

Circulation LARGER than any other Paper in the Juniata Valley.

OWING to the great run on our advertising columns this week, several matters of local interest have been crowded out.

THE breach of promise case of Mrs. Mary Oliver against Hon. Simon Cameron, is now on trial in the Washington Courts.

OUR thanks are due Hon. B. F. Foust, for a copy of the Report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, for the year ending June 3, 1878.

ROWELL, the English pedestrian, was the winner, by twenty-five miles, in the five hundred mile tramp, at Gilmore's Garden, New York city, last week.

MRS. GEN. W. T. SHERMAN died at residence, at Newport, R. I., on Wednesday last week, and her husband died at the same place, on Monday of this week.

HON. S. J. RANDALL was elected Speaker of the House, on Tuesday, by a majority of five votes. The oath of office was administered to him by Hon. Wm. D. Kelly.

THE remains of the late Bayard Taylor, arrived in New York, on the 13th inst., per steamer "Gellert." They were interred at Cedarcroft, in this State, beside the remains of his first wife.

THE Legislator who votes for a session next winter, or by his conduct renders the calling of one necessary, cooks his political goose effectually. The people won't take any stock in these "ten-dollar boys."

WE are indebted to James H. Logan, Esq., Acting Principal of the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, for a copy of the Second Annual Report of the Trustees of that institution.

EX-GOV. JAMES POLLOCK has been again appointed by the President, Naval Officer for Philadelphia, in place of Col. Hiestand, whose commission expired on the 13th inst. Col. Hiestand is the able editor of the Lancaster Examiner, and inasmuch as he made an excellent officer should have been re-appointed.

THE remains of the murdered Chisholm family, father, son and daughter, were taken at Salona, Clinton county, on the 6th inst. The murder of these people, by the rebel Ku-Klux of Kemper county, Miss., in May, 1877, is still fresh in the minds of our readers. It was one of the most fiendish and brutal murders ever heard of in a civilized country.

IT is expected that the seat in the United States Senate, now so ably filled by Mr. Bruce, the colored Senator from Mississippi, whose term expires in March, 1881, will be given to that arch-traitor, Jefferson Davis. It is said that the petticoat hero is anxious to be returned to the Senate, so that he can "vindictize" his cause since succeeding in 1861, and the Democrats will gratify him.

UPON what we considered reliable authority, we stated in last week's issue that Hon. John J. Patterson, late Senator from South Carolina, had received a free pardon for all his shortcomings in that State, but since then we see it stated that no pardon has been granted him, and that there are several ugly charges still pending against him. If Patterson has half a chance he will warn himself out of the difficulty. For old acquaintance sake, we hope John may have a safe deliverance.

THE Blair County Radical is strongly in favor of the State paying three-fourths of the losses arising out of the Pittsburgh riots of 1877, and argues that the corporations of the State, from which the major portion of her revenues are derived, would pay the greater share of these losses. There has been no tax levied on real estate since 1867, and therefore, the money necessary to keep the machinery of the State in motion must come from sources other than the levying of taxes on real estate. The Radical makes out a pretty good case.

AT Windsor Castle, on Thursday, the Duke of Connaught (Queen Victoria's son) and the Princess Louise (daughter of Frederick Charles of Prussia) were married. For the first time since Prince Albert's death the Queen has ordered the strict festivities in honor of her son's marriage. Prussia and England seem to be drawing closer year by year. Few mamma's, says a contemporary, have done better for their children in a matrimonial way than Queen Victoria. She had nine children, of whom one is dead—Princess Alice of Hesse, the second daughter and third child—and the six who are married have presented her with twenty-five grand children, although she is not yet sixty years old. She has now only the two youngest to dispose of—Prince Leopold and Princess Beatrice.

"A COUPLE of our Huntingdon contem poraries have gotten very much on their ear over that queer story about the Middle Penitentiary. With all due respect to their rage and protestations of virtue we believe Senator Fisher owes his election to Congress to that job and nothing else."

WE are not "on our ear" at all, but we cannot remain silent and allow one of our citizens to be placed in a false position by men who know what they assert is not true. Our neighbors of the Tribune, as a general thing, "play the game fair," but in this instance they certainly did Mr. Fisher injustice by stating that he was a member of the Penitentiary Commission, and was instrumental in having it located at Huntingdon. It matters little what they believe about the Senator's election to Congress; we could have elected him if the Penitentiary had never been thought of. Mr. Fisher is too high-toned and honorable to be caught playing the role of the "jobber," the Tribune's belief to the contrary notwithstanding.

WORKINGMEN.—Before you begin your heavy spring work after a winter vacation, your system needs cleansing and strengthening to prevent an attack of Ague, Bilious or Spring Fever, or some other Spring sickness that will unfit you for a season's work. You will save time, much sickness and great expense if you will use one bottle of Hop Bitters in your family this month. Don't wait. See another column.

THE SACRED GANGES.—Millions of lives have been wasted through a superstitious belief in the curative power of the Ganges. More have been lost by faith in useless drugs. Kidney-Urta is a perfect remedy for kidney or liver disease. It is a specific for piles also.

Suffering for a Life Time.

Persons afflicted with rheumatism often suffer for a life time, their tortures being almost without remission. The joints and muscles of such unfortunate are in most cases shockingly contorted and drawn out of shape. To such there is a temporary relief, but the ordinary remedies often prove utterly useless. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, on the other hand, is vouchsafed by persons who have used it, to be a genuine source of relief. It keeps the blood clear by promoting a regular habit of body, and removes from it impurities which in the opinion of the most distinguished physicians, originating agonizing complaints and in certain malady, the gout. Besides this the Bitters remedies disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, prevents indigestion, restores and relieves fevers, promotes appetite and sleep, and are highly recommended by physicians as a desirable medicinal stimulant and tonic.

Red House Tract.

more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and wife to George E. Green, dated November 2, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, No. 2, page 273. The part of said tract lying between the Pennsylvania Railroad and canal as well as cut off from said tract by the township road leading from the canal to the railroad, as lately laid out, with the houses thereon erected, containing about one-half acre, is excepted.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that message, tenement or tract of land, lying in Brady township, between the old Lewisstown and Huntingdon turnpike roads, in the village of Mill Creek, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that message, tenement and lot of ground, situated in Brady township, lying between the old Lewisstown and Huntingdon turnpike roads, in the village of Mill Creek, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

By Wharton, Miller and Anderson, having three shares in the SHIP ENGINE HOUSE, situated in the village of Mill Creek, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10 perches, being that portion of the tract surveyed in name of George E. Green, lying upon the south-east side of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and more fully described in a deed from Joseph Green and A. E. Green and their wife to Joseph Sharr, dated March 25, 1878, and recorded in Record Book X, page 322.

Also, all that certain piece of land, in Brady township, containing 202 acres and 10