

The Huntington Journal

FRIDAY, MARCH 5, 1880

READING MATTER ON EVERY PAGE

W. L. FOULK

Agent of the Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia Press Association.

Is the only paper in Huntington authorized to receive advertisements for the JOURNAL. He has no other business.

SALE REGISTER—Bills for the following public sales have been printed at the Journal office during the coming week, and wishing hand-bills printed, should give the Journal a call, as we are prepared to have exacted to do so. Sales at 10 o'clock.

Friday, March 6—Henderson—J. P. Harshbarger, cabinet maker, will dispose of a lot of new and second hand furniture, together with household goods. Sale at 10 o'clock.

Saturday, March 6—Henderson—M. L. Logan, at 1 o'clock, will sell 2 good mares, 2 cows, 2 calves, 1 thoroughbred Berkshire pig, 1 brood sow, and a lot of farming implements and household goods.

Wednesday, March 4—Jackson—L. Frank, in Drake, Ex. of the estate of Mary M. Hofer, dec'd., will sell a tract of land containing 100 acres, having thereon a two-story brick and frame house, log barn and other outbuildings. Sale to begin at 1 o'clock.

Saturday, March 13—Henderson at 10 o'clock, Mrs. Anne Ritter will sell 2 horses, 1 colt, 2 cows, 4 yearlings, and a general variety of farming tools.

Monday, March 15—Jackson—Charles T. Cummings, Ex. of the estate of John Cummings, dec'd., will sell 3 cows, 18 hogs, 6 cattle, 8 yearling calves and a lot of farming implements. Sale at 10 o'clock.

Wednesday, March 17th and 19th—Jackson—J. P. Harshbarger, executor of Robert Barr, deceased, will sell personal and real estate property. See advertisement in another column.

Thursday, March 18—Porter—Isaac D. Rice will sell at his residence, at 10 o'clock, 3 horses, 3 cows, 6 ewes, a lot of young cattle, and a lot of farming implements.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Brief Mention—Home-made and Stolen.

Eggs are plenty.

Farmers are plowing.

The frogs are piping.

Blue birds and robins.

Conference next week.

Yesterday's rain made mud.

The ice crop has been short.

This is the Marching season.

The year is coming on Thursday.

Pork has "taken a rise" in price.

This is the first month of Spring.

"Knuckle down," marbles to the fore.

The "age of fishes" is the mania now.

Some of the doggy shops have closed.

The Town Council meets to-night.

They say the blue birds have come to stay.

Mark opened his book account last Monday.

Apples are retailing at 75 cents per bushel.

Marbles is the urchin's harbinger of Spring.

Monk Union had a spelling bee Saturday night.

The orange trade hereabouts is opening briskly.

Interesting local matter on our first page this week.

The Altoona Relief Fund will hardly reach $1,200.00.

A project is on foot to enlarge the boundaries of Everett.

Several new boarders were registered, at Hotel de Irvin, last week.

February "stepped down and out" with wind and sunshine.

A comet is coming; the superstitious will tell you what it means.

The foundation stones of the new paper mill in Tyrone are being laid.

Are you making preparations to meet your first of April visitors?

Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D., spent Friday afternoon last in our town.

A general advance of wages is gradually being made to workmen.

Thunder and lightning and a fine shower of rain early this morning.

McVeety has two brass bands, and a drum and bugle corps.

Potatoes command 45 cents per bushel, with an upward tendency in price.

Several citizens of Jackson township will leave for the west next week.

Four weeks to-day, (Thursday) our town will present a moving spectacle.

The railroad shops at Altoona are building passenger cars on the Eastlake pattern.

March neither came in like a lion or lamb; it was a kind of a go-between "come in."

The Spring sales are in full bloom, and the view of the auctioneers is heard in the land.

The Altoona Call, to be like all first-class papers, has a steam engine to run its press.

Batter is becoming plentier; the Broad Top region furnishing the major portion of it.

Tyrone Borough Ordinances are printed in book form, and hawked out at ten cents per copy.

Get your "sinner krait" out from their hiding place, St. Patrick's Day is drawing ap.

A handsome assortment of elegant and cheap book paper just opening at the JOURNAL Store.

It looks lonesome about the Methodist church at night, since the meetings have been suspended.

Parties are negotiating for some land in Tyrone with the view of establishing tube works.

After the lecture room has been dedicated, our Baptist friends will begin a revival of religion.

Mrs. Samuel Neal has planted a handsome garden at his new place of business on Washington street.

