party of Chester county has been true to her allegiance to that party elsewhere and to the principles which underlie her great organization.

Personally I accept the nomination in the spirit in which it has been tendered, whatever may be the onerous duties and responsibilities of such a commission. I accept it, however inexperienced I may be for such a trust, in hopes that I may be able to do something to further the principles of a party which has sustained and upheld the true interests of this Government for the last fifteen or twenty years. [Great applause.]

There was a time, not many years ago, where many indulged in the hope that the minimum of the proposition adopted a Constitution.

On motion of Bro. Baker, it was decided to hold our meetings tri-annually instead of quarterly, and meet in January, May and September. On amendment of Bro. Stockton, the third Wednesday of cach of these months was decided upon as the definite time. Altoona was fixed as the place of next meeting.

Officers for next session were elected as follows: W. S., W. R. Baker; W. C., E. C. Steckton; P. W. C. T., A. A. Stevens; W. V. T., Mrs. Mattern; W. S., W. R. Baker; W. T., A. A. Graham. Appointed officers, David Sissler, W. M., and Marie Moore, W. D. M.

Executive Committee appointed: Bro. Stevens, Tyrone, and Bro. Pillsbury and Sister Patton, of Altoona.

when many indulged in the hope that the mission of the Republican party might at no distant day be ended. But our hopes and expectations have been blasted. Men may pass resolutions and adopt platforms for parties, and declare to the American people that such and such are the issues at this time; but unless they really are, declarations are in vain.

The canvass before us is not for the purpose of making a particular man State surer of Pennsylvania. It has a broader and deeper significance than this. It is nothing less than to guarantee to the people of this country the fruits of a hard-won victory. [Applause.] You may at-tempt the passage of resolutions to draw the attention of men from the mercy of this Government, from the unheard of leniency of those who saved the nation, and from the magnanimous desire of our people to forget the past four long years of bloody conflict, when it was over; but I tell you, gentlemen, that the salvation of our country is the issue before us [ap-plause]; we have seen within the last three or four months that the men who laid down their arms during the rebellion have not abandoned the hope of getting control of the Government, and are striving to accomplish by diplomacy what they failed to gain by the sword. [Applause.] Fellow-citizens, the mission of the Republican party is not ended until all the fruits of sixteen are gettinged. of victory are gathered-until all the rights of every citizen are secured from Maine to the Rio Grande [applause]; until every dollar of debt incurred in putting down that iniquitous rebellion is paid, and every dollar of every promise to pay is made convertible into coin. [Applause.] Gentlemen, again I thank you for this Truth is Mighty.

As the little leaven hid in the measure of meal, made all leaven, so truth gradually overcome all doubt and disbelief. When Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., announced that his Favorite Prescription would positively cure the many diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women, some doubted, and continued to employ the harsh and caustic local treatment. But the mighty truth gradually became ac-knowledged. Thousands of ladies who had uselessly undergone untold tortures at the hands of different physicians, employed the Favorite Prescription, and were speedily cured. Many physians now prescribe it in their prestice. So sanguing is Dr. it in their practice. So sanguine is Dr. Pierce of its power to cure, that he now sells it through druggists under a positive TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—The Juniats District Convention I. O. G. T. met in the room of Standing Stone Lodge, No. 85, Huntingdon, Pa., July 15, at 10 o'clock, a. m., and continued in session till Wednesday evening the 16th. Bro. J. S. McMurray, of Clearfield, was the presiding officer. Officers were appointed to fill the other respective stations. Committees on Resolutions and Credentials were appointed, and a question box established. The committee on credentials reported a goodly number of representatives from other lodges. Bro. A. A. Stevens, of Tyrone, was called upon for a speech, to which he replied with a neat address suited to the occasion. Sister Rynder, also to a similar request, made a brief address in which she touched upon points of vital interest, and gave the convention food for mature thought. Sister Mattern also responded with an able, well-timed address, which did credit to herself and the sex. Remarks were also made by Bros. Graham and Dieffenbaugh.

Bro. W. R. Baker, of Orbisonia Lodge, was appointed press reporter for the cocasion.

Afternoon Session.—After the devotional exercises, the address of welcome was delivered by Bro. E. C. Stockton. His words were not only appropriate and warm as a social welcome, but full of practical meaning. The response by Bro. McMurray was also well timed and appropriate. It advanced temperance principles and heartily concurred in the spirit of the work.

Reports from the various lodges were then heard, which, all put together, rendered a very encouraging account of the Order and its workings in this district. After recess the following discussion was opened by Bro. Stevens: Advantage of our Order in advancing the Temperance Cause. The Order goes out to gather in the young and save them while moral impressions may be made on their tender minds. The object is charitable—calculated to lift up mankind and save them from drunkenness.

