DEFEAT the party that declares the legal tender act unconstitutional, the party of Vandigham, of Pendleton, of Wallace, of Jeff. Davis, of Wilkes Booth and of DILL.

"DOES Boring know as much about the circulating medium as he does about the spiritual medium? We think he had better talk about ghosts than finances."

THE men who were opposed to issuing greenbacks in 1862, are the same who would now render them utterly worthless by issuing them in unlimited quantities.

CAN Mr. North transfer the National vote to Dill?

WHERE THE TREASON LIES!

Who the "Greeks with Gifts" Are? EDITOR JOURNAL—Dear Sir:—By your kindness and through your widely circulated paper, I shall undertake to annual the calumny and slander attempted upon my reputation from an unexpected source and by an unexpected parties.

In last week's Monitor—the supposed organ of the Democracy—the above appeared under the startling heading of "TREASON IN THE CAMP," followed with a sub-heading of "Beware of the Greeks with Gifts!" (all in the most conspicuous style) an editorial article of the most vile, wicked and malignant character, its intent being to blast the reputation of the late editor of the Greenback Nationalist and thereby nullify, if possible, his past, present and future influence for obvious reasons, some of which will hereinafter appear.

The greater part of the article consists in trying to make a "mountain out of a mole-hill," and is emphatically only gas, of a kind very closely resembling that which emanates from a much disturbed manure pile, while the gist or substance thereof, when properly analyzed, represents a mass of political slime, personal spleen and moral nastiness, that was vomited forth from the foul and glutinous stomachs of the mean and dastardly political hybrids who concocted and published the foregoing diabolical and slanderous article, on the same principle that the cheeky pick-pocket cries out "Stop thief!" i. e. to divert attention from himself. Their villainous scheme is too plain to deceive the most unsophisticated person. By raising a great hue and cry around one who "stood as a wall of adamant" and resisted their vile subterfuges, they expect to cover up the slimy trail of the coppery serpent whose stealthy prowlings through the "greenback camp" was becoming too painfully visible to every truly honest man therein, and when many of them were seriously considering the propriety of scotching the hateful snake—"lo! it took another shape," and did its prowling in primal days, in the Garden of Eden, whose victim was Mother Eve. Now, as then, the despicable inter-plotter whispers falsehood and calumny into the ears of the unsuspecting, for the benefit of his ass-pirating master—the Evil One.

shall dissect and refute the malicious and libelous charges preferred against me by the organ of the Democratic party—or no; that is not correct—the real sinners pure Democrats are without an organ now in this vicinity, the Monitor has become the organ, or rather the trumpet of the "Fusionists." It is a "fusion" organ. But to the conditions of the new party, the conspirators: they start with plenty of introductory; presuming their readers are too ignorant to know what papers are published in their midst—kindly stating for what purpose the Greenback Nationalist was established—also, referring to the county convention of the N. G. L. party in the ticket it nominated, which organ says was "composed, in the main, of men of excellent character." Ah! then they were not all so good! Pray tell us, Mr. Monitor which of them are your favorites? But then, comes a surprise, because we accepted and "prominently inserted, and headed a communication" thus: LET US HAVE A STRAIGHT GREENBACK LABOR PARTY OR NONE! "A terrible blow to the fusionists," surely.

In reply to that, we say, that not being a hide bound editor we never refused a decently written communication, if we had the room. Our breviter matter was always "headed" when not crowded, and we inserted the correspondent's "heading" like an honest editor would. Next, they presume to judge our purposes. Now, we submit the facts to any candid person, and would like to know what right have our most bitter enemies to sit in judgment over our acts, much less our purposes? Then follows the charges, the most of which are frivolous; for instance, complaining of the Republican leaders endeavoring to secure the help of the new party, just like the Democratic leaders are doing. Also, making a terrible ad, because the writer hereof was on social terms with a Republican neighbor, who happens to be a prominent politician. And the accusation that we were "twice privately closeted with Mr. Lytle for hours," is false, and it is not the first time he or she or she, that reported it. We never spent over thirty minutes in that gentleman's company, and it wasn't very private either. Besides, it is nobody's business with whom we associate—we are free-born, and do as we please in that respect. Any way, we don't consider it any worse than to accept the frequent invitations to visit persons of the opposite politics.

