

Republican State Ticket.

FOR JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT: Hon. HENRY GREEN, OF EASTON.

FOR AUDITOR-GENERAL: Hon. JOHN A. LEMON, OF BLAIR.

The Fulton Democrat thinks that John Stewart, esq., will likely be the Republican candidate for Senator in this district.

The Blaine boom is spreading, and from present indications it looks to us if his nomination will be made on the second ballot.

SECRETARY SHERMAN was in Philadelphia on Saturday, and during the day he visited the Exchange where he made a brief speech in favor of protection.

The investigation at West Point into the Whitaker outrage still draws its slow length along without revealing anything looking to the finding of the guilty parties.

THOMAS A. HENDRICKS has wisely refused to take the second place on the Democratic Presidential ticket if tendered him. He has been there before and knows how it goes to his beaten.

If any of the friends and admirers of Dennis Kearney desire to communicate with that gentleman they can address him in Coll 181, Corridor 10, House of Correction, San Francisco.

The Supreme Court of California, to which tribunal Dennis Kearney had applied for a writ of habeas corpus, refused to reverse its former action, and the gay Dennis was remanded back to his little cell.

The Philadelphia Press of Monday exposed the fraud and rascality practiced in the office of the Clerk of the Quarter Sessions of that city, by means of which the corporation is defrauded out of thousands of dollars.

THE GALLOWES.—Frederick Crill, the semi-demented fiend who was convicted of the inhuman murder of his daughter, Mrs. Babcock, on the 6th of June last, ended a life of wretchedness and crime on the gallows, at Newton, N. J., on Saturday last.

Mrs. CATHERINE ZEL, who had been convicted in the Cumberland county courts of causing the death of Mrs. Mary Keib, by poison, and sentenced to be hanged, and who had a new trial granted her, was acquitted of the crime, in the same Court, last week.

The Haber murderers were refused a favorable hearing at the recent session of the Board of Pardons, and in a few months at farthest they will have to pay the penalty of their crime on the gallows. They, through their counsel, have fought hard for pardon.

The New York Tribune's canvass of Pennsylvania has been completed. Of 1,715 responses to the circular that was sent to every Republican county and township committee in the State, 1,344 are for Senator Blaine as first choice for President, and 303 for General Grant.

The Republicans of Oregon met in State Convention last week and elected the following delegates to the Chicago Convention: Messrs. N. W. Scott, D. R. Hanna, J. M. McCull, D. N. Ireland and O. P. Tomkinson. The resolution that Senator Blaine is the first choice of Oregon Republicans and instructing the delegates to use all honorable means to procure his nomination was adopted amid great applause, with only one dissenting vote.

SENATOR YORRHEES has spent $25,000 of the public money in proving that the negro exodus from the Southern States is due entirely to the brutal and inhuman treatment of the negroes. But he didn't want to prove anything of the kind. He wanted to lay the blame of the exodus at the door of certain Republicans, but he entirely failed in this, and has proven that it is the treatment these poor creatures receive at the hands of Southern Democrats and bull-dozers. The evidence taken before his committee will not be used as a Democratic campaign document next fall. The Democrats have an elephant on their hands.

On Thursday morning of last week Mr. Elwin G. Dill, a brother of Rev. W. H. Dill, pastor in charge of the West Huntingdon M. E. Church, was found by a friend, Biak Walters, esq., lying unconscious on the floor of the baggage-room of the Harrisburg railroad depot. He was a passenger on the Philadelphia Express, which arrives in that city, at one o'clock, and occupied a berth in a Pullman palace car, where he lay in an unconscious condition. When the train pulled into the depot the conductor of the Pullman car had the sick man carried from his berth and laid upon the platform, where he remained until the depot employes removed him to the baggage-room, and where he was found by his friend Mr. Walters at half-past six o'clock in the morning. Mr. Walters had him removed to the United States Hotel, and shown every attention. The physicians who were called in said that he was suffering from congestion of the brain. He continued to grow worse, and at 2:45 o'clock on Friday morning his death occurred. He was unconscious from the time of his discovery until death relieved him. The deceased had been residing in New Orleans for some years, and was at one time employed on the editorial staff of the Picayune. He was on his way to Lewinburg, the home of his father, Rev. Henry G. Dill, when stricken down. It is said that an investigation will be made of the treatment accorded the sick man by the Pullman car conductor between St. Louis and Harrisburg. Such brutal treatment of a sick passenger deserves the severest condemnation. That conductor is unfit for the responsible position he occupies.

THE SAN FRANCISCO HOMICIDE.

