that I have known this "Major and granny vill your dog bite"—in days that are no more,—and all I can say is, that he is the very same, identical Major that has been recently employed riding the Iron GRAY, and taking the grand premium (betting) purse, and well known in this vicinity, by the name of the "Tom Car Major;" which title and honor had been unanimously confered upon him, merely by hiding in the shops, and exposing his ivorys through the cracks as if he had the ordontalgia. And as regards the title of "scouting Major," I can with safety and security say (I have incidental and circumstantial evidence) that he is excelled by none of his AGE, in the capacity of circum foraneous, and peeping into doors and windows of "folks houses," and continually aslumbers; and in connection with that he's continually (in a sheaking coward-like manner) during the day circulating (excess) larming, interrupting and perplexing the tranquility of our goodly citizens, "all in the stilly nights," from their mid-night vious; and with his common-place word, "its a dirty mean trick;" he's this thing, that thing, and one thing another, to say of men of all classes, from the most respectable minister in the pulpit, down to men in despised by every honorable mind.
