

against this force, which succeeded in cutting them off from the main body. The Mexicans were scattered with a flag of truce, to demand the immediate surrender of this force. The Mexican officer, pretending not to understand the character of his mission, insisted that he should be allowed to proceed to the camp of Santa Anna's headquarters. This was a ruse to get to the camp of Santa Anna's headquarters from their dangerous position, and pending this ruse they were being cut off from the main body of the army. The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it. The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

The Mexicans were then conducted to the position of the tent of the Mexican General-in-Chief, which was a long distance from the scene of action, and which he thought the safest place had been in during the whole day. As he approached the tent, he was met by two of his officers, who were armed with revolvers and pistols, and who were ordered to keep him from the tent, and to shoot him if he attempted to enter it.

schelon to the rear, past the right, in order to gain his proper position—in the execution of which he became necessary to attack and take possession of two redoubts thrown up by the enemy, on one of which was a piece of artillery, and both filled with infantry. The redoubts were attacked, charged, and taken. The troops were then ordered to the rear, and were dispersed in all directions, some being killed, wounded, and prisoners—our loss some seven killed and several wounded. Captain Alburta, of the Second Infantry, was killed by a round shot, supposed to be from the Castle, and severed his head from his body, the same shot taking of the arm of a drummer (a boy) and wounding a private. Capt. Alburta was a Virginian, and formerly conducted a paper in Frederickburg; the ball with which he was killed passed entirely over one of the Pennsylvania regiment's banners, and reached the spot where the brave but unfortunate captain was sitting. Col. Dixon was wounded in the breast by a musket shot.

The skirmishing was, however, no check to the advance, which passed easily to the rear position on the hill and rear of the city, where it halted and commenced the work of intrenchment. The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

The pipes used for the purpose of supplying the city with fresh water, have been discovered and broken up, completely cutting off the supply from the wells, which are situated some distance from the city.

Grand Triumphant Exhibition OF THE VAST AND MAGNIFICENT COLLECTION OF WILD ANIMALS.

Will exhibit in Carlisle, on Monday the 19th April, 1847, for one day only. Hours of exhibition from 2 to 4 P. M. Prices of admission 25 cents. Children under 9 years of age, half price.

C. E. BRISTOL, Agent. THE CARVALETTI. A CARVALETTI. A CARVALETTI.

COLOSSAL ROMAN CHARIOT, constructed after the model of the ancient Chariots of the Roman conquerors, in the most costly and gorgeous style of workmanship, being 20 feet in length by 17 feet in height, drawn by EIGHT BULOCKS.

BEAUTIFUL DAPPLE GREY HORSES that could be selected, regardless of expense, will parade through the principal streets to the SPACIOUS PAVILION erected for the Exhibition of THIS COLLECTION OF WILD ANIMALS.

PERFORMANCES OF VAN AMBURGH, whose dominion of these terrible and powerful creatures has been so universally acknowledged throughout Europe and America.

THE above Celebrated EXHIBITION OF ANIMALS will exhibit in Chambersburg, on the 16th; at Shippensburg, on the 17th; at Lancaster, on the 18th; York 21st; Columbia 22d; and at Lancaster again on the 23d.

April 8, 1847.—21

Cheap Book Binding. Every description, which for neatness and durability, shall be equal to any executed in Carlisle, done by the undersigned, at the Book and Stationery Store of the Union and Book Store, No. 12 South Second Street, Carlisle, April 8, 1847.—41

NOTICE. I hereby give notice that I have taken possession of the estate of John M. Reister, late of Dickinson township, dec'd., have been issued by the Register to the subscriber living in the same township, Cumberland county. All persons indebted to said estate will make payment, and those having claims will present them for settlement.

ABRAHAM MYERS, Adm'r. April 8, 1847.—61

Horse Farrier. THE subscriber offers himself to your consideration as a FARRIER, an independent assistant to persons having horses. All horses submitted to his eye will be provided with medicine and a stable under his immediate superintendence, and the greatest care will be taken to effect a speedy and perfect cure. All diseases of whatever nature can be cured by the undersigned.

