From the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser. SEVERE SNOW STORM.

Those who were at the fire in Cedar street on Saturday night, will long recollect the deluge of rain which fell until after midnight. down in this city, there was a severe snow storm at no great distance from us. The steamboat Swallow, which left this city on Saturday evening, was unable to proceed further than Hudson, whence she returned this morning, without any mail.

The pilot of the Swallow, who has been on the river for many years, informs us that the snow storm on Saturday night was heavier than any within his recollection. Hudson and its vicinity the snow fell 18 inches on a level. The river was not frozen over, but there was too much floating ice between Albany and Hudson to render it safe for the heat to proceed farther than Hudson. for the boat to proceed farther than Hudson. She will go up to night, but will probably not be able to proceed farther than Catskill.

At the Eastward, the snow fell in prodig ious quantities. We are told that it lay two feet deep on the ground at New Haven.— The cars could hardly be dragged upon the railway, with all the power of steam that could be raised, so that three hours were required to work their way to Meridan.— Within twenty miles of this city the snow is represented to be from eighteen inches to 2 feet in denth.

Since the above was in type another boat has arrived and brought the mail. We copy the following from the Argus of yesterday.

The Weather-And the Mails.

Snow began to fall at about 11 o'clock S.turday night; and it continued falling, without intermission, during all yesterday. So that at night it was, at an average, of great depth, and in some streets and places, owing to the drift, impassable. As it had not ceased snowing when our paper was put to press last night, it is impossible to predict

From the New Orleans Ree, of December 6. MEXICO.

Matamoras .- The schooner Emblem, from that port left the mouth of Rio del Norte, on the 27th ult. but she brings intelligences from the city only to the 13th.

We do not know how far the news brought by the Emblém confirms or contradicts the report of the capture of Matamoras. The city was then well fortified, containing a garrison of 1200 men, commanded by a very efficient officer, whose determination was to defend the place to the last extremity. The federal army, from 1200 to 1500 strong, marching under the Texian flug, was about within nine miles of the town.

The Emblem brought no news from the Specie. By the above arrival we notice the receipt of $22,076, and 190 ounces of bullion, to sundry consignees.