Job Westbrook had an exciting fox chase one day last week, but Reynard succeeded in eluding capture.

Judge Mayer, of the Clinton district, held Argument Court in Hollidaysburg for Judge Dean last week.

They are closing up financial accounts with the Methodist parsons in this conference district, this week.

McVeety folks are booming over the prospects for the erection of iron works in or near their village.

The roof of the wooden awning in front of Friedley's meat market received a coat of red paint the other day.

Mr. John Reid, of this place, has improved his property in Braly township, having erected several new buildings.

The Altoona Relief Fund for Ireland will be forwarded to its destination through Bishop Tuigg, of this Catholic Diocese.

The largest stock of the best and cheapest pocket cutlery ever brought to Huntington is to be found at the JOURNAL Store.

We are sorry to learn that our old friend John Griffith, ex. of the town, has been seriously ill for several weeks past.

The Hollidaysburg lower mill factory, which has been standing idle for last seven years, will be started in operation soon.

Our good looking townman, Jas. C. Smiley, Esq., executing a carpenter shop on the north-west corner of Fifth and Millin streets.

Mrs. Savage, sister of Mr. James Higgins, of our town, died at the ripe old age of 84, near Wilmington, Del., on Monday.

J. L. Robinson, esq., of M. D. Union, died on the afternoon of Thursday last, of neuralgia of the stomach, aged about 65 years.

An absent meeting of the United Brethren Conference at Greensburg, Rev. A. E. Zeek received the Oriskany appointment.

The Pennsylvania Central Conference meets in Altoona on the 10th inst., and already Methodist ministers are on the wing.

As yellow has become a fashionable color, we suppose the "faller dreg" will have some peace of mind as account of his color.

Some of the school boys played tennis on the lawn during the rainy days of last week. Marbles outnumbered their playmates.

They say rents have gone up 15 and 20 per cent. in Tyrone, on account of the paper mill boom. "Some people get crazy very easily."

The weather says we will get the kind of weather this month that we ought to have had in January and February. We shall see.

The lecture room of the new Baptist church will be dedicated next Sunday morning, to which place the general public is cordially invited.

The episcopos, Saturday forenoon, held a convention on the Presbyterian church steeple, which was numerously attended by the tithe tithers.

Rev. D. W. Hunter, at one time pastor of the Methodist church, has a revival of religion in progress in Apprentice's Hall, Lewistown.

Teacups have been appointed postmaster at Ship Beaver, a new post office recently located in this county. What a name; we mean the post office.

The corner stonary had a good chance to show themselves and their worse manners at their several roosting places, during several days of last week.

Constable Westbrook has torn down the old shop that adjoined his residence on Washington street. A store room will be built on the same premises.

And now some of our people, on a fine day, walketh to the reservoir to glance at the many beautiful and old spring flows. They say they are noble!

A Millin county man has received letters patent for a sausage stuffer, which, he said, will put the "ground hog" in its proper place with lightning speed.

It is rumored that Michael Glass, a Cambria county man, who went to the frontier some time ago, was killed by the Indians, and his body buried to ashes, lately.

The Cambria county Alms house has a female inmate who has been through many a fire, started a blaze on his father's stable floor, when some of the young ladies of the county, who were visiting, were taken to the hospital.

In some of the wards of Johnstown the citizens have sent in remonstrances, numerously signed, against the granting of licenses in their respective boroughs.

The wife of A. Kinney Boor, formerly of this place, died in Harrisburg, on Wednesday last week. Her remains were interred in Fairview Cemetery, Altoona.

James V. Lee's sales on Wednesday and Sunday afternoon last were largely attended, and the "stuff" offered for sale brought a good price. So much for advertising.

The County Commissioners are interviewing the people of West township, and to-morrow will appear before the board of Logan township on the apportionment.

"Knuckle down," marbles to the fore.

The "age of fishes" is the mania now.

Some of the doggy shops have closed.

The Town Council meets to-night.

They say the blue birds have come to stay.

Mark opened his book account last Monday.

Apples are retailing at 75 cents per bushel.

Marbles is the urchin's harbinger of Spring.

Monk Union had a spelling bee Saturday night.

The orange trade hereabouts is opening briskly.

Interesting local matter on our first page this week.

The Altoona Relief Fund will hardly reach $1,200.00.

A project is on foot to enlarge the boundaries of Everett.

Several new boarders were registered, at Hotel de Irvin, last week.

February "stepped down and out" with wind and sunshine.