The other and main charge means simply and briefly, "of libel." Now, the venemous libeler is sharp enough to say he has reason to believe thus and so, and thereby saves himself from being compelled to make good his charges in a more substantial manner. However, to make a long story short, we do hereby declare that whoever asserts or intimates that we were "twice privately closeted with Mr. Lytle for hours," is false, and it is not the first time he or she or she, that reported it. We never spent over thirty minutes in that gentleman's company, and it wasn't very private either. Besides, it is nobody's business with whom we associate—we are free-born, and do as we please in that respect. Any way, we don't consider it any worse than to accept the frequent invitations to visit persons of the opposite politics.

Some things in the affair would be truly funny, if the designs were not so basely hidden. The idea that the editor of the Monitor has become a step-father of the "red baby" Whig Planning get that simile from? "If a father were to drive a knife to the heart of his child we would know that it meant death." Now carry that pretty little speech a little farther—suppose that father found a "bastard" or two in his family, and said bastards would violently abuse the "old man," he might very likely take up a club or a good heavy boot and apply it in a very forcible manner; just like Mr. Fries is accused of doing. The miserable conspirators before closing their wretched sub-machine cry out, "Treachery! Infamous Treachery!" Amen! say we. For surely if the "Democratic Fusionists" counted on our support, they would not have said "if that be treason, make the most of it," and the devil take your eyes.

Now comes our turn. We have a few charges to make, too, and when this political ledger is balanced, some folks may wish they hadn't taken any stock in the concern, as it "didn't pay."

Our charges shall not be made by intendo or intimation, but they shall be plain and direct, and we are not at all bashful to take an oath, before a Notary or Justice of the Peace, whenever required.

1st. We charge that a certain person, who is styled "Spear's Lieutenant" or more frequently "Spear's tool," did call on us soon after we started the Greenback Nationalist, and several times subsequently, and for many years in the practice of his plain terms, give us to understand that our interests here and as the editor of the "Greenback organ" lay in the direction of the Democratic party. That he did further and plainly say, that if we should conduct that paper favorably to said party and its leaders, or at least not to allow anything injurious to them to appear in its columns, we would need us, presently, and in regard to our business success. He also indicated that "fusion" was to be the plan adopted by the two parties—Democrat and Greenback.

It is well known, and the files of the paper will bear me out, that I did not adopt that plan, nor accept his offers, although very much pressing pecuniarily assistance. And for not following that course we incurred the displeasure of that clique and the vengeance of a "High Cockalorum!"

2nd. We also charge, that he appears to be considerable authority for some parties, did declare to us that direct fusion was abandoned and the party arrangements had taken a different shape. What that "shape" was, I do not know, but let each man look out for himself.

3rd. We charge further, that he honestly and solemnly believe, that had we entered into a conspiracy with the Monitor and its masters to run the politics of our respective parties, in this county in "cab-oo" or partnership, and in case of victory, (which seemed very probable to divide the county patronage, that those who said newspaper would have "whitewashed" our faults, instead of besmearing us with its "mud" as it now does.

In conclusion we hold that no true, genuine Greenback labor man—we mean those whose fidelity to the new party was never suspected or suspected—has ever found fault with the late editor of the Greenback Nationalist, because he earnestly fought both the Democratic "F" organ should cry out "Treachery" so lustily and also undertake to champion the ticket, "in the main," because we accepted and published a communication, which it seemed to think, exposed the dark and desperate tricks of its party and their wily leader, Chairman Spear, in position beyond our grasp, and which he actually regarded our paper as their property, and its former editor as their most obedient servant.—Holy Moses! what audacious presumption! They certainly have found out their mistake now, which may account for the un-bottling of their wrath upon our devoted head. NEVERMIND, our chief concern, and our only consist in the faithful advocacy of our high and holy principles, in preference to a contest for the mere prize of office—though it result in victory. If for this we are to be condemned, we glory in the fact, for God is with the right.

B. F. FRIES, HUNTINGDON, Pa., Aug. 19th, 1878.

POLITICAL CHOW-CHOW.

—Circulate Republican newspapers and documents.

—Read "Trit's communication," published on the first page.

—Republicans, organize clubs in every election district in the county.

