

W. L. FOULK, Agent of the Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia Press Association.

Don't Forget It. Those of our subscribers contemplating a change of residence this Spring should notify us of the fact so that we can mail the JOURNAL to their new home.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL. Brief Mention—Home-made and Stolen. Frogs are croaking. This is Good Friday.

The friends of George W. Saine, who was sent to the penitentiary for this county, for arson, made application for his release, before the Board of Parole, at their late meeting at Harrisburg, but that body refused to recommend his pardon.

On Sunday a week ago, an eight-year-old urchin, a son of Mr. Bailey, at Bailey's station, burned down his father's stable and smokehouse, but that body refused to recommend his pardon.

Col. Bob Allen has had a bow window put in front of his shop, and as soon as he can get ready he proposes to put in a new set of articles, perfume, etc., on sale. We think this a good idea, and see no reason why he should not drive a lively trade.

Col. W. W. Brown, formerly of Bellefonte, and known to many readers of the Journal, was one of the sufferers by the肺炎 fever which swept over Kansas a week or two since. He lost his stable, hay, hogs, etc., amounting in value to some three hundred dollars.

The Altoona Tribune says that there are reports in circulation in that city for signatures against the passage of the Local Option Law, and promises to endeavor to procure the names for publication in order that it may be known who are on the side of liberty.

Two little girls over in Johnstown, the other day, had a rope-jumping contest, and the probabilities are that one of them will die from over exertion. This should be a warning to the little Misses not to jump too high or too far. The safest plan is not to jump at all.

Our Jackson township friend, J. C. Cummings, esq., who has been confined to the house for several weeks by a sore foot, which he lashed with a broad-axe, was in town on Friday. He still has a limp in his locomotion, but in a little while "Richard will be himself again."

A new paper, called the Independent, has been started at Cove Station, on the line of the E. & B. T. R. R. The paper is a "patent" arrangement, about one-fourth the size of the Altoona's new paper, the Penn Taz, will make its debut on the first proximo.

Postmaster Lingafelt, of Hollidaysburg, is dangerously ill with bilious fever. We have some handsomely printed blank deeds for sale at the JOURNAL Store.

Old Winter is very impatient, else he would not linger so tenaciously in the lap of Spring. "The demon of the nursery" is reported in West Huntington. Be careful of the little ones.

Our friend Barton Green has opened a first-class store on the corner of Fourth and Penn streets.

The raftmen are homeward bound after their trip down the river. They are a jolly set of fellows. Smoke the "Electric," manufactured expressly for the JOURNAL Store, where it can only be had.

It "rains" snow the greater part of Thursday last week, and the accession to his household pets of a new baby of the female persuasion. Brother Fry, of the Newport News, has abandoned the "patent under" plan of printing his paper, and bids it "farewell forever."

What a screamer! It is a tribute often paid to a crying baby, but Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup by all means the best of the little ones soon stops the crying.

Bob Westbrook is changing the interior of his saloon with the view of starting an auction store this spring. This will be something new in Huntington.

A valuable cow, the property of Mr. David Decker, of West Huntington, dropped dead, on Sunday afternoon, while grazing in the suburbs of that town.

Book racks, straps, superior black writing ink, books of all kinds, and a full line of school stationery for sale at the JOURNAL Store, as cheap as the cheapest.

We understand that Eynart Brothers, of Saxton, Bedford county, have found a vein of iron ore, yielding 80 per cent., on their farm, near the town of Saxton.

The Union temperance prayer meetings recently inaugurated in this place are largely attended and much interest is manifested by the friends of the cause.

An effort is being made to stock the Potomac river with pike, and for this purpose a large number have been caught in Bedford county, and shipped to Cumberland.

There is no necessity for any person running to the city to have their printing done. We can do as good work, and at as low figures as city offices can.

J. B. Wakefield, esq., formerly of Alleenville, are pleased to announce, in now a citizen of our town, having taken up his residence in our midst this Spring.

On Friday morning last the ground was frozen to the depth of two inches, and so hard that farmers were compelled to abandon plowing. Pretty cold for the 4th of April.

