Who will feel "down the mouth," and wamb-cropped, next November?
The Log-cabin, Hard-cider, Tippecanoe, &c. &c. &c. &c. Party.—Magician's Hand.

The Gold Spoon Story.
When Mr. Buchanan had proceeded to near the close of his excellent remarks at Erie, on the 10th, an honest old farmer in the crowd spoke out, "tell us something about Mr. Van Buren's Gold Spoons, of which our opponents are making so much ado."—"Well," said Mr. Buchanan, "I will tell you all about them, in a few words, for I have seen them myself. They were purchased by Mr. Monroe in 1816, when he was Minister to France. Congress purchased them for the President's house, and they have been in use ever since. They are not gold, but silver gilded. I once heard of an old bachelor (continued Mr. B.) who was in search of a wife, and his hair becoming gray, he was under the necessity of applying some ingredient to darken it. But the gray hair soon grew out and mixed with the black coat, so as to present an ugly mixture of black and white. So it is with the spoons. They have been in use these twenty-four years, until the gilding is nearly worn off, and now they are all spots of white and yellow, and I am certain if Mr. Van Buren had any say in the matter, he would trade them off to-morrow for a good pewter set." [Great laughter.]—Crawford Democrat.

HARRISON'S CHAMPIONS.
Read over the List, Fremont!

No. 1.—Thaddeus Stevens, the author of the attempt to overthrow our Constitution, in 1835—who recommended the organization of two Legislatures in Pennsylvania, and who attempted to defeat the unequivocal judgment of the irrefragable Ballot-box! This is the man who declared, in a letter to the Abolitionists, previous to the destruction of their Hall by an angry people, that the great charter of our rights, the National Constitution, was at variance with the Declaration of Independence. He it is, who boasts to this hour of having made a single township give eleven hundred majority for his instrument Ritner, when the whole number of taxables, counting females and all, was not three hundred. He it is, who discharged the poor laborers from our public works, because they were Democrats, and hid their places with negroes! He it is, who induced Contractors on our public works to bet on Ritner, promising to pay them, if they did not win, from the State Treasury! This is the man who still extolingly proclaims that he whipt the Whigs into supporting Harrison—who made the Clay men bow before and kiss his sandals—and whose low intrigue and gaming room cunning effected more than all the money of Biddle could accomplish! Look at your Leader, Messrs. Chandler, Noah, Gales, and Walsh! How fit is it for you to follow such a scoundrel!

No. 2.—Thomas H. Burrows, who, in capacity as Secretary of the Commonwealth, under the veil of a partisan chairmanship, advised the people to treat a solemn election held by them, "as if it had not taken place, and in that attitude to abide THE RESULT!" Without a single sympathy in common with the mass of the people—with feelings blunted, and a heart seared and dead to every patriotic throb, he endeavored to give the first example to the world of the inefficiency of our glorious laws and institutions! He sought to lend himself, as Secretary of State, to a bold, deliberate, unqualified fraud, and by presenting false or imperfect returns, as the letters patent of a non-elected representation, perjured himself in the face of God and man! And this is another of the leaders of Harrison democracy!

No. 3.—Joseph Ritner, who is so indissolubly connected with Harrison, that as a reward for his services during the outrage of 1838, he now heads the Harrison Electoral ticket in this State! and so unpopular has he become, for that very act, that his own friends are beginning to take away the Electoral ticket which he adorns from "the public eye!" And what were these services? A calling out of an armed soldiery to put down an unarmed and defenceless people, and their country, against the infamous attempt of himself and his partners in crime! He it was, who copying after Hutchinson and Barnard of old—when they sought to overawe the representative of the people by introducing bayonets and daggers into their legislative Halls—or after the later example of the bloody Jacobins who sent their bravos and murderers into the chambers of those who were endeavoring to bring order out of chaos, to drive the moderate to the last extremity of unnatural radicals. It was after such patterns as these that Joseph Ritner copied when he thought that the introduction of armed soldiery into the Legislative Halls of Pennsylvania, would make her bold yeomanry bow down to his ripe treason to the laws, and his bold infringement upon their inherent rights! And such is another of the Harrison leaders.

No. 4.—Wm. J. Graves, of Kentucky, the murderer of the gallant Cilley, "for words spoken in debate."

No. 5.—Hon. John Stowe, of Vermont, a leading abolitionist, whose whole time is devoted to the promotion of Harrison's election.

No. 6.—John Quincy Adams, whose fanaticism in regard to abolition, is such that he has several times by his conduct nearly effected the withdrawal of the Southern men from the House.

No. 7.—John Davis, who shouted in the streets of Worcester when he heard the British had burnt down the city of Washington.

"Behold the array! "Tell me what your company is, and I'll tell you what ye are!"

LIBERALISM.

liberally diffused among those who contribute most to their production.

I am, gentlemen,
Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
M. VAN BUREN.

Messrs. Isaac Lippincott, Wm. R. Potts, G. Hanes, N. B. Evans, A. S. Fermau, Jos. Frayer.

From the Globe.

Whiggery is Federalism.