Bro. McMurray spoke of the powerful influence the sociaty of the lodge room has upon the dissipance. TEMPERANCE CONVENTION .- The Ju-made on their tender minds. The object is charitable—calculated to lift up mankind and save them from drunkenness.

Bro. McMurray spoke of the powerful influence the society of the lodge room has upon the dissipated. Here he is called "brother;" he finds that he has friends here; that he has the sympathy of all present; that they are interested in his welfare, and by their cheer and encouragement he is hanyed up and enabled to overcome his morbid appetite for strong drink.

"Advances made by the Temperance Cause, and its future prespects." Bro. Baker, by request, opened the discussion of this topic. Not very many years ago whiskey was used by all farmers through harvest, on butchering day, and other certain occasions, and when candidates for the legislature would not dare to own the cause. But now its use is entirely abandoned by all except the lower classes, and we have almost a majority in the legislative halls. Every phase of the case displays gratifying and glorious prospects.

Dr. Fries, by request, spoke. There is no argument so strong as facts. To follow up the advances of the Order we want facts—statistics, and the Order engalt to establish a system of obtaining statistical facts. Each lodge should report for its own district, and the whole should then be combined into a general report.

Bro. Stockton spoke forcibly on the question, citing indisputable evidences of telling advances in the cause.

Bro. Stockton spoke foraibly on the question, citing indisputable evidences of telling advances in the cause.

Bro. McMurray said that in Clearfield, the custom indulged in only three years ago, of treating to wine in the social circles, by the ladies, is not practised there now.

Bro. Stevens. There is not a church in the country that is not in sympathy with the movement, and they are one by one dispensing with the use of spiritous wine at the sacramental board.

Discussion: "Is it for the best interests of the cause to prosecute violators of the liquor law?" opened by Bro. A. A. Graham, of Clearfield. "It think all violators of the law ought to be punished, and temperance men are not doing their duty who permit men to violate the law without prosecuting them. Each lodge should have a vigilance committee to report violators and see that they are brought to justice."

Bro. Stevens. "My motto is moral suasion for the liquor drinker, and legal suasion for the liquor drinker is drinker. You may as well try to put out fire by throwing coal oil upon it as to try to persuade a liquor seller to quit his traffic, but whenever you touch his pocket book you touch his heart. After being prosecuted and sentenced he will begin to consider whether he can afford to rell your son a drink at a cost to himself of $200 and imprisonment.

ciation of my friendship by not detaining you.

I accept the nomination, not out of any compliment to myself, not as a reward for anything I may have done in aid of the cause of the great Republican party of Pennsylvania, but as a compliment to one of the most earnest and steadfast Republican counties of our Commonwealth.

[Great applause.]

On the principal that sarcasm and abuse are not argument, the speaker started on a basis of plain reasoning.

The liquor seller has the apology that his business is sanctioned and protected by law. They are men of "good moral character,"—"reputable citizens," as vouched for by their twelve petitioners, and they do not compel men to drink of their poisonous stuff. The traffic yields the government $200 to prosecute its criminals). It furnishes employment to a vast number of men—laborers at the still, bar-tenders, constables, policemen, justices, sheriffs, judges and juries; to stop the traffic would throw an army of men out of employ.

The speaker thus presented the apology of the liquor seller, leaving his hearers to draw their own conclusions, which could be no other than those

The questions deposited in the question box were taken up and answered.

Exemplifications of the unwritten work was given by the present W. C. T., followed after adjournment by an exercise on the degree work.

Wednesday Afternoon.—After devotional exercises, Bro. McMurray addressed the convention on "The Lodge in its Social Aspect." The speaker demonstrated the power of social influence and made good suggestions as to how to apply this power in the lodge as an auxiliary to success.

"The ministers and the church in relation to the temperance cause." Bro. Stockton—"I believe the temperance cause to be one of the cardinal virtues of the Gospel of Christ, and it is the duty of every minister to preach against intemperance as well as everything that creates immortality and wickedness."

Bro. Baker concurred and said ministers ought to be leaders in the temperance cause.

"The evils of the license law" was discussed by Bros. Graham and Simpson, and Dr. Fries.
Question: "Is the question of temperance in relation to the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating liquor political?" Bro. Simpson answered that it is a politicalthough not a partisan question.

The following resolutions were adonted:

swered that it is a political though not a partisan question.

The following resolutions were adopted:
WHEREAS, Intemperance is an evil most terrible in its character, causing devastation and ruin to follow in its wake, peopling our prisons, jails and almshouses, destroying both body and soul for time and eternity, therefore,

Resolved, 1, That we deem it advisable to inculcate any measures that shall not stop short of prohibition.

