DEMOCRATIC REPUBLICAN CAN DIDATE FOR GOVERNOR,

DAVID R. PORTER. A Democratic Meeting

Will be held at Bectem's Hotel, to-morrow evenis (Friday,) at early candle light, for the purpose nominating delegates to represent the Borough in the County Convention. A general turn out of the Demo-

We are indebted to the kind attention of our repre sentative in Congress, Hon. Anos Gustine, for vari-

By reference to the Congressional news on the opposite page, our readers will perceive that the Veto of President Tyler has been sustained in the Senate .-On the question, "shall the bill pass," (against the ve-'to) the vote stood 25 yeas, to 24 nays. Not being the constitutional majority, of course the bill falls.

It will be seen, also, that Mr. Clay, in the course of his remarks, gave the President a severe castigation, charging him with perfidy to the Whig party for having dated to exercise the veto power to put down the Bank. Mr. Tyler's course was ably defended by Mr. Rives. None of the Democratic Senators participated in the debute.

THE VETO.

The excellent de the Mining first page, to which we havite public attention. It will be seen that Mr. Tyler takes the broad ground on the subject for which the Democrats have been contending for years-namely, that the Constitution does not grant power to Congress to estab-Tish a Bank with discounting privileges. And he gives his Whig friends plainly and unequivocally o understand that no institution of the kind can ever receive his sanction. Indeed, it is extremely doubtful from the tenor of the message, whether a Bank in any shape or form could meet with his

The message is pointed and well written, and does great credit to its author, let his quondam friends, the Federalists, denounce him as they may. Our only regret is, that he did not likewise veto the bill repealing the Independent Treasury. Had he interposed to save that truly constitutional blan of receiving and disbursing the public fevenues from the ruthless hand of the spoilers, the measure of his renown would have been filled and comple ted. As it is, however, we award him the tribute of praise f r what he has done, and predict that the great body of the people-the honest of all parties, (not bank speculators and bribed Congress men) will hold him in grateful remembrance.

THE DELEGATE ELECTIONS.

We hope our Democratic friends throughout the county will hear in mind that Saturday next, the 28th inst., is the time appointed by the Standing Committee for the election of Delegates to the County Convention. It is of the utmost importance that the people should attend these elections. and select such men as will fairly and faithfully carry out their wishes in the formation of the ticket. It is not unfrequently the case that at some attend, and by their negligence afford an opportu- their spleen on Mr. Tyler for vetoing the Bank bill, own selfish and interested views, regardless of the the message was sent in, hissing and hooting, shouting their duty, in view of the great importance at the and decrees the execution of every decent man. If present juncture of selecting the most judicious ticket possible

We wish to see a full, fair, and honest expression of the popular voice in the formation of the ticket-and we know of no better plan to get at it than in the way we have designated.

A word on another subject. It is sometimes alleged that there exists a little cabal or chque of interested politicians in this borough, who make it a constant practice to dictate to the country people, and who have, uniformly, the ticket ready But this conduct is of a par with what took place in assembles. Whether there is any just foundation campaign, when the same ruffian crew insulted, in the for this allegation, we do not pretend to say. If there be such a dictatorial cabal, of which we have high functionaries of the government. It is of a piece some doubts, we, at least, have neither lot nor part also with the numerous insults and attacks made upon attempt at influencing the Delegates one way or other. It is to be presumed that the people will elect sensible and judicious men to represent them -and, if so, we think they will be proof against any thing like dictation, should it be attempted from any quarter.

We want to see a free and unbiassed expression of the public will, at the County Convention .-Let the best men be selected in each borough and township as Delegates. Let them come together with a full determination to form the very best ticket they possibly can. Let them select is good men and true? for the various offices, with a proper regard for the various sectional interests that may be enlisted, and there can be no doubt but that their proceedings will be endorsed by the whole Democratic party.

These are our views of the subject, freely given for what they are worth-and we throw them out, not in a spirit of dictation, but to draw the attention of the people to what we honestly believe is s matter of very great moment at the present time.

It has been ascertained that the whole number of persons on board the Ericat the time she took first page. It is written by one of the survivors.

THE CHRISTIAN WORLD This valuable religious perfodical, edited by the Rev. Thomas H. We copy the following notice of the Washington correspondence of the Number before us is well filled with highly Ledger, under date of August 17: a contactaining and instructive matter.