We are informed by letters from various quarters, that the Whigs have collected a few names of gentlemen now acting with the democratic party, and are using them to prove that the present democratic party is the old Federal party! This is one of the most impudent falsehoods that Federal Whiggery has invented; for the present course of the States, of counties, of cities, of towns, and of nine-tenths of the survivors of the old Federal party, give it the lie. But let us resort to names also:

In 1813 the Massachusetts Senate passed the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, As the sense of the Senate, that in war like the present, waged without justifiable cause, it is not becoming a moral and religious people to express any approbation of the military or naval exploits.

Of the Senators voting for this resolution nine are still living, viz:

JOSIAH QUINCY,
THOS. H. PERKINS,
SAMUEL PUTMAN,
SILAS HOLMAN,
DANIEL A. WHITE,
SOLOMON STRONG,
NAHUM MITCHELL,
JAMES RICHARDSON,
S. C. ALLEN.

Of these nine, EIGHT are modern Whigs, worshippers in the log cabin, supporters of Harrison. Mr. Allen is the only exception.

In 1824, this disgraceful resolution was EXPUNGED from the journal of the Senate. The following individuals, who voted against the motion to expunge, still survive, viz:

THOMAS H. PERKINS,
NAHUM MITCHELL,
PETER C. BROOK, Gov. Everett's father-in-law.

S. P. GARDNER of Worcester.
AARON TUFTS do.
L. STRONG, now a New York whig.
S. STRONG, jr.
H. HUBBARD of Berkshire.
THOS. LANGLEY of Franklin.

EVERY-MAN of these is now a modern Whig, and supports Harrison for the Presidency.

Why do these old Federalists vote for Harrison? Not surely for those victories of which it was "unbecoming a moral and religious people to express any approbation!" No, nor they do not go for him for anything he has done for his country. Why then do they support him? Simply because he is a Federalist in principle, and would administer the Government upon Federal principles.

EVERY SURVIVING MEMBER OF THE HARTFORD CONVENTION is also a supporter of Harrison.

DANIEL WEBSTER, Harrison's destined Secretary of State, was a leading anti-Federalist in and out of Congress.

JOHN DAVIS, of the United States Senate, whose falsehoods the Harrison whigs now delight to circulate, was a bitter anti-Federalist, and on hearing of the capture of Washington in 1814, it stated by a paper published in Worcester, Mass. where he resides, to have pulled off his hat and given three cheers!

LEVERETT SALTONSTALL, a member of the Whig Abolition Executive Committee, was one of the most violent anti-Federalists, and was on the committee of the Massachusetts Legislature which reported the resolution in favor of calling the Hartford Convention. We request our friends every where to give to the public the names of the surviving Federalists who took an active part before and during the war, that the people every where may see what sort of politicians they are now asked to elevate to power.

The Contest in Delaware.

The more opportunity we have for observation, the more firmly are we convinced of the entire success of the Republican party of little Delaware in November next. She is sound to the core. There is not the least doubt that she will cast her votes for the Constitution and Equal Rights. It is true she has been in years past, found upon the side of whiggery, but the veil has been drawn from her eyes, and she now sees clearly her error, and is determined to retract her false steps. The Republicans of the country may rely upon her in the day of battle; her sons are buckling on their armor and were never more enthusiastic or confident of success. Sussex will give from two to three hundred majority for Republican principles. Kent will be tightly contested, and there will not be more than fifty majority for either party. Old New Castle county will give Van Buren at least three hundred majority. This is a fair statement of the present state of things in Delaware, and our friends may rely with full confidence upon it. The Democracy are up and a doing, and already do the faint hearts of the British whigs quail and feel that the hardy yeomanry of this state are not to be fooled and cheated out of their rights, by either log cabins, con skins or hard cider; or the gross misrepresentations of facts, and perversions of truth. Delaware is as sure to go for Martin Van Buren in the coming election as the tide ebbs and flows.—Del. Gazette.

THE GREAT CONTEST.—Under this caption the Globe puts the following interrogatories to the freemen of the country in general, and to the Federalists in particular:

Are the whigs contending for the privilege of living in log cabins? Is there any despot in the land who prevents them from pulling down their mansions of brick, granite, and of marble, and putting up log cabins in their places? Do they desire and design to blow up the President's house and demolish the Capitol, that they may build log cabins for the accommodation of Congress and the President on their ruins? Are they denied the privilege of painting log cabins on ladies' fans, stamping them upon handkerchiefs, impressing them upon their buttons, or branding them upon their foreheads? Or has some tyrant dashed the gourd from their lips, knocked the hoops off their cider barrels, and denied them the right of drinking "hard cider?" Are they making so fierce a war to recover the lost liberty of getting drunk on what ever beverage they please? Or has a despot interposed to prevent their assembling together in as many thousands as they can collect, hauling pig-styes and little boats, colling-balls and waving con skins, climbing into the forks of trees braced up in carts, chattering like monkeys, craving like crows, barking like dogs, whooping like Indians, and yelling like devils, to their hearts content? All these blessed privileges they now enjoy unmolested; and many are improving them with an exuberance of zeal and delight which shows how highly they are prized.
