In the Chamber of Deputies, at 1 o'clock, M. Sau-ret took the chair, in presence of about 300 members. Shortly afterwards it was statted that the Duchess of Orleage had arrived at the palace with her two sons. The Princess soon appeared at the left door, accom-panied, by the two princes and the Dukes de Ne-mours and Montpension. The young Count de Period antered first. Led by a state of the source of t panied, by the two princes and the Dukes de Ne-mours and Montpensior. The young Count de Paris entered first, led by one of the members of the House. He penetrated with difficulty as far as the semicircle, which was crowded with officers and soldiers of the National. Guard. His presence produced a lively impression on the assembly. Almost immediately afterwards the Duchess entered, and seated herself aforwards the Denerso Fortee, and succe associated associa-is an arm chair between her two sons. The hall was then foreibly entered by a multitude of armed inen of the lower orders and National Gaurds. The Princess and her children then retired Guarus. I no r rincoss and her children then retired to one of the upper bonches of the centre, opposite the presidential chair.

the presidential chair. The greatest agitation and uproar prevailed, and when silonce was restored M. Dupin rose and an-nounced to the assembly that the King had abdicated in favor of his grandson, and conforred the regency on the Duckess of Orleans. A voice from the public there will be the the "

gallery-"It is too late." An indescribable scene of tumult ensued: A hum-An indescription scene of turnit ensued: A hum-ber of deputies collected round the Duchess and her children and the Dukes of Nemours and Montpon-sier. National Guards also rallied round the royal family. M. Mario then ascended lie tribune; his voice was drowned by deafoning cries. When silence was re-stored, M. Marie said that in the critical situation in which the capital was placed, it was urgently neces-sary to adopt some measures calculated to calm the popolation. Since moriling the evil had nate im-mense progress. Shall we problim this Duke de Nemeurs or the Duchess of Orleans regent? M. Cremieux, who folldwed, was of opinion to uphold the new Government. M. Genoude thought that an ap-peal ought to be addressed to the people. Odillon Barrot next, astended the tribune; and ad-vocated the rights of the Duchess d'Orleans. M: Lorochejaquelin supported the appeal to the people. M. Lamartine and M. Ledru Rollin insisted on the inccessity of appointing a Frovincial Government.-M. Sauzet here put on his hat, and concluded the sit-ting. The Princes' retired, followed by all the mem-bers of the Centre; those of the late alled, or rather carried, M. Dupont de, Teurs to the Preisidential chair. The tribune and all the soals wire occupied by the people and Nationial Guerta, and the names of the Guevent members of the Preisfedntial Guevent M. Marie then ascended the tribune; his voice was by the people and National Guards; and the names of the following members of the Froincial Govern-ment were proclaimed amidst a scone which has not been witnessed since the Convention: M. GARNIER PAUER, M. LEDRU ROLIN; M. LAMARTINE; M.
