Small Horses.

Perhaps it would be better expressed and more to the point to say heavier horses are the need of the times. Trotting horses, pacers, runners, or any other gait, are all right in their places, but the majority of horses are for labor and not for show; they are on duty as producers, and are valuable in proportion as they can do work; they are the motive power on the farm, the highway, and the large towns and cities—as indispensable as bread and butter. Prices of large horses of all breeds that are compactly built and con structed on good rules of proportion, rule high and pay well for the handling. "Plugs" and scrub stock are cheap, and will be even less in price than heretofore, as all who employ teams are fast learning that a heavy, strong team costs no more to and can do much more service

A farmer should have, anyway, one heavy, strong team. He may own a small light span, but for plowing and general use the heavy team, that seldom is urged be yond a fast walk on the road, and will take a fourteen or sixteen inch plow and go all day without evidence of weariness, is the one to depend on. The markets is full of semi fast stock, they do not command a staple price, but depend wholly on circum stances for the margin of profit if any that they yield. Pure-blooded Norman or Clydesdales may not be the best in their exclusive nature, but by crossing them with good native Western stock can be and exclaimed, "Why, is that all?" produced a superior grade of horses that will command good prices and be in demand at all times. Farmers should not be indifferent to this fact, and when they Christian." propose to raise a colt, select from that stock which will insure a heavy horse; it may cost more in the beginning but will bring larger returns in the end. Good horses, good cattle, good sheep and hogs, are a good deal the cheapest.

Farm Accounts.

When a farmer at the end of the year, settles his store account, pays his smith bill, with that of his teacher, doctor and preacher-which tax is generally in the rear-and if anything is left from the amount realized by the sale of his produce thousand salvations at hazard." That "in that amount is called the profit; but if it falls short, then he has made nothing. no I will not cast out; and in whatever for the bills have no connection with the of remorse, or out of whatever depth of cost of planting, except the smith bills. How to be a Christian. BY REV. WAYLAND HOYT

It was during a revival. I was waiting by a man to help him if I might. Said he, "I know I am a sinner. I feel the burden of my sin. I want to be a Christian, but I don't know how to be. I am like a man feeling around the dark. I don't know where to step." Said I, "Do you believe that the Lord Jesus tells you the truth, and will never

"Certainly I do," he answered, "I aven't the slightest doubt about that." "You are absolutely sure," I asked, that the Lord Jesus cannot lie?" "Absolutely sure," he said.

"Well, now," I replied, "since you are so ertain that Christ never can deceive you, why won't you take him exactly at his word? He tells you this word, "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out." Now coming is the yielding up keep than a light, poor one, but even less, of your sin, forsaking it, consecrating your soul to him. Don't you suppose that if you do your part of it, it is perfectly certain that Christ will do his part-receive you-never cast you out ?"

"I think it must be so," he answered. "Well, now," I asked again, as far as you know yourself, do you thus come?" He waited a minute, and then said solemnly, "As far as I know myself, I do." "Can you not, then," I answered, just believe that promise; let your faith fasten

Can we not all do thus and be saved? Tell me if I dare lay the weight of my salvation upon it, 'Him that cometh unto I will in no wise cast out." It is hard for a young mother, who has not yet overcome the wayward tendencies of her own youthful nature, to realize the influences she exerts over her little ones.
