More light is needed in the County Treasurer's room. It is a gloomy, dingy place, and in cloudy weather the gas must be lighted before that officer can see to do his work.

During the week of prayer we hope delinquent subscribers to newspapers will not be forgotten. A few prayers in their behalf might have the effect of causing them to pay up.

"The Electric" a new cigar manufactured expressly for the JOURNAL trade, is the best in the market, and lovers of the weed are loud in its praise. Everybody smokes it, and they love it.

"The old farm house," by "Longfellow, jr.," came duly to hand, and we insert it—in the waste-basket, the only fitting place for such bad jingle. As a poet our correspondent is not a success.

During the late cold snap the trains on the P. R. R., were nearly all behind time. On Sunday morning the train from the east was two hours late and the western train two hours and a half.

The erecting departments of the Altoona railroad shops have work enough on hand to keep them running on full time for the next six months, which must be good news for the men employed there.

The Lewistown True Democrat gently "goes for" Daniel F. Beaty, the piano manufacturer (?) and dead-beat advertiser. The editor that does work for Daniel can make up his mind that he will be cheated.

Lookout that your nurses do not drug your little ones with laudanum, paregoric or other soothing remedies. Give them Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup, which innocent remedy is warranted not to contain opiates.

Mr. A. G. Smouse, of Snake Spring township, Bedford county, was drowned in Cove Creek on Saturday night, the 28th ult. He left Bedford the evening previous tolerably drunk. Another plea for temperance.

Van Stan's Stratena Cement at the JOURNAL Store. The best in the market for mending all kinds of articles, from the tiniest piece of china to a sett of harness. Only 25 cts. per bottle. Every family should have a bottle.

J. D. Hicks, esq, of Tyrone, illuminated our sanctum by his presence on Thursday afternoon. He is a clever gentleman, and we are always pleased to have him cross the JOURNAL threshold when business calls him to this bailiwick.

J. B. Seal, esq., editor of the Millersburg Herald, was married on the 24th ult., to Miss Ella Weaver, of Montoursville, Pa. We wish brother Seal and his fair bride all the happiness that it is possible for mortals to enjoy on this earth.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Hamilton, the estimable wife of our old friend and patron, James Hamilton, esq., of Shaver's Creek, who has been dangerously ill for a long time with typhoid fever, is out of danger and slowly convalescing.

Geo. Warfel, while driving his coal wagon about town, on Thursday afternoon, had one of his ears frozen as hard as a board. A stream of cold water poured on it for several minutes had the effect of drawing the frost and easing the pain.

Geo. W. Cornelius, esq., of Shirleysburg, spent a couple of days in our town last week. If the 'Squire can find a house to suit him it is more than probable that he will become a citizen of ye ancient borough in the Spring. We will be pleased to have him do so.

The series of meetings which were in progress in the Stone Creek chapel for the past fortnight closed on Wednesday. Several persons professed conversion and propose attaching themselves to the M. E. Church, under whose auspices the meetings were conducted.

Gen. F. H. Lane tarried with us one day last week, and during his stay he was busily engaged in getting subscribers to a patent copying book. It does away with the old copying press and is as handy "as snuff in a rag." Quite a number of our business men invested.

A person coming out of the lower door of the post-office, without the greatest caution is exercised, will perform feats of tumbling that will eclipse those of the saw-dust arena. It is a most dangerous place these days of frost and snow, as the many who have fallen there can attest.

The Juniata is ice-bound, the first time in half a dozen years that it has been closed from shore to shore. On Saturday afternoon the ice was liberally patronized by skaters; old and young, male and female, black and white, went skimming over its smooth surface regardless of the piercing cold and the rude blasts of old Boreas.

Sam. H. Lemon, of Hollidaysburg, who went to Brazil with the Collins expedition, returned to his home on Thursday evening last, having seen the elephant in all his phases during his brief sojourn in that country. He was delighted to once more tread his native heather, and many moons will wax and wane ere Samuel will again take any Brazil in his'n.

A public school building has just been completed in Brookville, Jefferson county, Pa., the cost of which, with the furniture, is $20,000. By this time next year we hope we will be able to announce that the borough of Huntingdon has completed a building that will supply the pressing demands for a new edifice and one that will be an honor to the town.

As our reporter came along Water Street last night, shivering with the chill night air, and drawing his overcoat tightly about him, he thought, "now is the time for colds and coughs," but if poor mortals only knew what a certain cure Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is, how few would long suffer, and then it costs only twenty-five cents.—Sandusky (Ohio) Register.