A comet is coming; the superstitious will tell you what it means.

The foundation stones of the new paper mill in Tyrone are being laid.

Are you making preparations to meet your first of April visitors?

Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D., spent Friday afternoon last in our town.

A general advance of wages is gradually being made to workmen.

Thunder and lightning and a fine shower of rain early this morning.

McVeety has two brass bands, and a drum and bugle corps.

Potatoes command 45 cents per bushel, with an upward tendency in price.

Several citizens of Jackson township will leave for the west next week.

Four weeks to-day, (Thursday) our town will present a moving spectacle.

The railroad shops at Altoona are building passenger cars on the Eastlake pattern.

March neither came in like a lion or lamb; it was a kind of a go-between "come in."

The Spring sales are in full bloom, and the view of the auctioneers is heard in the land.

The Altoona Call, to be like all first-class papers, has a steam engine to run its press.

Batter is becoming plentier; the Broad Top region furnishing the major portion of it.

Tyrone Borough Ordinances are printed in book form, and hawked out at ten cents per copy.

Get your "sinner krait" out from their hiding place, St. Patrick's Day is drawing ap.

A handsome assortment of elegant and cheap book paper just opening at the JOURNAL Store.

It looks lonesome about the Methodist church at night, since the meetings have been suspended.

Parties are negotiating for some land in Tyrone with the view of establishing tube works.

After the lecture room has been dedicated, our Baptist friends will begin a revival of religion.

Mrs. Samuel Neal has planted a handsome garden at his new place of business on Washington street.

Job Westbrook had an exciting fox chase one day last week, but Reynard succeeded in eluding capture.

Judge Mayer, of the Clinton district, held Argument Court in Hollidaysburg for Judge Dean last week.

They are closing up financial accounts with the Methodist parsons in this conference district, this week.

McVeety folks are booming over the prospects for the erection of iron works in or near their village.

The roof of the wooden awning in front of Friedley's meat market received a coat of red paint the other day.

Mr. John Reid, of this place, has improved his property in Braly township, having erected several new buildings.

The Altoona Relief Fund for Ireland will be forwarded to its destination through Bishop Tuigg, of this Catholic Diocese.

The largest stock of the best and cheapest pocket cutlery ever brought to Huntington is to be found at the JOURNAL Store.

We are sorry to learn that our old friend John Griffith, ex. of the town, has been seriously ill for several weeks past.

The Hollidaysburg lower mill factory, which has been standing idle for last seven years, will be started in operation soon.

Our good looking townman, Jas. C. Smiley, Esq., executing a carpenter shop on the north-west corner of Fifth and Millin streets.

Mrs. Savage, sister of Mr. James Higgins, of our town, died at the ripe old age of 84, near Wilmington, Del., on Monday.

J. L. Robinson, esq., of M. D. Union, died on the afternoon of Thursday last, of neuralgia of the stomach, aged about 65 years.

An absent meeting of the United Brethren Conference at Greensburg, Rev. A. E. Zeek received the Oriskany appointment.

The Pennsylvania Central Conference meets in Altoona on the 10th inst., and already Methodist ministers are on the wing.

As yellow has become a fashionable color, we suppose the "faller dreg" will have some peace of mind as account of his color.

Some of the school boys played tennis on the lawn during the rainy days of last week. Marbles outnumbered their playmates.

They say rents have gone up 15 and 20 per cent. in Tyrone, on account of the paper mill boom. "Some people get crazy very easily."

The weather says we will get the kind of weather this month that we ought to have had in January and February. We shall see.

The lecture room of the new Baptist church will be dedicated next Sunday morning, to which place the general public is cordially invited.

The episcopos, Saturday forenoon, held a convention on the Presbyterian church steeple, which was numerously attended by the tithe tithers.

Rev. D. W. Hunter, at one time pastor of the Methodist church, has a revival of religion in progress in Apprentice's Hall, Lewistown.

Teacups have been appointed postmaster at Ship Beaver, a new post office recently located in this county. What a name; we mean the post office.

The corner stonary had a good chance to show themselves and their worse manners at their several roosting places, during several days of last week.

Constable Westbrook has torn down the old shop that adjoined his residence on Washington street. A store room will be built on the same premises.

And now some of our people, on a fine day, walketh to the reservoir to glance at the many beautiful and old spring flows. They say they are noble!

A Millin county man has received letters patent for a sausage stuffer, which, he said, will put the "ground hog" in its proper place with lightning speed.