—Greenbackers see the "well," and they won't dance to Spear's music.

—Ex-State Treasurer Bickel's bond is still missing. It looks suspicious.

—Every vote cast for the Democratic Congressional ticket this fall, is a vote in favor of paying the rebel war claims.

—If you want to prevent the payment of the rebel war claims by the government, defeat the Northern Democracy this fall.

—Spear has invested a large share of his Salary Grab in newspapers. He is now part owner of the Monitor and the Nationalist.

—Sunday is not the day, nor camp meeting the place, to solicit votes, particularly for men who are anxious to make laws for the people.

—We are told that a Greenbacker in this place threatened to wade in blood unless there is a change in affairs. That fellow should have a new set of brains.

—And now ex-State Treasurer Bickel's bond turns up missing, and the State is $100,000 poorer for the shortcomings of a Democratic office holder. Reform!

—Local issues should be forgotten this fall.—Save the millions of money for which the South is asking for by defeating their allies, the Northern Democracy.

—Hon. H. G. Fisher, if nominated for Congress, will lead the ticket several hundred votes in this county, and will redeem the district from Democratic misrepresentation.

—Gen. Jacob M. Campbell, has been unanimously renominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Blair and Cambria districts. He will send Coffroth, his competitor, to the bow-wow.

—Hon. Wm. D. Kelley has been nominated for Congress by the Greenbacks in the Fourth Congressional District. His renomination by the Republicans is certain, and his election is equally sure.

—The Monitor and the Nationalist—Spear's newspapers—are both playing upon the same string, and plead hard for fusion. Honest Democrats and Greenbackers will not play into the hands of the Salary-Grabber.

—The Centre Herald, a paper started a few weeks ago in Bellefonte, after being beaten by the late since its advent into the world, has at last drifted into the camp of the Nationals, they being the "highest and best bidders" we presume.

—The candidates of the Spear-North ring are almost without an following. Greenbackers, who have an idea about an election, can see that North has sold them, body and breeches, to his brother-in-law Spear. The dose is too nauseating and they won't swallow it.

—Dennis Kearney, the California communist, who is championing the cause of the working men, in Indianapolis on Monday last, but his reception was anything but flattering. His harangue on this occasion was about equal to his blackguard utterances at Boston.

—Salary-Grabber Spear has his hands full in running the Democratic and the Greenback parties, and his newspapers, the Monitor and the Nationalist, but as this is to be "the battle of his life," he can afford to work hard in his efforts to win. But the people will put the seal of condemnation upon the wily trickster.

—Democratic editors, who have been detesting so much paper to "Republican thieves," and shrieking "fraud" until they have grown hoarse, can now devote their time in clearing up Bickel's misdeeds and the thousand dollar treasury deficit. Respectfully referred to the Democratic Watchman. The Watchman is a first-class "fraud shrieker," and we would like to see it spread itself on Bickel.

—"Square Timber" Noyes, Democratic State Treasurer, according to promises made during the campaign in which he was elected, has examined the accounts of his predecessors, and in his published statement says that he "finds in their proceedings nothing of a dishonest character." He does find, however, that a former Democratic Treasurer swindled the State out of $100,000. The "fraud shriekers" have the wind taken out of them completely.

Overtaking the Energies. It is not advisable for any of us to overtake our energies, corporal or mental, but in the pursuit of wealth or fame or knowledge, how many transgress this salutary rule. It must be a matter of great importance to all who go to know how to keep their system vigorous so readily expended. The remedy is neither costly or difficult to obtain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is procurable in every country, and is sold in America, and it compensates for a drain of bodily or mental energy more effectually than any invigorant ever prescribed or advertised. Laboring men, students, journalists, lawyers, clergymen, physicians, all bear testimony to its wondrously renovating powers. It increases the capabilities for undergoing fatigue, and contracts the injurious effects upon the system of exposure, sedentary habits, unhealthily or wearing avocations, or an insubstantial climate, and is a prime alternative, diuretic and blood purifier. [aug. 2-1m.]

IT IS WORTH A TRIAL.—I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint. My blood became thin, my system was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about, and was in old worn out man all over, and could get nothing to help me, until I got Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and now I am a new man, and my blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth the trial.—(Father.) aug. 2-2t.