The cold blooded, cowardly and inhuman murder of De Young, by Kalleh, in San Francisco, noticed elsewhere, may be regarded as the legitimate and inevitable outgrowth of a state of lawlessness and recklessness, and the indulgence of unbridled vituperation and disgusting slander, culminating in violence and criminal bloodshed. It furnishes a fearful lesson to the state of public morals in that city and is a blot on her fair fame which will require years to wash away. It is an evidence that the days of barbarism which established the Italian vendetta have not passed away, and nothing short of the condign punishment of the assassin under legal sanction, and the lawful overthrow of the disreputable father can ever prevent the repetition of such ghastly tragedies. The shooting of De Young is one of the fruits of communism, which is the same everywhere, and furnishes a fearful warning to those who sanction its fell spirit. It is the fruit of which hoodlum violence to the Chinese is the seed. San Francisco and California would have saved millions of capital and unch bloodshed had the good citizens but stamped out the first sparks of mob law and violence toward the Chinese, and it would be well for others to profit by the example. Violence towards the meanest and most degraded of humanity soon becomes violence to all until life and property hang on the frays of the incendiary fire or the assassin's bullet. If the law is too weak to protect life and property then let the organization of a Citizens' Protective Union be the swift and sure remedy for Communism, mob violence and lawlessness wherever that sport may show its head. And by no means should we ever lose sight of the fact that the SAME SPIRIT EXISTS IN OUR MIDST.

$1,000 FINE AND ONE YEAR IN THE EASTERN PENITENTIARY, AT PHILADELPHIA.

The Bid Bill Bakers Appar for Sewing—Remarks of the Court and the Court Room—Severity of the Sentence Commanded by the Court.

From the Harrisburg Telegraph of Monday. The attention of the judges would appear here today for sentence were trial last night by the arrival on the 12:45 train from Philadelphia of Wm. H. Kemble and J. B. Salter, who immediately registered at the Lehigh Hotel. They left Philadelphia at 8:00 p.m. either last evening or the evening before, with B. H. Brown and wife, J. M. Kemble, F. Carroll, Kewitzer, Col. Wm. B. Mann and J. B. H. Wether, both parties occupying a special car. Mr. Salter took a seat in the smoking car and chatted cheerfully with a number of Harrisburgers, including W. F. Rumberger, who had arrived on Saturday, and was registered at the Jones Hotel.

At 11:15 a Sheriff Howell, of Philadelphia, E. H. Brown, of Atlantic City, and another gentleman entered the court room and were ushered to seats with the bar. They were looked upon as witnesses in the case, and were seated in the front of the court. The judge, Mr. Kalleh, and the jury, Messrs. Crawford and Rumberger, with their counsel, Messrs. Herr and Weiss, of Harrisburg, and Judge Brown, W. B. Mann and L. C. Cassidy, of Philadelphia.

As they entered and took their seats District Attorney Howell, who was seated on the right, and the other witnesses, Messrs. Crawford and Rumberger, who were seated on the left, and the other witnesses, Messrs. Herr and Weiss, of Harrisburg, and Judge Brown, W. B. Mann and L. C. Cassidy, of Philadelphia.

NOTWITHSTANDING the fact that nine out of every ten Republicans in the county are in favor of Blaine's nomination for the Presidency, and are anxious to have a chance to express their preference for him, they are to be deprived of this privilege through the pig-headedness of those who could have made arrangements for them to do so. We can't see what objection could be urged against the Republican voters of the county saying who they are, for unless their almost unanimous preference for the Maine Senator would be construed into a rebuke and condemnation of the position this county was placed in by the late State Convention. Well, whether the voters are deprived of this privilege or not, you can bet your bottom dollar that Huntingdon county is for Blaine all over, and his nomination at Chicago would be hailed with enthusiastic shouts of approval.

The March Chunk Democrat pretends to be amused at the utterances of the Republican papers of the State, on the Presidential question. We can't exactly see what tickles the risibilities of this Democratic pencil shaver, unless it is the fact that he publishes an untruth and laughs in his sleeve at his ability to make his readers take it in as gospel. When he asserts that all the Republican papers of this State are afraid to express their preference for a Presidential candidate he gives publicity to that which is not correct. Democratic editors will have their hands full, and will find no spare time to devote to the private business of Republican newspapers, in fixing up the fight now going on in their own party between the rival factions of Wallace and Randall. Attend to the arrangements for your own funeral, Mr. Democrat.

THE DESTRUCTIVE TORNADOES.—Within the last few days some portions of Tennessee, Illinois, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi have been visited by some of the most frightful storms on record, which have literally swept everything in their way, leaving behind them a track of ruin and desolation in which have been presented the most harrowing scenes of death and destruction. At Macon, Miss., some twenty two persons were killed outright and thirty-two injured, while at Tarpoville, Ill., and Dochart, Tennessee, the destruction of life and property have been terrible. Houses have been demolished, the inmates killed, crippled or carried away by the storm. Some idea of the force of the wind may be gathered from the fact that at one place thirteen loaded cars were lifted completely from the track, and houses were literally blown to atoms.

REV. DAVID X. JUNKIN, D. D., a prominent Presbyterian divine, died at the residence of his son, in Martinsburg, Va., a few days ago. From 1853 to 1880 Dr. Junkin was pastor of the Hollidaysburg Presbyterian church.

It is said that Wm. F. Rumberger, one of the riot bribers, has become insane since his sentence to the penitentiary on Monday.