We learn from the Altoona papers that a grand mass temperance convention will be held in that city on the 20th inst. Francis Murphy, the temperance apostle, will be in attendance and address the people. By the-way, couldn't arrangements be made to have Mr. Murphy visit our town and give us a temperance talk? Friends of temperance, try it.

We understand that efforts are being made to have General Kilpatrick visit our town and deliver his popular lecture: "Sherman's March to the Sea." We hope the gentlemen having the matter in hand will be successful in making the necessary arrangements, and that ere long our people will have the pleasure of listening to this eloquent soldier lecturer. Huntingdon should have a course of lectures every winter.

The Tyrone Herald says that a Hollidaysburg man, stupified by drink and cold, was found near the Allegheny rolling mill the other night and taken in and resuscitated amid the lurid glare of the molten iron and the din of the machinery. As he slowly came to and was asked where he belonged, he looked about him in a frightened manner and replied: "Well, when I was on earth I lived in Hollidaysburg."

The brick school house, in Brady township, made a narrow escape from being destroyed by fire on Monday morning last. The fire was communicated to the roof by the stove pipe, and when discovered about a yard square had been burned, but by the prompt application of water the fire was subdued before doing further damage. A little while longer and the fire would have so far advanced that the destruction of the edifice would have been inevitable.

By a circular received from Secretary A. Z. Schock, we are requested to announce that the third Semi-Annual Meeting of the "Pennsylvania Millers' State Association" will be held at the Stevens House, Lancaster, on Tuesday, the 14th day of January, at 11 o'clock A. M. Persons desirous of attending the meeting can purchase excursion tickets by first getting an order from the Secretary, whose post-office address is Selingsgrove, Pa. Huntingdon, we have no doubt, will be represented at this meeting.

During the intensely cold weather of last week, we are informed that some of the rooms in the old tumble-down school building, on the hill, were so cold that the little children huddled in them were almost perished, and in spite of all the firing that could be done it was impossible to render them comfortable. This old barracks is a disgrace to the town, and as our people will have a chance to vote for the erection of a new and suitable building, at the coming February election, we hope they will improve the opportunity and cast a solid ballot in favor of the enterprise.

The monument, intended to mark the resting place of our old friend, John G. Miles, esq., was hauled past our office on Monday afternoon, on a low sled built for the purpose, drawn by the teams of Mr. Isaac Long and Mr David Rohm. The monument is cone shaped, made of gray granite, in the rough, with a handsomely polished shield on one side, bearthe name, age, &c., of the deceased. It is a massive block, weighing some four or five tons. It was put in place by Green & Beaver, marble workers in this place. It is odd from anything else to be found in our cemetery, but the design we think beautiful and very appropriate.

By reference to the advertising columns of to day's JOURNAL it will be seen that a petition will be presented to the Legislature, during the present session, asking that body to reduce the fees or salary of the Treasurer of this county. As the law now stands the officer is allowed $700 for the collection of taxes and three per cent. for the handling of all monies which pass through his office, which makes the emoluments amount to about $2,500 per annum. The petition will ask that the sum for collection be fixed at $500 and the percentage reduced to two and a half per cent. This will not interfere with the salary of the present incumbent.

Those of our patrons who responded promptly, when our collector called last week, will please accept our thanks, and those who put him off with promises will please bear in mind that we cannot run the JOURNAL on promises to pay; we have to come down with the cash for paper, ink, labor, etc., and as we have nothing to depend on except our income from the paper, we must demand prompt payment from our patrons. No man, or woman either should expect an editor to furnish them a paper year in and year out without being paid for it, and those who can't pay promptly should be honest enough to so inform the publisher so that he could exercise his own judgment in the matter.

Ex-Register W. E. Lightner was the first man in the county—and as far as we know the only one—to register his dog under the provisions of the law passed in May last. The law provides that the clerks of the several courts of Quarter Sessions within this Commonwealth shall procure a docket, at the expense of the county, for the registering of dogs. The owner of a dog who wishes to have him registered must give age, color, height, and such other marks or description as may be deemed necessary. For this a fee of $1.00 is to be paid. If the owner of the dog so registered sells him, he is authorized to transfer the Clerk of Court's certificate to the purchaser, but the transfer must also be entered on the docket, for which a fee of 12 cents is to be paid. Dogs so registered are declared to be personal property, and as much the subject of larceny as any other kind of personal property; and any one stealing a dog so registered is liable to prosecution and indictment, and on conviction shall be sentenced to such fine or imprisonment, or both, as the court may think proper.

