

Republican State Ticket.

GOVERNOR: Gen. HENRY M. HOYT, OF LUZERNE. JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT: Hon. JAMES P. STERRETT, OF ALLEGANY. LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR: Hon. CHARLES W. STONE, OF VENANGO. SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS: Capt. AARON K. DUNKEL, OF PHILADELPHIA.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

CONGRESS: HORATIO G. FISHER, of Huntingdon. (Subject to the decision of the District Conference.) ASSEMBLY: SAMUEL McVITY, of Clay. WM. S. SMITH, of Jackson. PROTHONOTARY: W. M. K. WILLIAMSON, of Huntingdon. REGISTER AND RECORDER: I. D. KUNTZLEMAN, of Huntingdon. DISTRICT ATTORNEY: GEORGE B. ORLADY, of Huntingdon. TREASURER: S. H. ISENBERG, of Penn. COUNTY COMMISSIONERS: W. H. BENSON, of Tod. S. P. SMITH, of Union. DIRECTOR OF THE POOR: A. B. MILLER, of Porter. AUDITORS: J. H. DAVIS, of Morris. A. W. BROWN, of Cassville.

AND LAST NOTICE.

For two months we have been making an effort to effect the settlement of the accounts standing on the books of the late firm of J. B. Durborow & Co., but up to this time but a very small number of those to whom we have sent bills have responded. These accounts must be settled. From those who are unable to pay the cash we are willing to take their notes, for a limited time. On the first of August we had intended placing our books in the hands of an officer for collection, but we will extend the time to the first of September, at which date all unsettled accounts will be collected by due process of law. If you would save costs and annoyance, give this notice your attention. We are averse to this mode of collection, but when attention is paid to our bills and appeals for payment, there is no other plan left for us to pursue. Don't compel us to add costs to your accounts.

REGISTER AT ONCE.

Thursday next, Sept. 5th, is the last day for registering the names of voters. Republicans, see that the name of every voter is properly registered.

HENRY ARMITT BROWN, Esq., one of Philadelphia's ablest lawyers and most eloquent orators, died at his residence in this city, on Thursday afternoon of last week, aged about 32 years, after an illness of two months.

In Mr. Speer's issue of his newspaper No. 2 of this week, he insinuates against the moral character of such men as M'Knight Williamson, Geo. B. Orlday, S. P. Smith, W. H. Benson, and Samuel McVity. The character of these gentlemen cannot suffer by such attacks from such a source.

Treason in the greenback camp strikes terror into the Democratic heart. Usually political parties and organs are delighted with defection in the ranks of their opponents. How the Monitor would gloat over divisions if there were any among the Republicans. But they come too nearly home when they are found in the National party.

S. R. MASON, the Greenback candidate for Governor, made a speech in this place, on Wednesday night. He told us nothing new, and the burden of his talk was against National Banks and the Resumption Act. Mr. Mason is a fine looking man, dresses scrupulously neat, and a brilliant diamond flashes and dazzles from his virgin linen. He don't look like a workman.

The end of the world is set down for the 11th of July, 1879, upon the authority of the Prophet Mahomet, who has revealed the fact to a priest in the Mosque of Medina. This will have a depressing effect upon politics. The next Presidency will not be worth fighting for, unless we elect a candidate who can secure a postponement of the dire catastrophe. Couldn't Tilden buy Mahomet off? If he hasn't enough money of his own, he can make Cronin Secretary of the Treasury and accomplish his purpose by a slight increase of the National debt. If Mahomet would not yield to the greenback argument, he is not the kind of a fellow we take him to be. All false prophets and spiritualists are greenbackers.

Mr. FRIES, editor of the late greenback organ at this place, was a Republican before he joined his fortunes with the Nationals, and in leaving the Republican party he did not abandon its patriotic principles, but adhered to them with all the tenacity of his honest nature. It was but natural that he should sometimes denounce treason, the rebellion and the Democrats, not thinking it inconsistent with his new political associations. In fact, he believed that the success and salvation of the National party depended upon its freedom from entangling alliances with the old organizations, and was opposed to allowing it to be used by its leaders evidently intended it to be in this country. And Mr. Fries was not without followers in this opinion.