LEWIS BUSH. Carlisle, April 8, 1847.—41

LIST OF LETTERS. ADVERTISED IN THE "VOLUNTEER" BY APPOINTMENT. Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Under the new Postage Law, advertised letters are charged two cents each, in addition to the regular postage.

Register's Notice. NOTICE is hereby given to all persons interested that the following accounts have been filed in this office for examination by the Orphans' Court of Cumberland county, for confirmation and allowance, on Tuesday the 27th day of April 1847.

1. The account of Jacob Kirk, jr. and George Crist, administrators of John Crist, late of Allen township, dec'd.

2. The account of David Lehn, administrator of Samuel Brenner, late of Silver Spring township, dec'd.

3. The account of Tobias Miller, executor of Henry Rich, late of Monroe township, dec'd.

4. The account of Joseph McCreey, administrator of Erudence Michaels, late of Silver Spring township, dec'd.

5. The account of Jacob Burkhardt, dec'd., late executor of James Herron, late of the Borough of Newville, dec'd., settled by Scott Ogyle, executor of the said deceased, dec'd.

6. The account of John Fishburn and Anthony Fishburn, administrators of Philip Fishburn, late of Westpenningborough township, dec'd.

7. The account of Scott Coyle, administrator of Roswell D. French, late of the Borough of Newville, dec'd.

8. The account of John Zimmerman, guardian of Anna Eliza Gross, minor daughter of Henry Gross, late of Monroe township, dec'd.

9. The account of Frederick Zeigler, administrator of Henry Weikel, late of Westpenningborough township, dec'd.

10. The account of William Brooks and David Brooks, administrators of William Brooks, sr. late of Allen township, dec'd.

11. The supplemental and final administration account of Henry Rupp, executor of Jacob Rupp, late of Eastpenningborough township, dec'd.

12. The account of Francis Eckels, one of the executors of John Waugh, sr. late of Silver Spring township, dec'd.

13. The account of George Hetrick, administrator of the goods of the said deceased, dec'd.

14. The account of John H. Antriek, late of Franklin county, State of Indiana, dec'd.

15. The account of William Harper, executor of Jane McKinstry, late of Dickinson township, dec'd.

16. The account of William Green, administrator of John Green, late of Newton township, dec'd.

17. The account of William Kettle, administrator of Peter Weaver, late of Millin township, dec'd.

18. The account of Jacob Lehman, sr. and Jacob Lehman, jr., executors of Adam Lehman, late of South Middleton township, dec'd.

19. The account of Thomas Ball, executor of Ann Loudon, late of Monroe township, dec'd.

20. The account of William Brown, administrator of Rebecca McElhenry, late of Millin township, dec'd.

21. The account of Robert Laird, and James C. Archer, executors of John Johnson, late of the Borough of Newville, dec'd.

22. The account of Peter Bernhart, administrator of William Keitzler, late of Eastpenningborough township, dec'd.

23. The account of George Roth, administrator of Jacob Dougherty, late of Westpenningborough township, dec'd.

24. The account of Samuel Woodburn, administrator of John Nogle, dec'd. late of South Middleton township, dec'd.

25. The supplemental and final administration account of Henry Jacobs, one of the executors of Jacob Hummer, late of North Middleton township, dec'd.

26. The account of John Myers, administrator of Jacob Messinger, late of Allen township, dec'd.

27. The account of Samuel Ziegler, one of the executors of Jacob Hummer, late of North Middleton township, dec'd.

28. The account of John Stuart, sr. executor of Nancy Hogue, late of the Borough of Carlisle, dec'd.

29. The account of Jacob Burkhardt, dec'd., late administrator of Jacob Kissinger, late of Westpenningborough township, dec'd.

30. The account of John Stuart, sr. executor of Nancy Hogue, late of the Borough of Carlisle, dec'd.

Life Insurance with Prospective Bonus. The Girard Life Insurance, Annuity and Trust Company of Philadelphia.

Capital $300,000—Charter Perpetual. Office No. 159 Chesnut street.