It is rumored that Michael Glass, a Cambria county man, who went to the frontier some time ago, was killed by the Indians, and his body buried to ashes, lately.

The Cambria county Alms house has a female inmate who has been through many a fire, started a blaze on his father's stable floor, when some of the young ladies of the county, who were visiting, were taken to the hospital.

In some of the wards of Johnstown the citizens have sent in remonstrances, numerously signed, against the granting of licenses in their respective boroughs.

The wife of A. Kinney Boor, formerly of this place, died in Harrisburg, on Wednesday last week. Her remains were interred in Fairview Cemetery, Altoona.

James V. Lee's sales on Wednesday and Sunday afternoon last were largely attended, and the "stuff" offered for sale brought a good price. So much for advertising.

The County Commissioners are interviewing the people of West township, and to-morrow will appear before the board of Logan township on the apportionment.

"Knuckle down," marbles to the fore.

The "age of fishes" is the mania now.

Some of the doggy shops have closed.

The Town Council meets to-night.

They say the blue birds have come to stay.

Mark opened his book account last Monday.

Apples are retailing at 75 cents per bushel.

Marbles is the urchin's harbinger of Spring.

Monk Union had a spelling bee Saturday night.

The orange trade hereabouts is opening briskly.

Interesting local matter on our first page this week.

The Altoona Relief Fund will hardly reach $1,200.00.

A project is on foot to enlarge the boundaries of Everett.

Several new boarders were registered, at Hotel de Irvin, last week.

February "stepped down and out" with wind and sunshine.

A comet is coming; the superstitious will tell you what it means.

The foundation stones of the new paper mill in Tyrone are being laid.

Are you making preparations to meet your first of April visitors?

Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D., spent Friday afternoon last in our town.

A general advance of wages is gradually being made to workmen.

Thunder and lightning and a fine shower of rain early this morning.

McVeety has two brass bands, and a drum and bugle corps.

Potatoes command 45 cents per bushel, with an upward tendency in price.

Several citizens of Jackson township will leave for the west next week.

Four weeks to-day, (Thursday) our town will present a moving spectacle.

The railroad shops at Altoona are building passenger cars on the Eastlake pattern.

March neither came in like a lion or lamb; it was a kind of a go-between "come in."

The Spring sales are in full bloom, and the view of the auctioneers is heard in the land.

The Altoona Call, to be like all first-class papers, has a steam engine to run its press.

Batter is becoming plentier; the Broad Top region furnishing the major portion of it.

Tyrone Borough Ordinances are printed in book form, and hawked out at ten cents per copy.

Get your "sinner krait" out from their hiding place, St. Patrick's Day is drawing ap.

A handsome assortment of elegant and cheap book paper just opening at the JOURNAL Store.

It looks lonesome about the Methodist church at night, since the meetings have been suspended.

Parties are negotiating for some land in Tyrone with the view of establishing tube works.

After the lecture room has been dedicated, our Baptist friends will begin a revival of religion.

Mrs. Samuel Neal has planted a handsome garden at his new place of business on Washington street.

Job Westbrook had an exciting fox chase one day last week, but Reynard succeeded in eluding capture.

Judge Mayer, of the Clinton district, held Argument Court in Hollidaysburg for Judge Dean last week.

They are closing up financial accounts with the Methodist parsons in this conference district, this week.

McVeety folks are booming over the prospects for the erection of iron works in or near their village.

The roof of the wooden awning in front of Friedley's meat market received a coat of red paint the other day.

Mr. John Reid, of this place, has improved his property in Braly township, having erected several new buildings.

The Altoona Relief Fund for Ireland will be forwarded to its destination through Bishop Tuigg, of this Catholic Diocese.

The largest stock of the best and cheapest pocket cutlery ever brought to Huntington is to be found at the JOURNAL Store.

We are sorry to learn that our old friend John Griffith, ex. of the town, has been seriously ill for several weeks past.

The Hollidaysburg lower mill factory, which has been standing idle for last seven years, will be started in operation soon.

Our good looking townman, Jas. C. Smiley, Esq., executing a carpenter shop on the north-west corner of Fifth and Millin streets.

Mrs. Savage, sister of Mr. James Higgins, of our town, died at the ripe old age of 84, near Wilmington, Del., on Monday.

J. L. Robinson, esq., of M. D. Union, died on the afternoon of Thursday last, of neuralgia of the stomach, aged about 65 years.

An absent meeting of the United Brethren Conference at Greensburg, Rev. A. E. Zeek received the Oriskany appointment.

