Hon. HENRY GREEN, OF EASTON.

FOR AUDITOR-GENERAL : Hon. JOHN A. LEMON, OF BLAIR.

WE are in favor of the unit rule at the polls this fall; it is the only way to win. HON. R. M. SPEER and John S. Miller were the only representatives from our town at Cincinnati. CHAIRMAN Cessna was interviewed by a Press reporter, in Philadelphia, the other day, and spoke very hopefully of the proshave been devastated. there, and "knows how it is himself."

GEN. GARFIELD spoke and voted against other Democratic lie exploded.

GEN. GARFIELD belongs to the Campbellite sect, and as they are quite numerous in West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky, and having indicated their intention to vote for him on general principles, it may render the South not quite so solid keep it.

THE Prohibitionists met in National convention at Cleveland, Ohio, on Thursday of last week, there being one hundred and forty-two delegates present. Neal Dow, of Maine, was nominated for President by acclamation, and A. M. Thompson, of Westerville, Ohio, received the nomination for the second place on the makes his appearance in public, this time as a witness in the Dorsey will case. Mrs. Dorsey was a wealthy woman with a large property, who entertained such a profound admiration for the Rebe! leader that on Hon. J. G. THE unreconstructed Democracy are now assembled in National Convention at Cincinnati selecting a victim for the sacrifice in November. Garfield to the rear platform when he was enthusiastically cheered. During the five minutes stop quite a number of our citident and indulged in the conventional hand-shaking. The General thanked the assemblage for the warm reception, and spoke a good word for his colleague, Congressman Fisher, saying that he hoped our people would re-elect him, and that by so doing we would honor ourselves and faithful Representative. At 3:10 the train moved off, and as it did so another cheer was given by the enthusiastic friends of To the Republicans of Huntingdon County: the man who is to lead the Republican been generally known that he would pass through our town on that train hundreds of our people would have been at the depot to see him and to honor him by their pres ence. The General is a robust, fine-looking man, dresses very plainly, and his honest pen countenance cannot fail to create a lavorable impression upon all who see him.

The Democratic press of the country are ust now in a terrible strait for want of omething to say derogatory to the character of Gen. PHILADELPHIA, February 15, 1873. PHILADELPHIA, February 19, 18:13.

My Dear Sir: From the beginning of the investigation concerning Mr. Ames' use of the Credit Mobilier, I believed that General Garfield was free from all guilty connection with that business This opinion was founded not merely on my confidence in his integrity, but on some special knowledge of his case. I may have told you all about it in conversation, but I desire now to repeat it by way of reminder. I assert unhesitatingly that, whatever General

I assert unhesitatingly that, whatever General Garfield may have done or forborne to do, he acted in profound ignorance of the nature and character of the thing which Mr. Ames was proposing to sell. He had not the slightest suspicion that he was to be taken into a ring organized for the purpose of detrauding the public, nor did he know that the stock was in any manner connected with anything which came, or could come, within the legislative jurisdiction of Congress. The case against him lacks the scienter which alone constitutes guilt. In the winter of 1869-70 I told General Garfield whipped out his pistol and shot him. Such is Texas justice.

In the winter of 1869-70 I told General Garfield of the fact that his name was on Ames' list; that Ames charped him with being one of his distributes; explained to him the character, origin and objects of the Credit Mobilier; pointed out the connection it had with Congressional legislation, and showed him how impossible it was for a member of Congress to hold stock in it without bringing in an enlarged form and dressed in a new suit from top to toe. The Chief is a stalwart Republican paper, and its fearless and able editor generally calls things by their right names when necessary to speak of them in his columns. He don't mince watched carefully every werd that fell from him on this point, and did not regard his narrative of the transaction in other respects with much interest, because in my view everything cise was insignificant. I did not care whether he had made a bargain technically-binding or not; his integrity depended upon the question whether he acted with his eyes open. If he had known the true character of the proposition made to him he would not have endured it, much less embraced it. Now, couple this with Mr. Ames' admission that he gave no explanation whatever of the matter to Now, couple this with Mr. Ames admission that he gave no explanation whatever of the matter to General Garfield, then reflect that not a particle of proof exists to show that he learned anything about it previous to his conversation with me, and I think you will say that it is altogether unjust to put him on the list of those who knowingly and willfully joined the fraudulent association in question.

THE Democrats of Alabama are the first of rotten eggs succeeded in breaking up the gathering, compelling the colored speakers to flee for their lives. From this it would seem that the shot gun policy is to play an important part in making the South solid for the Cincinnati nominees.

FOREIGN COUNTS VERSUS HOME

MECHANICS.

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL. In a far-cff Eastern city, A pretty maid did live, Who was determined never Her heart and hand to give

Who was determined never
Her heart and hand to give
To a living human creature,
Unless almost divine;
She had a poor opinion of
The gender massuline.
First a young mechanic asked her
If she would be his bride,
"No! I'll wed no poor mechanic,"
She haughtily replied.
"I' was born for something better,
I'd have you understand;
You are bold in your presumption
To ask of me my hand!"
Then a beardless dandy wooed her;
He had an oily tongue,
Bat as no mustache had started,
Because he was so young.
She gave him such a gentle hint,
As led him to infer
That he must raise some whiskers ere
He raised his eyes to her.
Overwhelmed with disappointment,
And almost in despair,
That his chance to win the maiden
Hung on a single hair.
He went off and took a julip:
In that he drowned his woe;
He did not blow his brains out, for
He had no brains to blow.
Then there came another suitor
To win the maiden fair;
He was not a bear-faced wooer,
But muzzled like a bear;
He had a fine limperia!,
Monstache, and whiskers, earled,
And a lordly air about him,
As if he owned the world.
"Twas said he was a foreign coun",
Ineognito while here,
And had at heme a shady park,

Twas said he was a foreign count,
Incognito while here,
And had at home a shady park,
With room for one more deur.
He thought the maiden of our song
Would find herself in luck
For, wedding him, the happy dear
Would get a fine young back.
They met, and when the fair one gazed
Upon his whisters fine,
She felt that she had found at last
The paragon divine. The paragon divine.

They courted through the summer months

They courted through the summer months, And married in the fall;
She gave her heart and hand, and he Gave beard, moustache, and all.
One night they passed in pleasant dreams, A happy weddled pair;
But ah, alas! the next morn's light Brought sorrow and despair.
The count arose and washed his face, But fear o'erwhelmed his soul;
The glue had started, and he left His whiskers in the bowl.
The wife looked up, she saw his face Smooth as a new-mown lawn;
Save here and there a single hair, His whiskers all were gone.
She swooded and fell upon the floor, Her reason overthrown;

The count secured her jewelry,
And left for parts unknown.
Then, ladies, dear, don't let your hearts
Be wrecked by foolish pride,
In spurning any honest hand
By labor dignified.

Mechanics are our noblemen—
They clothe at Tower Hall—
Wed them and shun the foreign counts,
Of no account at all. Call and see our large assortment of Spring Goods. A splendid display of Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE THE MOST SUCCESSFUL REMEDY ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. W. Granger, Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.—Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with "Kendall's Spavin Cure" has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully Yours,

P. N. Granger. Respectfully Yours, P. N. GRANGER.
PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL. CHAMPION OF THE WEST STOUGHTON, MASS., March 16th, 1880.—B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—Injustice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with "Kendall's Spavin Cure," one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, no at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here but if it does for all what it has done for me its Respectfully Yours, Chas. E. Parker. Respectfully Yours, Chas. E. Parker.

Kendall's Spavin Curr is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep-seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, spinits, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man, and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects. Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as ualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.