A VERY UGLY AND DAMAGING STORY CONTRADICTED.

—On Christmas morning, or the morning following, the Harrisburg papers contained an account of a minister having been arrested in the neighborhood of the depot, in that city, at a late hour of the night, in a supposed beastly state of intoxication, with a bottle of gin in his pocket. He was incarcerated in the lock up for the night, and in the morning when brought before the Mayor for a hearing, the unfortunate man proved to be our former fellow townsman, Rev. R. E. Wilson. The reverend gentleman denied that he had been drunk, but alleged that he had been drugged in a restaurant near the depot, where he had the previous evening eaten a plate of oysters and drank a glass of sweet cider. Mr. Wilson seems to be unfortunate, as only a few years ago, while a resident of Altoona, he was charged with being on a jamboree in that city, but, as in this case, when the matter was investigated, he showed to the satisfaction of his congregation that he was innocent of the charge of drunkenness, and that the cause of his apparent drunken stupor was occasioned by an over-dose of some narcotic taken for the alleviation of neuralgic pains from which he was suffering.

The Harrisburg story, coming to the ears of the editor of the Conference News, published in that city, and the church paper of the Conference to which Mr. Wilson belongs, was fully investigated by that gentleman, and in the last issue of his paper he has this to say concerning it:

On the afternoon of Dec. 24th Rev. R. E. Wilson, of Mifflintown, visited Harrisburg to make some holiday purchases, arriving by the Johnstown express, which was an hour and a half late. He had but two hours in which to do his shopping and make the accommodation train. After calling at a number of business places he made his way towards the depot, entering a restaurant shortly before train time, and partaking of a plate of oysters and a glass of sweet cider. He recollects nothing more of the occurrences of the day. The next morning about three o'clock he recovered his consciousness, and found himself in a cell of the city lock-up. How he got there is to him (and to us, after an investigation which we feel in duty bound to make,) inexplicable on any other supposition than that he was drugged and foully dealt with. The report that first gained credence, that he was intoxicated, lacks evidence at every point, while his own statement is as fully corroborated as it well can be.

The parties from whom he made purchases testify that he exhibited no signs of intoxication whatever, and Senator Crawford, who is his near neighbor in Mifflintown, met him before he entered the restaurant to get his lunch, and bears the same testimony. He left the restaurant and bought a ticket at the depot, the agent remarking that he looked as if his mind was wandering. Taking a seat in a car, he at once sank into a stupor, but was aroused by the stopping of the train or some other means at Duncannon, where he got off and walked along the track, from which he was taken in time to save him from being run over by a passing freight train. By some means he subsequently got on the mail train east and was taken back to Hartisburg, where he was arrested by the police, on the supposition that he was intoxicated, and put in the lock-up for the night. Upon examination before the mayor the next morning, it was found his clothing had been cut, and his pocket book, containing some ten dollars, clerical tickets, etc., was missing. The story that a bottle of liquor was found upon his person is a pure fabrication. The Mayor gave Brother Wilson a letter certifying his belief that he had been drugged, and all who have thoroughly investigated the circumstances are persuaded that such was the case, and that robbery was the motive that made him the victim of the foul outrage.

Brother Wilson's congregation, after inquiring into all the circumstances of this strange affair, have given him every assurance of their confidence in his integrity, and on last Sabbath turned out en masse to hear him preach. The community in which he lives have also given many evidences of sympathy and good will, and, for once, Christian charity seems to have averted the greatest misfortune that could have befallen a brother through such a diabolical act—the loss of his reputation

A WONDERFUL CURE OF DIPHTHERIA.—Three of my children had Diphtheria in its worst form. Skin dry, lips parched, could not swallow. With a feather I applied Gile's Liniment Iodide Ammonia to the tonsils, rubbed over their throats and chests. Great chunks of stuff came from the throats, the skin became moist, fever left them, and under the Almighty care I attribute their cure to Dr. Giles' Liniment. JANE KELLY,

THE INS AND OUTS.

—On Monday last there was considerable commotion and bustle about the Court House, in this place, occasioned by the stepping out of the old county officers and the induction of the new ones.

In the Prothonotary's office Mr. Williamson is his own successor, and a more gentlemanly and accommodating officer than he has proven himself to be never administered the affairs of that office since the organization of the county.