The Pennsylvania Central Conference meets in Altoona on the 10th inst., and already Methodist ministers are on the wing.

As yellow has become a fashionable color, we suppose the "faller dreg" will have some peace of mind as account of his color.

Some of the school boys played tennis on the lawn during the rainy days of last week. Marbles outnumbered their playmates.

They say rents have gone up 15 and 20 per cent. in Tyrone, on account of the paper mill boom. "Some people get crazy very easily."

The weather says we will get the kind of weather this month that we ought to have had in January and February. We shall see.

The lecture room of the new Baptist church will be dedicated next Sunday morning, to which place the general public is cordially invited.

The episcopos, Saturday forenoon, held a convention on the Presbyterian church steeple, which was numerously attended by the tithe tithers.

Rev. D. W. Hunter, at one time pastor of the Methodist church, has a revival of religion in progress in Apprentice's Hall, Lewistown.

Teacups have been appointed postmaster at Ship Beaver, a new post office recently located in this county. What a name; we mean the post office.

The corner stonary had a good chance to show themselves and their worse manners at their several roosting places, during several days of last week.

Constable Westbrook has torn down the old shop that adjoined his residence on Washington street. A store room will be built on the same premises.

And now some of our people, on a fine day, walketh to the reservoir to glance at the many beautiful and old spring flows. They say they are noble!

A Millin county man has received letters patent for a sausage stuffer, which, he said, will put the "ground hog" in its proper place with lightning speed.

It is rumored that Michael Glass, a Cambria county man, who went to the frontier some time ago, was killed by the Indians, and his body buried to ashes, lately.

The Cambria county Alms house has a female inmate who has been through many a fire, started a blaze on his father's stable floor, when some of the young ladies of the county, who were visiting, were taken to the hospital.

In some of the wards of Johnstown the citizens have sent in remonstrances, numerously signed, against the granting of licenses in their respective boroughs.

The wife of A. Kinney Boor, formerly of this place, died in Harrisburg, on Wednesday last week. Her remains were interred in Fairview Cemetery, Altoona.

James V. Lee's sales on Wednesday and Sunday afternoon last were largely attended, and the "stuff" offered for sale brought a good price. So much for advertising.

The County Commissioners are interviewing the people of West township, and to-morrow will appear before the board of Logan township on the apportionment.

"Knuckle down," marbles to the fore.

The "age of fishes" is the mania now.

Some of the doggy shops have closed.

The Town Council meets to-night.

They say the blue birds have come to stay.

Mark opened his book account last Monday.

Apples are retailing at 75 cents per bushel.

Marbles is the urchin's harbinger of Spring.

Monk Union had a spelling bee Saturday night.

The orange trade hereabouts is opening briskly.

Interesting local matter on our first page this week.

The Altoona Relief Fund will hardly reach $1,200.00.

A project is on foot to enlarge the boundaries of Everett.

Several new boarders were registered, at Hotel de Irvin, last week.

February "stepped down and out" with wind and sunshine.

A comet is coming; the superstitious will tell you what it means.

The foundation stones of the new paper mill in Tyrone are being laid.

Are you making preparations to meet your first of April visitors?

Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D., spent Friday afternoon last in our town.

A general advance of wages is gradually being made to workmen.

Read Pat O'Brien's effusion to the "Sweet Singer of Little Blair," on our outside. He invites the kind of "some place up in Blair" will do for the effect of the "dreg" and put it right in the JOURNAL. Hurry up, or else, you are dead!

Susan B. Anthony told the Lewistowners, the other night, that "Woman was dead, but she was not buried yet. She was waiting for the day when she would be buried with her title, and had it—Woman was dead, but she was not buried yet."

Mrs. Geo. R. Ordway, for a week past, has been confined to her bed, on account of rheumatism, and upon inquiry we learned that the cause of this unusual good humor was the arrival of a boy baby at his parents' home. We have not even heard of the name of the child.

Just as we were going to press last week we had a friendly call from brother Dea, of the Altoona Tribune, whom we have not seen for a decade. Old Father Time deals pretty hard with the old folks as young as these among the public. He looks as young as ever.

The lady of John Young, Altoona, and some Pittsburgh saunders the other evening, were possessed, in a peculiar manner, by the spirit of the dance. The music was playing, and she was dancing. Another lady, who was present, was also dancing. The music was playing, and she was dancing.

The amount of coal shipped over the H. & E. R. R. for the week ending February 28, was 8,241, an increase of 3,255 tons over the shipment of the week before. The total amount shipped to date were 61,814 tons. Same time last year 42,823 tons, an increase of 18,117 tons.

