CARLISLE: THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1841.

CPA Special Court of Common Pleas will be held for this county, commencing on Monday next, by his Honor, Judge PARSONS, of Harrisburg.

In the Common Pleas of Cumberland County. William Means

The Presbyterian Church in No. 52 August Tern 1840. he Borough of Shippens-

This was an action of Ejectment brought to recover : church lot & building in the Borough of Shippensburg, which had been conveyed by the Messrs. Suirpen, the Proprietors of that town, as early as 1794 to Messrs. 1835 her Majesty's cruisers on the coast of Africa have detained and sent in for adjudication 14 Brazilian JOHN MEANS and R. McCALL, in trust for the Congregation at that place styled the "Associate Reformed vessels without slaves on board, and only two with slaves on board. Preshyterian," to be held by them and their heirs in You will see, therefore, from these facts, that the trust for that purpose forever. The original grantors being both dead, the Plaintiff, as the heir at law of John Means, brought the suit to recover the property from the Presbyterians in whose possession, as alleged, It has been solely and exclusively for the last seventeen years. Some of the facts elicited upon the trial, appear to be these: . The church was built in 1796 or 7-and about the same period, the Rev. Mr. -WALKER, of the Associate Reformed Presbytery of Big Spring, was chosen Pastor, and continued in that capacity until 1821 .----He then left, and the Rev. Mr. STRONG of the same Presbytery, was appointed in his place, and continue about two years. In 1823 the building was enlarged by a general subscription, and the Rev. HENRY R. WILSON, of the Presbyterian Church, was called to the discharge of the Pastoral dutley, and continued until about the time this suit was brought.

On the part of the Plaintiff, it was in evidence that the church in question had always went by the name of the Seceder Church (the name by which the Associato Reformed people are generally known) until the time Mr. Wilson began to preach-that the congregation received a large accession of Presbyterians at that line from a peighboring congregation—and that that line from a peighboring congregation—and that there for the from time, it was recognized as a Party of the finite in the deed of trust did not after the grant, as it is not uncommon for the Seceders to be called by the name of the Associato Reformed Presbyterians-and that should the Presbyterians be permitted to hold the property, it would be clearly a violation of the intenion of the donors. It was given in evidence by the Defendants, that a large majority of those who were members of the Conmagnitude, and subsequently 'reached to the Clock Tower, which fell with a most tremendous ernshu-Fears were entertained for the Jewel Tower, which was broken open, and the valuable diamonds, crowns, sceptres, &ca, were removed. At five o'clock, on Sun-day morning the fire abated its fury. The value of the property destroyed is estimated at one million pounds sterling. It is supposed that this disastrous startling fire was the result of accident alone, and caused by the over-heading of some flues addisping the gregation during Messrs. Walker and Strong's Minis try, continued to be members under Mr. Wilson-and that, with some few exceptions, the same men, with their descendents, still continued to worship there. It was contended farther on the part of the Defendants, that the deed of conveyance by the Measrs. Shippen could not have meant the Associate Reformed Church vione, inasmuch as the word Presbyterian was added, but must have intended it for a MIXED congregation as they allege it still is. The cause was argued with great ability by Meters REED and WATTS for the Plaintiff, and by Messrs BINNER and ALEXISDER for the Defendants. The Jury retired, after an elaborate charge from his Honor, Judge HEFBERN, and after nearly seven hours delibe ration, returned into Court with a verdict for the De fendants

The trial lasted from Thursday evening of the last of Main from Cherry to Locust streets. The wind week till Monday evening of the present one, and blicited considerable interest in the community.

The case, we understand, will be carried up to the was done that strong arms and stout hearts could do to Supreme Court, on a writ of error, for final adjudicastay the progress of the destroying element.