They yellow fever is raging with unabated fury in New Orleans, Memphis, Grenada, and other Southern cities and towns, and the death roll is alarmingly large. One death has resulted from the disease in Pittsburgh, and two cases have been discovered in Philadelphia. The victim in Pittsburgh came to that city off the boat of John Porter, which has been in quarantine below that city for a week or more. The people of the North are sending money and provisions to the afflicted in the fever-scorched South. The Northern cities are using every precaution against the disease

Democratic Ratification Meeting.

SPEER'S CONVENTION ALMOST A UNIT!

ANYTHING TO BEAT THE REPUBLICAN PARTY!

Fleming Laughs at Republican Folly!

The Speer and North wing of the Democratic party of this county met in Convention, in this place, on Tuesday afternoon last, to carry out the programme laid down for it by these gentlemen. The convention was called to order by Hon. John M. Bailey, chairman of the county committee. After calling the roll of delegates, Mr. Bailey stated that the next thing in order was the election of a permanent chairman, when, on motion, Dr. W. P. M'Nite, of Shireleysburg, was unanimously chosen for that position. Messrs. Greenland, Sechler and Mears were elected secretaries. The chair announced that the convention was now organized and ready for business.

Thomas H. Adams, of Mt. Union, one of Speer's State committee men, prompted to discharge his instructions, jumped to his feet and offered a resolution that the convention should to nominate candidates for congress, district attorney and county commissioner. This opened the eyes of the less than baker's dozen of straight ticket delegates who would not be "seen." M'Murtrie, of Penn, moved to lay the resolution upon the table, and Stoneroad, of Birmingham, offered an amendment that the convention nominate a full county ticket.—Speer's forces wanted the original resolution to pass, and undertook to force it through regardless of all parliamentary rules, but the chair couldn't see it in that light. He rightly ruled that Mr. M'Murtrie's motion was in order, and when he so decided several delegates jumped up very anxious to be heard on the pending motion. The chair recognized Mr. Stoneroad, of Birmingham, who urged the nomination of a full ticket, and warned the Democracy against the danger of fusion. It was very evident that the remarks of the gentleman met with little favor from these forty delegates who had had their work mapped out for them. Mr. Fleming, of the Monitor, Speer's newspaper No. 1, who was "cooked and primed" with a prepared speech, took the floor and proceeded to tell the delegates what was expected of them. He became quite eloquent at times in his pleadings for fusion, but the whole gist of his ten-minute speech was "anything to beat the Republican party." We wish every Republican in the county could have heard him boasting of the advantages that have been gained by that party through the disaffection in our ranks. He chuckled over it, and begged the delegates to vote down the proposition of Mr. M'Murtrie to lay the resolution on the table. He wanted to fuse with the Greenbackers, but said boldly that in a few years they could meet, nominate straight Democratic tickets, and elect them independent of all other parties. This was the burden of his song. The yeas and nays were called and M'Murtrie's proposition to table the resolution was lost by a vote of 74 to 12. The original resolution was then adopted by the same majority.

The delegates then proceeded to ratify the nominations made by Mr. Speer, as follows: Congress, Hon. J. M. Bailey; District Attorney, J. Chalmers Jackson; County Commissioner, James Smith.—When this part of the programme had been gone through with 'Squire Brown presented a resolution recommending the Greenback county ticket to the support of the people. This brought several delegates to their feet, but 'Squire Brooks claimed the apparent coming storm by stating that the resolution did not recommend that the Democratic party support the nominees of the Greenbackers, but that the people were recommended to do so. This was satisfactory, and the resolution was adopted by the usual Speer majority, 74 to 12.—McAeter offered a resolution thanking chairman Bailey for the manner in which he had handled the Democracy since he had been at its head in this county, and Fleming offered one endorsing the candidates and platform of the Pittsburgh convention, both of which were adopted.