Was it a tame one? Was the question propounded to a countryman last week, by a young man in this place. Was he hearing the young man in this place. Was he hearing the young man in this place. Was he hearing the young man in this place.

Constable Westbrook has torn down the old shop that adjoined his residence on Washington street. A store room will be built on the same premises.

And now some of our people, on a fine day, walketh to the reservoir to glance at the many beautiful and old spring flows. They say they are noble!

A Millin county man has received letters patent for a sausage stuffer, which, he said, will put the "ground hog" in its proper place with lightning speed.

It is rumored that Michael Glass, a Cambria county man, who went to the frontier some time ago, was killed by the Indians, and his body buried to ashes, lately.

The Cambria county Alms house has a female inmate who has been through many a fire, started a blaze on his father's stable floor, when some of the young ladies of the county, who were visiting, were taken to the hospital.

In some of the wards of Johnstown the citizens have sent in remonstrances, numerously signed, against the granting of licenses in their respective boroughs.

The wife of A. Kinney Boor, formerly of this place, died in Harrisburg, on Wednesday last week. Her remains were interred in Fairview Cemetery, Altoona.

James V. Lee's sales on Wednesday and Sunday afternoon last were largely attended, and the "stuff" offered for sale brought a good price. So much for advertising.

The County Commissioners are interviewing the people of West township, and to-morrow will appear before the board of Logan township on the apportionment.

"Knuckle down," marbles to the fore.

The "age of fishes" is the mania now.

Some of the doggy shops have closed.

The Town Council meets to-night.

They say the blue birds have come to stay.

Mark opened his book account last Monday.

Apples are retailing at 75 cents per bushel.

Marbles is the urchin's harbinger of Spring.

Monk Union had a spelling bee Saturday night.

The orange trade hereabouts is opening briskly.

Interesting local matter on our first page this week.

The Altoona Relief Fund will hardly reach $1,200.00.

A project is on foot to enlarge the boundaries of Everett.

Several new boarders were registered, at Hotel de Irvin, last week.

February "stepped down and out" with wind and sunshine.

A comet is coming; the superstitious will tell you what it means.

The foundation stones of the new paper mill in Tyrone are being laid.

Are you making preparations to meet your first of April visitors?

Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D., spent Friday afternoon last in our town.

A general advance of wages is gradually being made to workmen.

Thunder and lightning and a fine shower of rain early this morning.

McVeety has two brass bands, and a drum and bugle corps.

Potatoes command 45 cents per bushel, with an upward tendency in price.

Several citizens of Jackson township will leave for the west next week.

Four weeks to-day, (Thursday) our town will present a moving spectacle.

The railroad shops at Altoona are building passenger cars on the Eastlake pattern.

March neither came in like a lion or lamb; it was a kind of a go-between "come in."

The Spring sales are in full bloom, and the view of the auctioneers is heard in the land.

The Altoona Call, to be like all first-class papers, has a steam engine to run its press.

Batter is becoming plentier; the Broad Top region furnishing the major portion of it.

Tyrone Borough Ordinances are printed in book form, and hawked out at ten cents per copy.

Get your "sinner krait" out from their hiding place, St. Patrick's Day is drawing ap.

A handsome assortment of elegant and cheap book paper just opening at the JOURNAL Store.

It looks lonesome about the Methodist church at night, since the meetings have been suspended.

Parties are negotiating for some land in Tyrone with the view of establishing tube works.

After the lecture room has been dedicated, our Baptist friends will begin a revival of religion.

Mrs. Samuel Neal has planted a handsome garden at his new place of business on Washington street.

Job Westbrook had an exciting fox chase one day last week, but Reynard succeeded in eluding capture.

Judge Mayer, of the Clinton district, held Argument Court in Hollidaysburg for Judge Dean last week.

They are closing up financial accounts with the Methodist parsons in this conference district, this week.

McVeety folks are booming over the prospects for the erection of iron works in or near their village.

The roof of the wooden awning in front of Friedley's meat market received a coat of red paint the other day.

Mr. John Reid, of this place, has improved his property in Braly township, having erected several new buildings.

The Altoona Relief Fund for Ireland will be forwarded to its destination through Bishop Tuigg, of this Catholic Diocese.

The largest stock of the best and cheapest pocket cutlery ever brought to Huntington is to be found at the JOURNAL Store.

