MAINE.

The only news from Maine which we find, s contained in the following letter from the Augusta correspondent of the Boston-Atlas, lated on Monday last.

No news, is said to be good news, if so, ve have an abundance of good news from the East. From such information as we have, it ppears, that all is quiet on the borders so ar as the two belligerent parties are concerned. The reports that have reached us from time to time of the extensive preparations that were being made by S.r. John Harvey, I have but little doubt were much exaggerated. I learn the same exaggerations were made in the Province of New Brunswick in relation to our force.

It was reported there at one time that Maine had actually fifty thousand men in the 'An act relating to Inns, Taverns, and field, and it was supposed an attack on Frederickton was contemplated.