The election of a county chairman was next in order. DeArmit nominated Peter Gerlach, and some delegate, whose name we could not learn, nominated D. Caldwell, Esq., but his name was instantly withdrawn, in such a way that it was plain to be seen that Mr. Caldwell was not in sympathy with those who were there for the purpose of merely ratifying the work laid out for them by Mr. Speer and Mr. North. Gerlach was chosen chairman, and he will be a man of straw in the hands of the man who gave him the position.

The programme was carried out in every particular, North's promise, made at Crescon a month or so ago, that the Democrats would make no nomination, was made good.—Speer had told him so—and the convention, having done all that was required of it, adjourned.

Some of the delegates are loud in their denunciation of the manner in which Speer run the convention, and say boldly that they will not be held by its action, but that they will use every honest means in their power to defeat it. They are not willing to ignore party principles and everything else for the advancement of one man. They say that Speer's sole object is to secure the election of Foust and Doyle to the legislature that they may vote for him for a seat in the United States Senate, and to accomplish this end he is willing to sacrifice every other candidate on the ticket, from Dill down to county auditor. Speer was successful in running the convention to suit him, but he will find that the masses of the party will not dance to his music, and a more euphonic rebuke will be administered to him in November next than that which he received at Wilkesbarre when he was hissed out of the Democratic State Convention, branded as "a public thief."

REGISTER AT ONCE.

Thursday next, Sept. 5th, is the last day for registering the names of voters. Republicans, see that the name of every voter is properly registered.

THE secret of the libelous attack by Democrats upon Mr. B. F. Fries, editor of the greenback paper lately published in this place, is that he was too faithful to the party to which he belonged. Had he been willing to make a semi-Democratic organ of his paper, he would have realized all the prosperity that Democratic support and patronage could have given him. But as he adhered to his principles as an individual and to those of his party as he understood them, and refused to yield to the corrupt solicitations of those whom he regarded as political opponents, he was pursued first with their threats and next with the unrelenting determination that he should be driven from the management of the paper and that the establishment of which he was the owner should pass out of his hands. And they accomplished their purpose. When Democrats can do such things, is it not time for the National party to inquire whether it has not fallen into evil hands?

THE Nationals can scarcely be said to have any existence as a separate and distinct party in Pennsylvania. They cling to one or the other of the old parties for support. In our county they "have grown green (not with an excess of their favorite currency) but with jealousy over the encroachments of the Democracy. In another they are red with rage because they have been unable to force the Democratic party into an acceptance of their candidates. In another they are blue with disappointment because they all wanted office, and there were nominations for only a vulgar fraction of them. A year or two more of such experience will end their existence as a party.

The people are fast arraying themselves against the policy of the rooster class.—Speer's newspaper No. 2.

They have been arrayed against them for several years past, or you would not have been "kerfuzzled" in your wild hunt after some office. The people don't want any "rooster" in their...

CLEAR THE DECKS FOR ACTION.

Roll up your Sleeves and Go to Work.

Is He the Candidate of the Working-men or the Monopolists?

The Mercer correspondent of the New York Tribune describes Mr. Mason, the National candidate for Governor, as follows: "The Mason can on no account claim to represent 'the honest-handed sons of toil.' He is, like the average candidate of his class, and never did anything but moderate brain work, and not enough of that to have induced the present softening. If there are any callous spots about him they are on his hands. If he has been conspicuous in anything it is as an attorney for the coal land monopoly. He will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people. These 'poor workmen' now have their opportunity to get even, and I am told they are loading their guns. The graves' charge, however, is that he has for years acted as agent for capitalists and corporations in making loans of money at extravagant rates of interest, some as high as 12 and 15 per cent., of which extra percentage the lion's share went into his own pocket. Such a man can make an appropriate Democratic candidate, especially as his antecedents are of that sort, but as the standard-bearer of anti-monopoly and the champion of debt-ridden reformers he can't possibly be a success. The motives which doubtless compelled his nomination will be as successful as any other candidate in certain suits of eloquence against poor people