We are sorry to learn that our old friend John Griffith, ex. of the town, has been seriously ill for several weeks past.

The Hollidaysburg lower mill factory, which has been standing idle for last seven years, will be started in operation soon.

Our good looking townman, Jas. C. Smiley, Esq., executing a carpenter shop on the north-west corner of Fifth and Millin streets.

Mrs. Savage, sister of Mr. James Higgins, of our town, died at the ripe old age of 84, near Wilmington, Del., on Monday.

J. L. Robinson, esq., of M. D. Union, died on the afternoon of Thursday last, of neuralgia of the stomach, aged about 65 years.

An absent meeting of the United Brethren Conference at Greensburg, Rev. A. E. Zeek received the Oriskany appointment.

The Pennsylvania Central Conference meets in Altoona on the 10th inst., and already Methodist ministers are on the wing.

As yellow has become a fashionable color, we suppose the "faller dreg" will have some peace of mind as account of his color.

Some of the school boys played tennis on the lawn during the rainy days of last week. Marbles outnumbered their playmates.

They say rents have gone up 15 and 20 per cent. in Tyrone, on account of the paper mill boom. "Some people get crazy very easily."

The weather says we will get the kind of weather this month that we ought to have had in January and February. We shall see.

The lecture room of the new Baptist church will be dedicated next Sunday morning, to which place the general public is cordially invited.

The episcopos, Saturday forenoon, held a convention on the Presbyterian church steeple, which was numerously attended by the tithe tithers.

Rev. D. W. Hunter, at one time pastor of the Methodist church, has a revival of religion in progress in Apprentice's Hall, Lewistown.

Teacups have been appointed postmaster at Ship Beaver, a new post office recently located in this county. What a name; we mean the post office.

The corner stonary had a good chance to show themselves and their worse manners at their several roosting places, during several days of last week.

Constable Westbrook has torn down the old shop that adjoined his residence on Washington street. A store room will be built on the same premises.

And now some of our people, on a fine day, walketh to the reservoir to glance at the many beautiful and old spring flows. They say they are noble!

A Millin county man has received letters patent for a sausage stuffer, which, he said, will put the "ground hog" in its proper place with lightning speed.

It is rumored that Michael Glass, a Cambria county man, who went to the frontier some time ago, was killed by the Indians, and his body buried to ashes, lately.

The Cambria county Alms house has a female inmate who has been through many a fire, started a blaze on his father's stable floor, when some of the young ladies of the county, who were visiting, were taken to the hospital.

In some of the wards of Johnstown the citizens have sent in remonstrances, numerously signed, against the granting of licenses in their respective boroughs.

The wife of A. Kinney Boor, formerly of this place, died in Harrisburg, on Wednesday last week. Her remains were interred in Fairview Cemetery, Altoona.

James V. Lee's sales on Wednesday and Sunday afternoon last were largely attended, and the "stuff" offered for sale brought a good price. So much for advertising.

The County Commissioners are interviewing the people of West township, and to-morrow will appear before the board of Logan township on the apportionment.

"Knuckle down," marbles to the fore.

The "age of fishes" is the mania now.

Some of the doggy shops have closed.

The Town Council meets to-night.

They say the blue birds have come to stay.

Mark opened his book account last Monday.

Apples are retailing at 75 cents per bushel.

Marbles is the urchin's harbinger of Spring.

Monk Union had a spelling bee Saturday night.

The orange trade hereabouts is opening briskly.

Interesting local matter on our first page this week.

The Altoona Relief Fund will hardly reach $1,200.00.

A project is on foot to enlarge the boundaries of Everett.

Several new boarders were registered, at Hotel de Irvin, last week.

February "stepped down and out" with wind and sunshine.

A comet is coming; the superstitious will tell you what it means.

The foundation stones of the new paper mill in Tyrone are being laid.

Are you making preparations to meet your first of April visitors?

Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D., spent Friday afternoon last in our town.

A general advance of wages is gradually being made to workmen.

Thunder and lightning and a fine shower of rain early this morning.

McVeety has two brass bands, and a drum and bugle corps.

Potatoes command 45 cents per bushel, with an upward tendency in price.

Several citizens of Jackson township will leave for the west next week.

Four weeks to-day, (Thursday) our town will present a moving spectacle.

The railroad shops at Altoona are building passenger cars on the Eastlake pattern.

March neither came in like a lion or lamb; it was a kind of a go-between "come in."

The Spring sales are in full bloom, and the view of the auctioneers is heard in the land.