A RUMOR is current that the Board of Pardons will convene in special session to consider the cases of the bribers.

DEMOCRATIC KILKENNY CATS.

The news from Harrisburg, as we go to press, include trouble in the Democratic camp. The leaders have been librating to calm the troubled waters, but up to Wednesday at midnight, the war of the factions in that organization shows no signs of abatement. The Philadelphia Vindicator delegation took possession of the Opera House and refused to admit Wallace and his followers, and Wednesday passed without the holding of their convention which had been advertised for months. Today, (Thursday), another effort will be made to perfect an organization and nominate a ticket, but whether the leaders will be able to bring order out of chaos remains to be seen.

AN EDITOR MURDERED.

A Son of the Sand-Lot Mayor of San Francisco Shoots and Kills Charles DeYoung.

L. M. Kalleh, the drunken and worthless son of the Sand Lot Mayor of San Francisco, about half past seven o'clock on Saturday evening, standing before the business office of the San Francisco Chronicle, and without uttering a word, opened fire upon Charles DeYoung, the editor, the fourth shot taking effect in his mouth and killing him instantly.

DeYoung was unarmed at the time of the attack, but when Kalleh began firing he ran to his desk, grabbed a pistol, and fired upon his murderer, but his strength failed him, and he was dropped from his hand and fell to the floor a corpse. The murderer turned upon his heel and attempted to leave the office, but before he could gain the street he was arrested by some on present, and an officer just coming up he was handed over to him and conveyed to the city prison, while carrying in his hand the blood-stained pistol. The news of the murder flew like wildfire, and in a short time the street in front of the Chronicle office was crowded with people anxious to hear anything relating to the sad affair. The police were kept busy preventing the crowd from forcing an entrance to the office. A dispatch from that city gives a brief history of the murder, and other particulars, as follows:

Young Kalleh, the miserable assassin, is the son of the man who was elected Mayor by Kearney and his band of drunkards. Young Kalleh is a drunkard and has been on a debauch for some days past, drinking very heavily. He had made frequent threats of his intention to "kill" DeYoung, but no attention was paid to him, as he was simply regarded as the vainglorious of a drunken man. His boasting was regarded with more indifference from the fact that since the shooting of his father last August he has boasted from time to time that DeYoung would feel his vengeance. DeYoung, who heard of this, did not pay much attention to the threats, as he always went about, possessed undoubted courage and was usually quick in his movements, his men were not at all alarmed for his safety. One of the immediate causes of the tragedy is by some believed to be the recent appearance in this city of a pamphlet entitled "Only Full Report of the Trial of L. M. Kalleh on Charges of Adultery." This pamphlet contained a portrait of Kalleh and the woman with whom he was said to be intimate, and pretended to give a full history of the affair, "doings of the church, Kalleh's public experience, arrest, arraignment, trial and result." Its imprint was "Boston, Eberhart & Co., 1877," but it was generally regarded with how much truth it is now impossible to say, that its appearance was due to DeYoung, who went East some time ago to hunt up facts in the career of Kalleh. The pamphlet was extensively circulated and the Kalleh party were wrought to quite a state of desperation. It came to add to their trials and perplexities. DeYoung has continued his vigorous criticisms of the Sand Lot Mayor and the miserable ruffians who are controlling the city, and as the time for his trial for the shooting of the Mayor drew near he became more aggressive, and Kalleh's friends became correspondingly exasperated. There is no doubt that the young man was egged on more or less by desperate characters, who have recently had such a set back in the arrest of Kearney, and the talk of hanging the Mayor to that they took advantage of his boasting and pushed him on. DeYoung, seated in a chair, between whom and her son an unusual strong affection existed, is quite prostrated by the shock of her son's murder, and as she is about 80 years of age it may be expected that she will soon follow him to the grave. That the end is near is generally believed. DeYoung's brother is not quite as outrageous as he was, and more blood will be spilt before the end.

When the coroner's wagon bearing the body of DeYoung turned from Kearney to Market street the crowd made a sort of rush that had the appearance of being directed at the wagon. It might have been merely the natural surge of the commotion following the wagon on meeting the gathering on Market street, but the police, viewing it as an attempt at violence, used their clubs freely, beating back the crowd and inflicting severe punishment on some of the most forward ones. Aside from this incident there has been no sign of violence and no reason for the services of the police, except in keeping back the crowd.

GIVEN UP BY DOCTORS.—Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and that he is able to do his own business? I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he was dead.

THE VOLTAIC BELT CO. Marshall, Michigan, will send their celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts to the afflicted upon 30 days trial, and the talk of hanging the Mayor to that they took advantage of his boasting and pushed him on. DeYoung, seated in a chair, between whom and her son an unusual strong affection existed, is quite prostrated by the shock of her son's murder, and as she is about 80 years of age it may be expected that she will soon follow him to the grave. That the end is near is generally believed. DeYoung's brother is not quite as outrageous as he was, and more blood will be spilt before the end.