2. That the responsibility for the crime and pauperism which abounds lies at the door of our Government because of the unrighteous laws which are found on our statutes.

anyerism which abounds lies at the door of our Government because of the unrighteous laws which are found on our statutes.

3. That it behooves and becomes us as true Good Templars to use every proper means in our power to have our cause properly represented in the halls of the legislature, so that wholesome laws may be enacted that will remove temptation from the path of the weak.

4. That it is the duty of each lodge to see that the local officers attend to their duties faithfully in reference to the violation of the liquor law.

5. That we urge upon the members of the Order and friends of temperance generally, the importance of sustaining Temperance literature by circulating tracts, newspapers, etc.

6. That we recognize in the Star of Hope, published in Williamsport, Pa., a temperance newspaper, worthy of the support and encouragement of the friends of temperance, and urge upon them the importance of extending its circulation.

7. That this convention deem it advisable for each Lodge of Good Templars to appoint a vigilance committee, so as to provide information for the proper officers, of the violation of the existing laws relating to the liquor traffic.

Evening Session.—The evening session was opened with Scripture lesson and prayer by Rev. Mr. Hinkle. J. R. Simpson, said.

It may be well te devote this evening to words of encouragement. We are prone to think that because all Huntingdon is not up in arms for the good cause, and because all our meetings are not overflowing that therefore the cause languishes, and is not progressing. Permit me to call your attention for a few minutes to the advancement being made throughout the country. And first we will hear from our opponents, the brewers, who in their call for the St. Louis convention pleaded with their people that the ministers and temperance people are carrying the country with them, and are manipulating the Legislature, and if something is not done, their traffic will be overthrown, and insisting that they must come to the convention.

The speaker th

The speaker then read accounts of the encouraging condition of the cause in Nebraska, Oregon, and Canada, where county after county have carried prohibitory laws by large majorities in Prince and canada, where county after county have carried prohibitory laws by large majorities in Prince Edwards Island, where the voe resulted 1076 for temperance law, and 59 against. He referred to Maine where they have had Prohibition for 28 years—no saloons, no drunkards, and the hard times have scarcely affected them. He referred to the fact that 42 out of 66 counties of Pennsylvania, voted for temperance in 1873, and lastly, but perhaps most important, the recent temperance resolution in the Congress of the Najion, where temperance carried by a vote of 138 to 99. The speaker then referred to the capture of Stony Point a hundred years ago, by the brave patriots led by Mad Anthony Wayne, describing the brilliant assault and mentioned that the watchword of the night as the patriot band charged though the darkness was "The fort's our own!" This should be the watchward of the temperance army now, "The fort's our own," this State's our own! We won it in 1873 by an honest vote. "This should be the watchward of the temperance army now, "The fort's our own," this State's our own! We won it in 1873 by an honest vote. "This land's our own!" from Maine to the Pacific, from North to South. The Congress of the Nation—the branch of the Government coming direct from the people—has voted in favor of temperance. There is great cause for encouragement, the advancement made in fifty years is wonderful. Why thirty years ago a man was hooted at and insulted if he dared advocate temperance, to-day a large majority of the people are in favor of it and the will of the people will not long be held back by political tricksters.

Rev. Dr. J. S. McMurray, upon being introduced, addressed the meeting in an able argument for temperance principles in the Bible. There are two kinds of wine referred to in the Scripture—true wine and spirituous wine. The use of spirituous wine is forbidden and unlawful. Temperance is the moderate use of lawful things, and total abstinence from unlawful things—nothing short of prohibition.

W. R. Baker was next in

W. R. Baker was next introduced. The license W. R. Baker was next introduced. The license law itself is a powerful evidence of the evil of liquor selling and the necessity for its restraint. Yet this law is unjust. It gives the minority 12 the power to rule almost any majority, and is therefore directly in opposition to the spirit of republican doctrine. The Order of Good Templars does not expect to reform the world by pledges, although it is instrumental in saving many souls in this way. Its aim is—the only true remedy—Prohibition. These meetings are to agitate the question, gain public sentiment, and finally effective legislation. We invite and drge persons to join with us in our efforts. Join the Order—implicate themselves in the work and use all their powers to banish the curse. If all who are in sentiment in favor of temperance, would unite with us it would make an irresistible army that would in one year's time sweep the liquor traffic would in one year's time sweep the liquor traffic from our land.

The exercises throughout were interspersed with of the Standing Stone Lodge.

The attendance was not as large as was desired.
The extreme heat of the weather will doubtless account forthis to a great extent. The members were sensible of the mistake made in calling a convention of the extreme and herefore its convention at such a season, and hereafter meetings will be in the months of January, May JOHN E. HARDER, Sec'y.
