About noon on Saturday of last week the startling announcement was made on the streets of Port Royal that Mr. Uriah Guss, a well known and highly respected citizen of Turbett township had been instantly killed between 11 and 12 o'clock of that day by a tree falling on him. The report proved only too true. On Monday, in company with Mr. S. R. The tree, which was a large white oak,

It had been cut down the day previous by Mr. Guss, with the assistance of Mr. William Kennedy, and, in falling, lodged on the bank of the creek. No danger was apprehended, as it was supposed the great weight of the tree would prevent it from moving, and it remained as it fell. On the morn ing of the fatal accident, Mr. Guss was enwhile his son Cloyd hauled the wood to the house on a sled as fast as his father would cut it. S. E. Henry. THE MIDDLE PENITENTIARY .- THE CONTRACT FOR BUILDING THE RESERVOIR AND LAYING WATER PIPE AWARDED .- The Commissioners met at the Girard House, in Phila delphia, on Monday morning of this week, for the purpose of awarding the contract for the building of the reservoir and the laying of water pipe for the new penitentiary. They were in session some nine or ten hours, and during that time examined forty three proposals for doing the work. They ranged from $5,165 to $20,000. The contractors bidding were from all parts of the State, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Huntingdon, Pottsville, Reading, Lock Haven, Columbia, and Lancaster. From Philadelphia and Pittsburgh the principal numbers came. A Philadelphia firm, Samuel H. Collon & Co., got the contract, their bid being the lowest, $5,165. This bid was rather a surprise to the Commission, as they did not expect the work could be done for that price, and some are still of the opinion that the contractors cannot make anything out of the contract. The security required must be equal to the full amount o the bid. The reservoir must be large enough to contain 960,000 gallons of water. The amount of iron pipe to be laid is 3,300 feet. eight-inch size. All the members of the Commission were present at the meeting.

Charles Thompson Jones presided. We hear considerable growling among a few of the laboring men of this place, because the Commissioners have given the work out by contract. They had been flattering themselves that the State would do the work, and that good wages would be paid for not very hard work. These men take an entirely wrong view of the case: the Commonwealth like individuals, wants its work done at and which should serve to lighten the great the least possible cost, and the way to have it done cheaply is to parcel it out by contract. What is the difference whether a man labors tor the State or for a contractor, as in either case he will be expected to earn his wages by honest labor? The work must be done and it matters nothing to the laboring men whether it is done by the State or by individuals.

at Mr. John Fore's sale near Knobsville on last tion that led him to believe that the parties who perpetrated the robbery were Charles Ke-baugh, William Kebaugh and David Stevens, young men residing in Taylor township, this present at the sale, and Mr. Detrich, awaiting his opportunity, succeeded in arresting them without much trouble, although one of them, flourishing a pistol in the officer's face, de manded his authority for apprehending them. They were brought to town, and after informa tion agaist them had been properly made, they were committed to jail. On the following day, while the same officer was attending Mr Tice's sale in Licking Creek township, he suc ceeded in securing David Stevens, and he, too, slept in our jail on Saturday night, with his supposed confederates. A telegram hav ing been sent to Mr. Brewster, notifying him of the arrests that had been made, a constable, with two assistants, arrived here on Saturday night and conveyed the prisoners to the Huntingdon jail, there to await their trial. The parties arrested were seen hanging around the village of Saltillo the night the They are supposed to be members

A little unpleasantness took place here in the Pirst Borough school on last Monday morning. The teacher corrected a scholar (would-be young man) for disobedience, when he turned on the teacher and struck him with the coal shovel. To save further trouble the school was dismissed, the directors called together, and at 2 P. M. the case investigated when the action of the teacher was justified and the scholar expelled. The directors notified the school that hereafter all violation of rules and disobedience would be dealt with severely, and that scholars not being in school on time would be expelled unless written excuses from their parents would be produced.

A SAD CASE .- Mr. George Diehl who lived with his widewed mother in East St. Clair township, was brought to Bedford on Monday last by one of the Sheriff's deputies and lodged in jail. He was charged with a certain offense and had been bailed for his appearance at court. Failing to appear the party might be led to locate among his old and who bailed him became alarmed and asked the Court to issue a process for his arrest, which was done. On Wednesday he had a hearing and was found guilty and sentenced to pay certain expenses and costs, the whole amounting to some fifty odd dollars. As he was unable to pay he was taken back to jail. He had been unwell before he was put in prison, but grew worse immediately after being suit the times. sent back after the trial. The physician of the jail, Dr. Hughes, was called in, and as afterwards assisted by Dr. Gump. He received all the attention possible-was put in a warm room with a comfortable bed and every thing was done to relieve the suffering. Bu death had a fatal grip on him and he died on Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. His remains were taken to Schellsburg in the afternoon for burial. He was the main support of his widowed mother .- Bedford Gazette.

> A SENSATION IN LEWISTOWN. - A good deal of feeling prevails in this community in regard to a mysterious disappearance. A few weeks age a young man, a stranger stopped off a train, and for a week or two boarded at a private house at the Junction. have led some persons to believe that he was murdered, and probably thrown into the river at or near the first railroad bridge, where his body would soon work its way under the eavy ice which covers the river here. Should this surmise be true, the body will likely be recovered before many weeks, somewhere in the Juniata or Susquehanna below this place. If so, it is hoped the authorities here will be for the surmise of t advised, with a view to the identification of the body, and to promote the cause of justice -True Democrat.

DR. H. T. HELMBOLD .- Learning that DR. H. T. HELMBOLD, a man whose name has traveled to the remotest corners of the earth. and whose reputation for pluck and energy is unsurpassed, was in the city, a Star reporter made it a point yesterday to catch that gentleman on the fly, so to speak, and submit him to a brief interview. The Doctor retains all the vigor of his former years, although a sprinkling of gray shows itself in his otherwise coal black hair. He is a wirv little man of some forty-six years, with keen, piercing eyes, and is evidently good for the active busness life which he has mapped out for the future, how he rode on the topmost wave of prosperity and commanded an almost fabulous fortune ; how he advertised in every conceivable manner which his ingenuity could suggest, regardless of expense, but always so udiciously that his money returned to him an hundred fold .- Cincinnati Star.

THE RAILROAD TRAMP ACT .- Judge Junkin, of Juniata county, has given an oninion that in commitments under the recently passed railroad act the county is liable for costs. Judge J. says:

The code of 1860, sec. 64, p. 67, declare that where a party shall have been discharged according to law without payment of cost

Under the act of 28th of March, 1814, which contained a similar provision, a discharge under the insolvent laws, arrest, or reversal of judgment, were held in Agnew vs. Com-monwealth, 12. S. and R. 95 to throw the costs of prosecution on the county. So, too in case of pardon, because it was thought unreasonable that officers and witnesses hould lose their costs. In the present case it is clear that imprisonment is substituted for payment of costs, not until paid, but for ten days only at the and of which the convict must be discharged; end of which the convict must be dis and hence we are of opinion that the county is liable to pay the fees of the committing