The Register and Recorder's office, which has been conducted so satisfactorily by W. E. Lightner, esq., for the past six years, passes into the hands of our young friend, Irvin D. Kuntzelman, who has the ability and experience to make a good officer and to discharge the duties of the office to the satisfaction of the public.

G. Ashman Miller, esq., who has handled the money bags for the past three years, turns the affairs of the Treasurer's office over to A. P. McElwain. Mr. Miller was an accommodating officer, and discharged his duty faithfully and well. We have no doubt that his successor, when he becomes acquainted with the duties of the office, will discharge them satisfactorily.

J. Chalmers Jackson, esq, who has been the Commonwealth's attorney for the last three years, steps down and out to make room for Geo. B. Orlady, esq. During Mr. Jackson's term he discharged the duties of his position to the best of his ability. Mr. Orlady has the legal learning to make a good officer, and we predict for him a successful administration of the responsible duties devolving on the State's Attorney.

In the Commissioners' office our clever friends, Messrs. A. W. Wright, H. G. Neff and D. B. Weaver have labored to the best of their ability to run the affairs of the county in an economical way, and their efforts in this direction have been partially successful. Their successors, Messrs. Benson, Isenberg and Smith are good business men, and we feel confident that they too will conduct the affairs of the county with an eye single to the best interest of the tax-payers.

The new Board organized at once and proceeded to the election of a physician, attorney and clerk, with the following result: Physician, Dr. R. W. Weistling; attorney, K. Allen Lovell; Clerk, Thomas D. Newell.

A THIEF SHOT.

—For a month or two past the citizens of West township have been suffering from the depredations of thieves, without being able to ascertain who was carrying away their property. Our old friend, Henry Davis, Sr., who resides in that township, was robbed of about twenty-five pounds of honey, and others of his neighbors had different articles carried away from their premises from time to time. Mrs. Geo. Wilson, who resides on her farm, about two and a half miles above Petersburg, seems to have suffered more frequently than any other neighbors from the visits of the thieves, who carried off her property by the wholesale. In order to protect herself she solicited a young man named Shively to remain in her house at night. At a late hour on the night before New Year's the inmates of Mrs. Wilson's house were disturbed by a noise in the neighborhood of the smokehouse, and on looking out they observed a man going from the smoke-house towards a strip of woods near to it. Young Shively, who had previously loaded his gun for use in case of emergency, caught up that weapon, and started in the direction of the fleeing man, calling upon him to stop. His commands for a halt not being complied with, he brought his gun to his shoulder and fired. At the moment the shot was fired the thief was in the act of climbing the fence, and from which he fell to the opposite side. Upon going to the place a large quantity of blood was observed, but the man was no where to be seen, having succeeded in making his escape, but a ham of meat stolen from the smoke house of Mrs. Wilson was lying beside the fence, evidently dropped by the thief when he was struck by the ball from young Shively's rifle. A short distance further on a quantity of honey was found, which Mrs. Wilson recognized as her property. Up to this time no clue has been obtained to the unlucky thief, but if he was dangerously wounded his identity is only a matter of time. As long as young Shively is doing guard duty the thieves will consult their own welfare by giving the premises over which he has surveillance a wide berth.

TO OUR PATRONS.

We return thanks to our patrons and friends who have aided in establishing and maintaining our large business. Many of you began with us 17 years ago, and have continued constantly and steadily throughout the changes of those years, and we hope and believe the benefits derived from our long dealings have been mutual. Your approval of our efforts yields pleasing recollections and is a powerful incentive to further endeavors. We therefore enter upon the New Year with renewed zeal, with a determination to retain your confidence and good will and to increase our efficiency in the community. We will be happy to welcome one and all at our old stand.

THOMPSON.—On the 2d of December, 1878, at Mooresville, this county, Mrs. Elizabeth, wife of James Thompson, aged 43 years, 11 months and 21 days.

She was converted and united with the M. E. Church at Mooresville during the pastorate of Rev. J. A. Melick, in December of 1857. Mrs. Thompson's home was a joy to her own family, as it always was to her pastor and friends. She received her guests with a quiet, yet cheerful welcome that seemed to forget the extra care and labor of entertaining them. She was happiest when her willing hands were serving most those whom she most loved best. Her religious life was not demonstrative, but exemplary throughout; her quiet, cheerful trust in God became in her last hours full of assurance and was blessedly triumphant. During her severe illness she enjoyed the constant ministry of an affectionate husband and devoted family, until her peaceful quiet spirit returned to the "rest that remaineth to the people of God." The afflicted family have the sympathy of the church and community in this their deep sorrow
