A SPECIAL ELECTION. By reference to another column it will be seen that Gov. Porter line issued his proclamation for a special election in this district, to supply the vacancy in the next Congress. This is rendered necessary on account of the called session, and the Democracy of the District will at once have to prepare for the election. As a preparatory movement we insert the following notice, and trust that it will be prompt y attended to:

STANDING COMMITTEE.

THE EXTRAORDINARY SESSION.

It is time for the people of the United States to begin to inquire whether they are to be any longer consulted in the affairs of Government, or whether they are to be led blindfold from one measure to another, until they know not where they are to end. We have just had a Presidential election, in which no principle was declared, or any system of which no principle was declared, or any system of president's house with respectable fixtures. How policy, or any set of measures, was put in issue by stand on? Whig brethren in the premises, and how the victo ious party.

We have just had a session of Congress, in endorsement of Ogle's nonsense has placed them? friends of the present Executive. which, during three months, the victorious party peremptorily refused to show their hand, or t commit themselves on a single principle, measure, cr system, or even to indicate the substitute for that among the whig press, journals are to be found the Independent Trausury, which they propose to which even venture to allude in terms of disappro repeal.

We have just had an inaugural address from the President elect, the largest one ever delivered, and not a word in it to give a glimpse of the course of the new Administration in relation to a single question, foreign or domestic, which occupies the promptly contradicted, we observe is still going aitention of the country.

And now we have a called session of Congress, involving no less than ten special elections, in which the people are not informed what it is that they are to vote on at these elections, or what it is that their representatives are to vote on when they meet together at the extraordinary session in May. kind cannot

Truly these are new scenes in the history of our country, and such as distinctly announce to the people that they are to be governed and not to govern! that hereafter they are to follow and not to lead the Government! that submission and acquiescense, passive obedience, and non-resistance, is ting Committee now in session, which costs the to be their part in time to come!

If ever there was an occasion upon earth in which the people ought to have been informed toil and expense of ten special elections was to be incurred for-this is the occasion. An election as "Did you ever see him CURRY David R. Porwithout a principle-a session of Congress without a declared measure-an inaugural without a point-and, we may add, a Cahinet without a committal to any things with this chaos of policy before them, certainly the people were entitled to know what they were voting about when voting for Representatives in April, and what these Representatives would be called upon to do when they met together in May. In a free country, where liberty of speech, liberty of the press, freedom of voting, with responsibility in the representative, softee consists of a special committee, raised on voting, with responsibility in the representative, active consists of a special committee, raised on a currency exclusively metallic, or no country and the right of instruction in the constituent, prevails, certainly it was time, in calling this extra of course, the chairman. Ostensibly it has been bridinary session, to lift the veil; to case the myster, to duit the darkness, and emit one ray of conduct of the canal commissioners, but in realitery, to duit the darkness, and emit one ray of conduct of the canal commissioners," but in realilight, for the information of the people. Nothing ty to manufacture POLITICAL CAPITAL in of this has been done. The proclamation for the the coming campaign for John Banks and this called session is dark, is silent, is mysterious, and too, if it cannot otherwise be done, upon the ruins Its words are: "Sundry important and weighty is as unsullied as that of any other gentlemen in matters, principally growing out of the condition of the commonwealth. THE FEDERAL PAPERS AND THE INAUGURAL. Almost every place that we hear from, the Federal editors and leaders looked upon the Inaugural address of President Harrison when it was first received as a hoax. There is not much wonder in this, for they had flattered themselves that it was to be something extraordinary-and so it is-but not in the way they supposed. It is extraordinary. for its length-extraordinary for its silly bombast and egotism-extraordinary for its clumsy, awkward, and unmeaning references to ancient history, having no bearing parallel to the cases with which they were compared-extraordinary because it proposes nothing for the consideration of the peo ple, nor any measures for their relief from the pe cuniary embarrassments with which they are surrounded, and which were to be swept away as with the wand of the magician. No wonder, then, that his friends considered it a hoax, for they were hoaxed most egregiously, when they believed, or pretended to believe, that Gen. Harrison was a man of statesman-like talents, capable of producing a document creditable to the nation and the station he occupies. All who believed this were hoaxed, and we verily believe that many now wish that the annunciation of his election had been ; hoax rather than reality. Even the venerable editor of the Cincinnati Advertiser, the biographer of Gen. Harrison, though an opponent, could not believe the document to be genuine, so far was its style and character below what he had expected. following in reference to Ogle's speech, which We predict that Harrison's supporters are not-yet done being hoaxed. The clumsy allusions to Greece and Rome repeated again and allusions to Greece and Rome repeated again and a gain, may be thoughtolassic by some, but it would be difficult to prove them so. As to the statement about no republic ever merging into an eristocracy, Gen. Harrison ought to have read the history of Venice, and one or two Commonwealth more than ONE HUNDRED republics we could name, before he made the weeping assertions we find in his message.

The miserable manner in which the subject of abolition, and especially the subject of our foreign relations are slurred over, is sufficient to stamp the naugural with reproach from all.

The Philadelphia Ledger, a paper neutral in olitics, holds the following pertinent language: "The currency question is entered into. The idea of an exclusively metallic currency he considers to be fraught with the most fatal consequences. If there is one measure, he says, better calculated than another to produce that state of things so much deprecated by all true republicans, by which the rich are daily adding to their hoards, in the suspension for five years, permits the Banks to stage here, under the especial supervision of a Mr. and the poor sinking deeper into penury, it is an Lightner, a federal member of the lower house exclusive metallic currency. TO THE PUBLIC.

Mr. Sanderson:—I have read with astonishment an advertisement in your paper, In which a certain JOSEPH O'ITO has published me as a Runaway Apprentice. With your permission, I embrace the same medium of informing the public of the true state of the case. I acknowledge I was with him in the capacity of an apprentice for about eleven months—but at the expiration of that time, finding it altogether impossible, according to the bargain which we had, to serve him any longer, I asked liberty of him to obtain my freedom, which he accordingly granted in the presence of witness. He has now taken the privilege of advertising me as having absconded, which is done for the purpose of slandering my character—and, as I observed before, I wish you to publish this, in order to let the public know that the said O'I'TO has published a complete FALSEHOOD against me. Newville, March 19, 1841.
