

Phthisis Pulmonalis

It is a very prevalent disease, and carries off millions to the cold and silent grave. It is the most common cause of human life. This disease commences at first with a dry hacking cough, pain in the breast and side, loss of appetite, and restless nights. At length a wasting or emaciation of the whole body is perceived, which is called by the vulgar consumption, and all other diseases of the lungs and Lungs. A full treatment is given of diseases in a small pamphlet, which can be had gratis of the Agent, where the Medicine can always be obtained. Price $1 per bottle.

ENTIRELY NEW LABELS.

THE public will please observe that no Brand is so well known as the one which has been used in my Kitchen for about two months. I have inspected it and examined the principles upon which it is constructed. I have also made a trial of it, and find it to be a very valuable article. It is represented as being remarkably well, and as being a saving of fuel. The circulation of the heat so extensively after it is generated, and covered it up as a toy, incapable of any thing but boiling. I am of the opinion that the use of it, from the numerous and various implements employed about it in cooking, at the same time.

I have had sufficient time to try Hathaway's Patent Hot Air Cooking Stove, which you put up in my kitchen, and am prepared to certify to its good qualities. I find that large quantities of water can be heated with it in a short time; that for cooking it boils, roasts meat, and bakes bread. The provision in this cooking stove for baking bread is the only arrangement I have ever seen in an article of the kind, and all calculated to accomplish that object. The simplicity of its arrangements are its great recommendation, the entire heat is applied to the purpose intended, and I verily believe a great saving of fuel is effected. Comparing the Hot Air Cooking Stove with the much celebrated Rotary, the latter covers its capacity as a toy, incapable of any thing but boiling. I am of the opinion that the use of it, from the numerous and various implements employed about it in cooking, at the same time.

Messrs. E. Robinson & Co.—GENTLEMEN.—

I have in use in my kitchen one of Hathaway's Patent Hot Air Cooking Stoves, and can recommend it as a very superior article. The one I have is No. 3, it has 5 boilers and an oven sufficiently large to bake 6 loaves of bread. The baking, roasting and boiling, can be done at the same time and with much less wood than required for any stove I have ever used. The size appears to be peculiarly calculated for Farmers, and for their convenience I invite them to call and see this stove. If I shall take pleasure in showing the stove to those who wish to see it.

Carlisle, September 12, 1841.

Messrs. E. Robinson & Co.

Gentlemen—I have fairly tested the "Hot Air Stove" which you put up in my house and can recommend it as possessing principles of economy and convenience far surpassing any other stove which I have ever seen. The boilers coming in immediate contact with the fire gives it great facilities for boiling, and the oven is heated on such a principle that bread is baked in a fine manner in a brick oven. I find it also a great saving of fuel and labor, and would advise all to adopt it.

M. McCLELLAN.

Carlisle, September 12, 1841.

Messrs. E. Robinson & Co.

Gentlemen—I have during the few days I have had your Hathaway Hot Air Stove in use become convinced of its great superiority over all other stoves I have used or seen—I find by the trial that boiling, roasting, baking and broiling may all be done at the same time, in a most perfect manner and with less than one fourth the fuel I have ordinarily used for the same purposes. I have heretofore been of the opinion bread could not be well baked in a brick oven; but I am convinced upon a trial that it can be done as well in your stove as in a brick oven. I believe that the general introduction of your stoves into use will be very beneficial to the public, therefore I shall take pleasure in recommending it to my friends.
