MOST MELANCHOLY CALAMITY-- DESTRUC-TION OF THE STEAMER ERIE BY FIRE AND LOSS OF NEARLY TWO HUNDRED LIVES! Early this morning we received from the West the most heart-rending intelligence of the total destruction by fire of the splendid steamer Erie, on Lake Erie, and the loss of

Correspondence of the Herald. RAILROAD OFFICE, Syracuse, Aug. 11. Dear Sir: I learn from the passengers from the west this morning that the steamboat Erie, on Lake Erie, was burned at the mouth of Silver Creek, with 160 persons on board, out of which only 27 are known to have escaped. I have my information from a gentleman who has seen some of those who were saved. The particulars of the disaster will reach us by this afternoon train. I learn that the flames spread with rapid. ity in consequence of the bursting of some casks of varnish that were placed near where the fire originated. Yours in haste, N'SGILLMORE. Collector of Syracuse & Utica Railfoad. Destruction of the Steamboat Erieby Fire, and loss of nearly 200 Lives .- The steamer Erie left Buffalo on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock for Chicago. The precise number on board of her is not known, but it is estimated by the captain, from a glance at the register before leaving the harbor, to have exceeded two hundred souls. Amongst the number were several painters who with their materials were on their way to some port up the lake for the purpose of painting a boat lying there. For the above particulars we are indebted to a friend who came down in the boat this morning, and they may be relied upon as correct in all the leading features attending this melancholy occurrence.

Such are all the particulars we have yet received. To night we shall know more of this awful affair. None of the passengers names are known here, and all is suspense, all anxiety. How dreadful!

Capt. Titus, who was on the upper cleck at the time, rushed to the Ladies Ca-bin to obtain the life preservers of which there were from 90 to 100 on board, but so rapid had been the progress of the flames, he found it impossible to enter the cabin.

The captain then returned to the upper deck giving, s he hurried on, his orders to the engineer to stop. The engineer replied that in consequence of the flames he could not reach the engine. The steersman was immediately directed to put the helm hard a starboard. The vessel swung slowly round, heading to the shore, and the boats-there were three on board-were then ordered to be lowered. Two of the boats were lowered, but in consequence of the heavy sea on. and the head way of the vessel, they both swamped as they touched the water.

THE GREAT LETTER WRITER. John Banks has appeared before the public in another 4th of July letter, written for electioneering purposes. In 1840, this electioneering purposes. In 1840, this "would be great man," wrote a letter to the committee in this place, who were superintending the celebration in which he abused and vilified at least two-thirds of the elections of the judicial district where he resides, calling them THIEVES, ROBBERS, and TRAITORS, denouncing them as men opposed to the best interests of our common country. All this was done solely with a view to obtain the good will and main support of Thaddens Stevens, & Co. Since the publication of that letter, Lawyer Banks steamer Erie, on Lake Erie, and the loss of calling them THIEVES, ROBBERS, and nearly two hundred lives and a large amount TRAITORS, denouncing them as men opthe publication of that letter, Lawyer BANKS has received a course of lectures from the Democratic press in this State, which has taught him better sense, and learned him in destitute condition, to do this. When Co-a-coo-chee's family came in, Col. Worth told him that he might go on shore from the schooner where he was confined and see them. He refused to go, saying that though he was anxious to see his family, he would not permit them to see him in irons. The Colonel finally consented to let him go on shore without his shackles, and after a warm greeting with his family, he dined with the Colonel, and then returned n board the schooner. As soon as his irons were replaced, he told Col. Worth that he had but one equest more to make, and that was, "to allow him and his people to go West as soon as possi-ble."