CONTINUE to make Insurance on Lives, grant Annuities and Endowments, and to accept Trusts from Individuals, Corporate Bodies, and Courts of Justice, and execute them agreeably to the desire of the Parties; and receive Deposits of Money in Trust and on interest.

The Company add a Bonus at stated periods to the Insurance for Life. The first Bonus was appropriated in December, 1844, amounting to 10 per cent. on the sum insured under the oldest policies, & 8 1/2 per cent. 7 1/2 per cent. &c.; or others in proportion to the time of standing; making an addition of $100, $27 50, $75, &c. on every $1,000 originally insured.

The operation of the Bonus will be seen by the following examples from the Life Insurance Register of the Company, thus:

Amount of Policy and Bonus payable at the Rate of the Bonus.

No. 10 100 100 1,400

20 2,500 250 2,750

30 4,000 400 4,400

40 5,000 500 5,500

50 6,000 600 6,600

60 7,500 750 8,250

70 9,000 900 9,900

80 10,500 1,050 11,550

90 12,000 1,200 13,200

100 13,500 1,350 14,850

Example.—A person aged 30 years insured for $1,000 by paying to the Company $1.31 would secure to himself, if he lived to be 100, should he die in one year; or for $13 10 he secures to himself $1,000; or for $13 60 he secures to himself $1,000; or for $23 60 he secures to himself $1,000; or for $23 60 he secures to himself $1,000; or for $23 60 he secures to himself $1,000.

Further particulars respecting Life Insurance, Truists, &c. may be had at the Office.

B. W. RICHARDS, President. JNO. F. JAMES, Actuary.

Philadelphia, March 11, 1847.—6m

HOWELL & BROTHERS. Manufacturers of Paper Hangings. HAVE removed their store to No. 113 Chesnut street, South East corner of Carpenter's Court, Philadelphia, where they are constantly receiving from their Factory

PAPER HANGINGS, BORDERS, FIRE BOARD PAINTS. Also splendid Decoration Fresco Paper for Parlor.

These and most approved styles of Architectural Borders, Cornices with Capitals, Pilasters and Paneling Statures, Pedestals, Lintels, &c. &c. They are also making a new article of Double Window Curtain Paper 4 1/2 wide.

They also inform the public that there is the only Factory in the country which produces many of the new articles, such as Stairs, Pyramids, Niches, Fireboard Prints, &c., and which they warrant equal to any imported.

They are in possession of Five Silver Medals, received from the Institutes at Boston, New York and Philadelphia, being the highest premiums awarded for Paper Hangings by those Institutions for the last four years.

Philadelphia, March 25, 1847.—3m

Proclamation. WHEREAS the Honorable SAMUEL MENDENHALL, President Judge of the several Courts of Cumberland County, in the Counties of Cumberland, Perry and Juniata, in Pennsylvania, and Justice of the several Courts of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, in said counties, and Hon. John Stuart and Thomas C. Miller, Judges of the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, for the trial of all capital and other offences, in the said county of Cumberland, by their precepts to me directed, dated the 25th day of January, 1847, have ordered the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, to be held at Carlisle on the second Monday of April next, (being the 12th day) at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to continue two weeks.

NOTICE is therefore hereby given, to the Coroners, Justices of the Peace and Constables of the said county of Cumberland, that they are by the said precept commanded to be then and there in their proper persons, with their rolls, records, inquisitions, examinations and all other remembrances, to do those things which to their offices appertain, to be done and all things that are bound by reason of law to be done, and that the prisoners that are or then shall be in the Jail of said county, are to be there to prosecute them as shall be just.

JAMES HOPFER, Sheriff. Sheriff's Office, Carlisle, Feb. 25, 1847.—61

NOTICE. LETTERS of administration on the estate of Salome Reigter, late of Dickinson township, Cumberland county, Pa., have been granted by the Register of said county to the subscriber residing in said township, county aforesaid. All persons indebted to said estate and those having claims will present them properly authenticated for settlement.

GEORGE W. REIGTER, Adm'r. March 25, 1847.—61

ESTATE NOTICE. LETTERS testamentary on the estate of Christopher Molter, late of Allen township, Cumberland county, Pa., have been granted by the Register