Although we are exceedingly rejoiced at the majesty of the people been insulted, in the person of In the debate in the House of Representatives, on eto of President Tyler, and are truly thankful the Chief Magistrate. Last night, after the Whig cau-Mr. Sergeant's Bank Bill, the remark "Heading Capreto of President Tyler, and are truly thankful that there is one man in the national administration ionest and independent enough to stand in the breach between the people and a corrupt monied ristocracy, yet we cannot but compassionate the poor devils of Whigs on their pitiable situation .-It is really enough to melt the heart of an adamant, to hear the lugubtious wailings, and witness the longated countenances of these people, since the eception of the message. The establishment of National Bank was the grand object of all their hard cider carousals and midnight orgies-to effect this they spent thousands and hundreds of thousands in electing Harrison and Tyler. For nine ong years they struggled to break down the democratic administration of the government—and finally succeeded. This done, the idol of their ong cherished hopes appeared within their reach, and they stretched forth their hands to encircle it in their arms. How disappointed! How wofully deceived! The tidings of the veto fell upon their ears like a clap of thunder in a clear sky, and their wo-begone expressions of countenance for the last eight or nine days too plainly indicate the sorrow nd despair that are preying within.

Under these circumstances we would not exulover their fallen condition. We desire not to add another pang to render their situation more deplorable. The blow inflicted by their own President has crushed them to the earth with the force and weight of an Alpine avalanche, and we' wish not o add a feather to the weight of their calamity.-Much rather would we whisper in their ears word of consolation, and, if we dare venture, volunteer a piece of advice which might be of use to them hereafter. Let them give up their foolish notions about a National Bank, which, if estab lished, would prove a curse to the country, and henceforth endeavor to square their conduct by the rules of honesty and justice. If they follow this advice, they will in a short time be restored to a proper state of mind-hecome good citizens-be tented and happy—and bless the day that John Tyler followed the example set by Andrew Jack son in crushing the mother of Monsters.

John Tyler was selected by the Federalists as their candidate for Vice President, not because his principles coincided with their's -- but on the ground of expediency. They knew at the time that his-sentiments on the Bank question were adverse to their own; but, then, it was necessary to carry The outh and they endught by select ing him, holding as he did State Rights principles, de anti-Bank member viginia and the Southern States generally would be secured. So far, with the exception of carrying the vote of Virginla, they succeeded; but it never entered into their calculation that Mr. TYLER might, by some dispensation of Providence, become the acting President of the Republic, as he now is. They attempted a broad game of deception, and succeeded; but they overshot the mark! They dug the pit for the unwary and unsuspecting, but they have fallen into it themselves—and the conduct of Mr. Tyler will teach them a lesson which may be of immense service to them hereafter "Honesty," in politics as well as every thing else, "is the hest policy;" and whenever a party, as an individual, seek to gain a point by deception and duplicity, they almost invariably suffer for it in the end. The Bank Federalists are cursing President Tyler 'up hill and down dale" since he strangled the Monster. They call him by every opprobious epithet in the whole vectabulary of billingsgate, and some of them even go so far as to say the "d—d rascal" ought to e hung or have his throat cut! These expressions, owever, are not used for the first time by these lead ers of the "all decency" party. They talked in the me refined style about the venerable Jackson after his veto of the Bank, as a majority of our renders will recollect. The reason is obvious. These Bank Fed. eralists want to finger the people's money to keep them up in their splendid style of living—and if an BONEST man happens to turn the key upon the coffers, and then drop it into his pocket, their hopes of plunder are at once prostrated. John Tyler has proved himself to be an HONEST MAN-hence the de

WHIG DECENCY.—We learn from the Washnity to designing individuals to carry out their paraded before the President's House on the night after wishes of the mass. We have repeatedly warned and playing the Rogue's March, much to the terror the people against indulging in this kind of apathy and annoyance of his family. Such villainous, blackand we now the more earnestly urge them to guard conduct is a disgrace to the Capital of the Nation. the Chief Magistrate of the Union is not safe in tha Whig city from the insults of Bank ruffians, we think pretty near time that the seat of government should removed. Where were the Federal Mayor and his Federal police officers, that they did not protect Mr. Tyler from so gross an indignity? In all probabili these functionaries of the city government w CEPS CRIMINES; for it is scarcely possible that in a city like Washington, and in a quarter near the most densely populated part thereof, such a transaction could tak place without the police having some knowledge of it "cut and dry" for the County Convention when it the same city during the last Hard Cider Presidential dead hour of night, the family of Mr. Kendall and other with them-nor could we be induced to make any the patriotic Jackson, for daring to attack the Biddle