The Altoona Call, to be like all first-class papers, has a steam engine to run its press.

Batter is becoming plentier; the Broad Top region furnishing the major portion of it.

Tyrone Borough Ordinances are printed in book form, and hawked out at ten cents per copy.

Get your "sinner krait" out from their hiding place, St. Patrick's Day is drawing ap.

A handsome assortment of elegant and cheap book paper just opening at the JOURNAL Store.

It looks lonesome about the Methodist church at night, since the meetings have been suspended.

Parties are negotiating for some land in Tyrone with the view of establishing tube works.

After the lecture room has been dedicated, our Baptist friends will begin a revival of religion.

Mrs. Samuel Neal has planted a handsome garden at his new place of business on Washington street.

Job Westbrook had an exciting fox chase one day last week, but Reynard succeeded in eluding capture.

Judge Mayer, of the Clinton district, held Argument Court in Hollidaysburg for Judge Dean last week.

They are closing up financial accounts with the Methodist parsons in this conference district, this week.

McVeety folks are booming over the prospects for the erection of iron works in or near their village.

The roof of the wooden awning in front of Friedley's meat market received a coat of red paint the other day.

Mr. John Reid, of this place, has improved his property in Braly township, having erected several new buildings.

The Altoona Relief Fund for Ireland will be forwarded to its destination through Bishop Tuigg, of this Catholic Diocese.

The largest stock of the best and cheapest pocket cutlery ever brought to Huntington is to be found at the JOURNAL Store.

We are sorry to learn that our old friend John Griffith, ex. of the town, has been seriously ill for several weeks past.

The Hollidaysburg lower mill factory, which has been standing idle for last seven years, will be started in operation soon.

Our good looking townman, Jas. C. Smiley, Esq., executing a carpenter shop on the north-west corner of Fifth and Millin streets.

Mrs. Savage, sister of Mr. James Higgins, of our town, died at the ripe old age of 84, near Wilmington, Del., on Monday.

J. L. Robinson, esq., of M. D. Union, died on the afternoon of Thursday last, of neuralgia of the stomach, aged about 65 years.

An absent meeting of the United Brethren Conference at Greensburg, Rev. A. E. Zeek received the Oriskany appointment.

The Pennsylvania Central Conference meets in Altoona on the 10th inst., and already Methodist ministers are on the wing.

As yellow has become a fashionable color, we suppose the "faller dreg" will have some peace of mind as account of his color.

Some of the school boys played tennis on the lawn during the rainy days of last week. Marbles outnumbered their playmates.

They say rents have gone up 15 and 20 per cent. in Tyrone, on account of the paper mill boom. "Some people get crazy very easily."

The weather says we will get the kind of weather this month that we ought to have had in January and February. We shall see.

The lecture room of the new Baptist church will be dedicated next Sunday morning, to which place the general public is cordially invited.

The episcopos, Saturday forenoon, held a convention on the Presbyterian church steeple, which was numerously attended by the tithe tithers.

Rev. D. W. Hunter, at one time pastor of the Methodist church, has a revival of religion in progress in Apprentice's Hall, Lewistown.

Teacups have been appointed postmaster at Ship Beaver, a new post office recently located in this county. What a name; we mean the post office.

The corner stonary had a good chance to show themselves and their worse manners at their several roosting places, during several days of last week.

Constable Westbrook has torn down the old shop that adjoined his residence on Washington street. A store room will be built on the same premises.

And now some of our people, on a fine day, walketh to the reservoir to glance at the many beautiful and old spring flows. They say they are noble!

A Millin county man has received letters patent for a sausage stuffer, which, he said, will put the "ground hog" in its proper place with lightning speed.

It is rumored that Michael Glass, a Cambria county man, who went to the frontier some time ago, was killed by the Indians, and his body buried to ashes, lately.

The Cambria county Alms house has a female inmate who has been through many a fire, started a blaze on his father's stable floor, when some of the young ladies of the county, who were visiting, were taken to the hospital.

In some of the wards of Johnstown the citizens have sent in remonstrances, numerously signed, against the granting of licenses in their respective boroughs.

The wife of A. Kinney Boor, formerly of this place, died in Harrisburg, on Wednesday last week. Her remains were interred in Fairview Cemetery, Altoona.

James V. Lee's sales on Wednesday and Sunday afternoon last were largely attended, and the "stuff" offered for sale brought a good price. So much for advertising.

The County Commissioners are interviewing the people of West township, and to-morrow will appear before the board of Logan township on the apportionment.