John K. Carmon, esq., who has spent several months in Golorado, Texas and New Mexico, traveling for the benefit of his health, returned home on Christmas eve, showing considerable improvement, he having gained some twenty pounds in weight during his tour. He is favorably impressed with New Mexico, but does not speak in flattering terms of the former States. If there be no Provible dential interference our young friend expects

Mr. John A. Nash reported to Mr. King, that he could not give the name of the author of the strength of the very line and sentence of this extra ordinary production. But by what authority do these stockholders act? Certainly not by that of the Church, for in the proceedings of the last Conference I find the following Preamble and Resolution which were adopted by a very decided major-

WHEREAS, We believe it is the Christian sentiment of our people that the Camp Meeting Associa-tions within our bounds should not afford occasion or the assembling of unwieldy crowds on the oly Sabbath, thus desecrating the same, and thereby bringing reproach upon the Church; therefore, Resolved, That we request said Associations to close their grounds on the Lord's day.

From this it would seem that the stock-olders have been proceeding on their own responsibility, without any regard to the expressed wish of the Conference. Does the dog wag the tail or the tail wag the dog? Who is the responsible party? Who is going to proceed against those guilty parties and have them punished? Where does the authority exist to conduct this investigation, and why not proceed with it? Surely no one has placed any obstruction in your way. What do you propose to do with them? Will you have free from all impure ingredients that render those car loads of drunken rowdies arrested and punished for bad conduct when beyord your jurisdiction? If so, why not get about it at once? The fact is no one has ever attempted to investigate it; no one wishes or wants to, this silly twaddle and senseless bombast to

This is a tacit admission that great throngs in this age of railroads-cannot be brought together and managed on the Lord's day with out generating more evil than good, especially since churches are so numerous, and religious rvices so convenient to all.

The strange thing is, that this Camp Meet ing Association, bearing the name of "Methodist," should dare to defy the instructions of the Annual Conference.

It is a marked illustration of the position taken by the Rev. S. C. Swallow, in his pamphlet on Camp Meetings from which I

"Many of these organizations are amena-ble to no department of the church, whose banner they set up, and by means of whose ugle-call they entice the people to their pa tronage. They can, with equal facility, defe the legislative, judicial and executive departments of our economy. The enactments of Quarterly, Annual and General Conferences may by them be regarded with indifference or contempt. The respectful request of Bishops, Presiding Elders, Pastors and Church officers, (even though tenting on their grounds), may be tossed in air as carelessly as does the ath lete his club, or the acrobat his sand bag." Now is it not brazen effrontery for these Camp Meeting Managers, most of whom are Methodists, but some of whom are members of no church-and hence have little or no in erest in the advancement of Christ's Kingdom-to persistently refuse to comply with the reasonable request of the Annual Confer-Had this been done, as by all other Asso iations in the Conference, the strictures of "Civis" and "Spectator," with the consequent answers of Mr. Mitchell, "Veritas" and "J. V. C. M. A," would have been

The Old Year.

Stay yet, my friends, a moment stay; Stay till the good old year, to long companion of our way, Shakes hands and leaves us here.

One little hour and then away. Days brightly came and calmly went, While yet he was our guest! How cheerfully the week was spent! How sweet the seventh day's rest!

One golden hour and then away. Even while we sing he smiles his last, And leaves our sphere behind, The good old year is with the past;

Oh be the new as kind! One parting strain and then away.