We care not who occupies the Executive mansion -he ought to be secure from insult. Whatever may be the opinion entertained of the man, or howev much he may differ from a portion of the people about particular measures, still, respect for the high station he occupies ought to be a sufficient protection of his person and family from ruffianism and indignity. We opposed Mr. Tyler's election from principle, and deprecated his election, as also Gen. Harrison's, because we believed then, and yet do, that their measures (with one exception-the veto of the Bank bill) would be adverse to the best interests of the country; but yet we could not be induced, under any circumstances, to offer an indignity to the selected chief of the Republic and this we are proud to believe, is the sentiment of the whole Democratic party. It is reserved for Whig leaders and Bank myrmidons to insult the Chief Mag-istrate of their own choice, merely because he had more honesty and conscientiousness more regard for the Inquirer, (Whig) in a letter announcing the Veto, says: solemn oath he took to support the constitution—than themselves, and because he would not aid in rearing up is to ramain; but the President has unequivocally degreat money power, to make use of the public money in affording them accommodations, and enable the THEY ACT IN CONCERT WITH HIM, AND NOT ASSUME 27th of September. ould-be nobility to speculate upon the hard earnings ANY EXECUTIVE YUNCTIONS. When the scoundrels finally retreated, they unhinged the gates, and committed other outrages of a similar bruin nature. If the President of the United States is not to be protected against a lawless and outrageous mob of gamblers, loafers, and vagabonds, of the worst description, our whole Government would soon be nothing more than a farce, a mere laughing stock to other nations. This, however, furnishes an index to the hearts of those who were guilty of the outrage—it will teach the people a lesson which, it is to be hoped; will not soon be forgotten.

ANOTHER-STONEBREAKER FALSEHOOD NAILED TO THE COUNTER!

We were family impressed with the conviction, that the result or cit catapangie in con day taught the habitual calumniances found wither foderal reals a lesson aparts of their evil practices, which they would not soon forget. In this we were mistaken. Despite the bitter teachings of experience, we find their presses not only cautiously neviving the infamous Peggy Beatty and John Stonebreaker stories, which they so iously circulated in 1838, and which so fearfully RECOILED upon themselves, but we find them concocting new inventions, and circulating new falsehoods and calumnies. One of their latest stories, put in circulation to defame Governor Porter is, that he is habitually "INTEMPERATE IN HIS HABITS!-This vile and dastardly calumny, they do not it is true, circulate through the medium of their newspapers, but they do it secretly, by means of profligate and abandoned instruments, who retail it from house to house, whisper it cautiously into the ear of the credulous and unwary, and thus send the tale of falsehood on its weary travel" through the state. The object of this ase and truly despicable calumny is evident. It is neither more or less, than to turn that commendable and holy enthusiasm for the great and glorious caus of Temperance, which is now every where manifest ing its gratifying results, to POLITICAL account. and thus convert a cause which is eminently noble and sacred, to ends that are lamentably ignoble and fiendish. Now, located as we are at the seat of govrnment, and in the habit of daily intercourse with DAVID R. PORTER, we pronounce this infamous story a VILE CALUMNY, destitute of even the shadow of truth, FALSE as the fiendish hearts that concocted and the lying tongues that are engaged in its dissemi nation. There fives not that man in Harrisburg, yes he lives not ANT WHERE, who is more rigidly AB-STEMIOUS in this particular than David R. Porter or whose entire "walk and conversation" presents a nobler exemplification of morality and virtue than that of our worthy Chief Magistrate. This is a matter notoriously acknowledged by friend and foe in Harrised (as we believe) a host of petty retail slanderers to poverty, degradation and misery. Who can conten thus lend themselves to such an undertaking, are sufficiently steeped in iniquity to commit any offence in the criminal calendar, and we caution the honest portion of the public to BEWARE of their approaches. It was a deliberate design to cheat the American people, and secure an Administration which would authorize a Bank, and carry out all the odious Federal measures of the Hamiltonian school. BANKS

A more villainous system of knavery was never derised, than the modern system of Banking, to rob the people of their hard earnings and to enrich the bloated ristocrats who assume the exclusive privilege of managing the machines. Crash after crash, scarcely have the first tidings of Bank failures, robberies, and clopements, died on the car, till again and again they pass in disgusting and sickening review before the imagina. tion. One explosion is the signal for others to follow, and thus, in quick succession, the bubbles burst, and leave the unfortunate, but too confiding creditor, to mourn, in utter despondency and destitution, over the perfidy of man, and the wreck of all his hopes and fond anticipations of conifort and prosperity, amassed, perhaps, by a life of industry and toil.