The wife of Rev. A. W. Decker died at Birmingham, on Saturday last, after a long and painful illness. Mr. Decker has a large family of a large circle of friends in his bereavement.

"The Electric" is a cigar manufactured expressly for the JOURNAL trade, is the best in the market, and the fibers of the weed are found in its prairie. Everybody smokes it, and they love it.

Our old friend, A. B. Flood, has again become a citizen of our town, and is fitting up a bake-house, preparatory to opening a first-class bakery. He is a clever fellow and we wish him success.

A tramp, who gave his name as Christian Wagh, was struck by an engine and thrown some twenty feet over an embankment, in the vicinity of East Conemaugh, on Friday last. He will recover.

The second session of Fast Lane, on Thursday evening was composed of eleven coaches. An additional coach was added and it hitched to it at this place, where it left the depot half an hour behind time.

Mr. Clark Craig, of Newlin Hamilton, the gentleman who owned the steam canal boat seen in our wharf frequently every season, died at his residence, in that town, on the 26th ult., aged 61 years.

An establishment for the manufacture of W. W. Gary's magnetic machines will be started in this place in the near future. A company has been formed, and work is under way, and everything is working smoothly.

Brothers Bonnell & Jackman, of the Millin town Register, have purchased a handsome brick office in that town, from which they will issue their paper. We are pleased to chronicle this evidence of their success.

height of about ten feet the old gentleman fell to the ground, and in doing so one of his fingers was broken until the bones protruded through the flesh, his head cut, one of his eyes nearly blind, and his body bruised or lacerated in several places. The board work was carried a distance of fifty or sixty feet by the force of the wind.

A SCHOOLBOY'S SAD FATE—One of Four Runaway Soldiers Orphaned Killed at Birmingham—The Other Three in This City.

NOTES FROM SPRINGFIELD.

Quite a number of our farmers are at work on their lime kilns. Some have already burned and others will soon be ready to fire.

A number of our citizens have taken up their beds and bedding and taken their departure for the West. Some have already burned and others will soon be ready to fire.

The public schools have all closed, and the knights of the birch have sought other employment. The school term was a success, and the children do not like to be "schooled." Springfield has not received her share of the State appropriation yet.

A very interesting meeting has been held at Mt. Carmel, under the supervision of Rev. John Croft, of the U. B. church. Thirty-nine persons were present, and the meeting was a success.

Considerable sickness has prevailed in this neighborhood during the past winter, some eight or nine persons having died in this township. The cause of the sickness is not known, but it is believed to be a form of typhoid fever.

Wanted—Forty young men—at Mt. Carmel, (near the less preferred) to stand guard over the State prison, during the coming season. None but those who carry a quid of tobacco in their cheek and wear their hats on their heads will be considered.

Yesterday at noon Mr. Shade Shore, residing on the farm of Porter Wilson, near Meadow Gap, discovered his house to be on fire, and before much assistance could reach him it burned to the ground with a considerable portion of its contents. The fire was communicated from the stove pipe passing directly through the roof. This makes the third building burned on these premises. Mr. Shore is now in the hospital, and can ill afford the loss he has sustained.

McCONESTOWN ITEMS. We have been informed that Mr. John Heffer has contracted to furnish flour for the Huntington Normal during the coming school term. John is a clever fellow, and will give entire satisfaction to all parties concerned.

On last Friday Mr. David Bailey commenced to move his household furniture, etc., from his old home, and is now in the process of unpacking. Mr. Bailey has purchased the property vacated by Mr. Bailey, and Cunningham Martin will occupy said house.

It may not be out of place to give to the numerous readers of the JOURNAL a brief description of our growing little town. McConestown is a thriving village of nearly five hundred people, and is situated on the Pennsylvania and Ohio Rivers. It is a growing town, and is becoming more and more important.

ABORIGINAL HISTORY.—On our first page this week will be found the first of a series of articles on the aboriginal history of this section. The articles will be of interest to all who are interested in the history of this region.
