

cherished. If this continues to be the ruling passion of our souls, the weaker feelings of the mistaken enthusiasts will be corrected, the Eutopian dreams of the scheming politician dissipated, and the complicated intrigues of the demagogue rendered harmless. The spirit of liberty is the sovereign balm for every injury which our institutions may receive. On the contrary, no care can be used in the construction of our Government, no division of powers, no distribution of checks in its several departments, will prove effectual to keep a free People, if this spirit is suffered to decay, and decay it will without constant nurture. To the neglect of this duty, the best historians agree in attributing the ruin of all the Republics with whose existence and fall their writings have made us acquainted.

The same causes will ever produce the same effects; and as long as the love of power is a dominant passion of the human bosom, and as long as the understandings of men can be warped and their affections changed by operations upon their passions and prejudices, the liberty of a people depends on their own constant attention to its preservation. The danger to all well-established free governments arises from the unwillingness of the People to believe in its existence, or from the influence of designing men, diverting their attention from the quarter whence it approaches, to a source from which it can never come. This is the old trick of those who would usurp the government of their country. In the name of Democracy they speak, warning the People against the influence of wealth and the danger of aristocracy. History, ancient and modern, is full of such examples. I now take an affectionate leave of you. You will bear with you to your lives, the remembrance of the pledge I have this day given to discharge all the high duties of my exalted station according to the best of my ability, and I shall ever be proud to perform with entire confidence in the support of our just and generous People.

of the interest of the whole. The entire remedy, is with the People, something, however, may be effected by the means which they have placed in my hands. It is my wish that we, not of a party for the sake of that party, but a union of the whole country for the sake of the whole country—for the defence of its interests and its honor against foreign aggression, for the defence of those principles for which our ancestors so gloriously contended. As far as it depends upon me, it shall be accomplished. All the influence that I possess, shall be exerted to prevent the formation of at least an Executive party in the halls of the Legislature, and I wish for the support of no member of that body to any measure of mine that does not satisfy his judgment and his sense of duty to those for whom he holds his appointment nor any confidence in the People, but that which is asked for by Mr. Jefferson, "to give firmness and effect to the legal administration of their affairs."

I deem the present occasion sufficiently important and solemn to justify me in expressing to my fellow citizens a profound reverence for the Christian Religion, and a thorough conviction that sound morals, religious liberty, and a just sense of religious responsibility, are essentially connected with all true and lasting happiness, and to that good Being who has blessed us by the gifts of civil and religious freedom, who watched over and prospered the labors of our Fathers, and has hitherto preserved to us institutions far exceeding in excellence those of any other people, let us unite in fervent commendation every interest of our beloved country in all future time.

[The oath of office was here administered by Chief Justice Taney.]

Fellow-citizens: Being fully invested with that high office to which the partiality of my countrymen has called me, I now take an affectionate leave of you. You will bear with you to your lives, the remembrance of the pledge I have this day given to discharge all the high duties of my exalted station according to the best of my ability, and I shall ever be proud to perform with entire confidence in the support of our just and generous People.

FIRE.—In this Borough, on Friday afternoon last, a fire broke out, which for a time threatened disastrous consequences. It originated in a back building (used as a kitchen) of Mr. George Heckman's in Louthier street, from a stove pipe which ran up through the floor on to the loft. Fortunately the day was perfectly calm, or otherwise it would have been utterly impossible to save a number of the contiguous buildings. The fire, however, was got under, with the destruction of the building in which it originated—but nevertheless with a great loss of furniture, provisions, &c. A large quantity of meat, belonging to various persons, was hanging in the loft at the time, and was all destroyed.

Mr. Heckman's loss must be considerable—probably not less than $300.

We regret very much to learn that several of our patriotic townsmen, who visited Washington city last week, had their pockets rifled of their contents by some of those tight-fisted gentry who attended the inauguration. The advent of the present "reform" administration has been quite a harvest for these fellows, if we are to judge by the following paragraph which we copy from the Washington correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper under date of Friday last:

"The thieves and pickpockets are, I understand, about to wait on Harrison in a body, to tender him their thanks for the opportunity his inauguration has afforded them for exercising their vocation. Of course, there will be a delegation to pick the old General's pocket the while, by way of compliment."

YANKEE HILL.—The celebrated comedian, Mr. Hill, whose fame is chronicled in the English as well as American press, paid our Borough a visit on Tuesday evening last, and gave those of our citizens who attended his concert a rich treat of comicallies, &c. Mr. H. performed his characters to perfection, and kept his audience almost constantly convulsed with laughter. He is accompanied by Miss Reynolds, a good looking girl, and withal a delightful singer.

State Legislature.

Letter to the Editor, dated

"HARRISBURG, March 6, 1841.

But little legislation has been done this week. The inauguration of Old Tip, and the meeting of the Democratic State Convention, have sadly interrupted the business of the Legislature. The Mayor's Court in the city of Lancaster, having been returned by the Governor with his objections, was taken up in the Senate and passed by a majority of more than two-thirds. In the House the vote was 41, of the Executive bill falls to the ground. The bill for the re-organization of an Insane Asylum, has received the Executive sanction and is now the law of the land.

The Democratic State Convention which met here on Thursday, was a full representation from every section of the Commonwealth. With unparalleled unanimity, only two voices dissenting, they again placed in nomination our very worthy and talented Chief Magistrate, David E. Porter. This augurs well for the good cause, and is an earnest of his triumphant election by an overwhelming majority in October next.

Gen. Harrison's inaugural arrived here on Friday evening, and was eagerly sought after by all parties. It is a strange compound of generalities, without a single declaration of principle on any of the great leading questions of the day. An old man is evidently still under the care of his Committee.

Mr. Editor:—The fire which occurred in our Borough last week, was so singularly managed, that some notice of the incident seems proper. Our Fire Companies are so generally called upon on such occasions, that praise rather than blame would be more consonant with the feelings of our citizens. But for the good of all, for the security of our property, evident departures from discipline and order ought to be noticed and corrected. The companies were promptly on the ground, they exerted themselves to great effect, and every flame was promptly extinguished, but every one observed the great want of system and regularity in their operations causing much delay and useless expenditure of labor. The chief difficulty seemed to be the absence of a directing and controlling power, there was no one to direct where and how a lane should be opened, and no one to enforce such directions upon the multitude to form, but from want of authority, were not obeyed—there were none to guard the house and manage the operations of those engaged in stripping it of its contents. From want of this, much waste was made of property and the front building flooded with water while the fire was all behind—might not something be done to remedy these evils in the management of fires?

FOURTH OF MARCH CONVENTION.

This body met in the Court House, at Harrisburg, on Thursday the fourth of March, 1841. On motion of William J. Leiper, JAMES CLARK, of Indiana, was appointed temporary Chairman.

JOHN B. GURRUS, of Allegheny, and THOMAS B. FLORENCE, of Philadelphia, Secretaries.
Mr. Myers, of Delaware, moved that the list of delegates, as published in the democratic papers at Harrisburg, be called over.

Mr. Sterigore suggested the propriety of having the list of delegates called over, in order that they might have in their recollection the names of those who were present at the meeting.
Mr. Burnsides moved, that the list be published in the Keystone Reporter, and Gazette, to be read over and received as evidence of election, except in the cases of contested seats, which was agreed to.

The list of undisputed delegates were then called over, when the following gentlemen answered to their names.
