all diseases originate from impurities of the blood and disordered stomach." This mode of treating diseases is pursued by all practical Physicians, which experience has taught them to be the only remedy to effect a oure. They are not only re-commended and prescribed by the most expe-rienced Physicians in their daily practice, but also taken by those gentlemen themselves when-ever they feel the symptoms of those diseases, in which they know them to be efficacious. in which they know them to be fibracious.— This is the case in all large cities in which they have an extensive sale. It is not to be under-stood that these medicines will cure all diseases merely by purifying the blood—this they will not do; but they certainly will, and sufficient authority of daily proofs asserting that those medicines, taken as recommended by the di-rections which accompany them, will cure a greatmajority of diseases of the stomach, lungs, and line, by oblich imputing of the blood are
