

ENIGMA.

There is a word of plural Number, A foe to peace and human slumber; Now any word you chance to take, By adding S you plural make— But if you add an S to this, How strange the metamorphose is; Plural is plural then no more, And sweet what bitter was before.

Dangerous Ascention of a Balloon.—On Monday night an experimental inflation of a balloon took place in a meadow near the Buelah Spa, Norwood. A number of men were employed in holding the vast machine, which was of unusually large dimensions.

In the space of twelve minutes the balloon was completely filled with heated air, generated in a furnace from chopped straw, birch, and alderwood; the ascending power on a sudden then became so great, that in removing the machine from the furnace it escaped from the hands of most of the men, and ascended to a great height, taking up five persons clinging to the ropes and sides of the car. A youth, when thirty feet from the ground, could hold no longer, and dropped, sustaining much injury; the others remained clinging to the balloon and were conveyed about a mile, when the machine descended in the midst of a field. The principal gardener of the Buelah Spa, William Stevens, having lost his hold, got his legs entangled with a rope, and was suspended with his head downwards for several minutes and when the balloon reached the ground, his leg was completely severed, being attached by tendons only; it has since been amputated, but he is still in a dangerous state.

From the Saratoga Exchange. MOURNFUL CASUALTY.—We are informed that a child aged about ten years, the daughter of Mr. Abraham, Welch, who resides about 10 miles in the forest, north of Lake Pleasant, was torn in pieces, and almost entirely devoured by a panther of the largest size, on Monday week. The child was playing on the bank of a small stream, within sight and hearing of the house, when the panther sprang from a low thicket of hemlock, and seized her by the neck, and after dragging her into the thicket, proceeded to devour her at leisure. The mother of the little girl had gone to a spring a few rods below the house, for the purpose of obtaining a pail of water, and she returned just in time to see the monster leap the creek with the last remaining limb of her daughter dangling from his mouth. Mrs. Welch comprehended at a glance the extent of the calamity, and she immediately ran for her husband, who was engaged in making shingles, nearly a mile and a half in the wood from the house. He immediately started in pursuit of the ferocious animal, but did not succeed in capturing him. All that could be found of the little sufferer was part of her frock, and some hair, all clotted and matted in blood.

A Card.

The Female and Male Teachers of the Union Sunday School, at Mr. McCallister's School House, respectfully tender their most sincere thanks to the Episcopal Methodist Ladies of Carlisle who so kindly furnished them with such an excellent entertainment in the college chapel on the fourth of July. They are at a loss for words to express their gratefulness to them for their unwearied attention and politeness to us, who were entire strangers to them. We likewise feel ourselves much honoured by those Reverend clergymen who treated us with so much kindness and attention, and particularly the Reverend Mr. Darbin, for the complete order and arrangement of the Schools—likewise our esteemed friends the Rev. Messrs. Emory and Sprole for their most excellent addresses to all present—not forgetting our worthy and beloved young students who have assisted us, as teachers in our Sunday School exercises.

In Behalf of our teachers in the Country. FERGUS R. KERNAN
