With a magic—No surreniver!

We soldom meddle with poetry in our columns; but there are so many individuals in life, merchants, mechanics, manufacturers, and business mer generally, who are disposed to yield at the first reverse, who bow before the first storm of misfortune, who become unnerved, unmanned, at the loss of a few become unnerved, unmanned, at the loss of a few become unnerved, unmanned, at the loss of a few become unnerved, unmanned, at the loss of a few thousand dollars; that an occasional word of incentive, a timely rally, an encouraging smile—are all necessary. The truth, every man has his troubles. There does not live an human being, whose mind for a series of years may be considered perfectly calm quiet, and tranquil. Some are too timid. They lack the resolution to embrace any enterprise, however tempting, and hence they get behind-hand. Others tempting, and hence they get behind-hand. Others tempting, and hence they get behind-hand. Others for the get of the generally hazardous system; and in a large majority of cases, they find in the distribution of the content of The state of the s

CALIFORNIA BELLE. An officer of the navy, in a letter to the Home Jon nal, thus sketches the daughter of a ranchero:

CAUSES AND ANTIDOTE OF CONSUMP

The larger the lungs the more perfect their development, the less they are liable to pulmonary consumption. That the more they are exercised the larger they will become; that as we take active or go laborious exercise our lungs will be continually endeated as a consumption. That the more they are exercised the larger they will become; that as we take active or go laborious exercise our lungs will be continually endeated as a consumption of the latest and collapse their walls, as a bird folds up its plumage.

By this we learn that pure air, and even cold air, and should be renorted to with the greatest confidence both to prevent and cure their diseases.

It is found in the history of the American Indians and should be renorted to with the greatest confidence both to prevent and cure their diseases.

It is found in the history of the American Indians and the most include the prevent and cure their diseases.

It is found in the most extreme point north to Patagonia south, embracing all varieties of climate and location; jesting in the frigid, temperate and torrid, zones; occupying every variety of situation on the seaboard, and on the borders of the lakes, on the tops of the highest lands, and in the most seculed devalley on the wide spread and open prairies, and in the most acid deserts; the countries of the greatest humidity, and where it rarely ever rains, as in Pero, but it all these countries, and every where, such a thing as a pulmonary consumption has never occurred, whilst these people remained in their savage state. Bring them into our settlements, civilize them, and let them adopt our habits, and they become as liable to consumption as ourselves. By what peculiarities is the Indian distinguished from the civilized American? First, the American Indian's as an old prover, whose truth is instartly recognized by all who ever saw the wild Indian; his othest is perfect symmetry; hisshoulder blades are laid flat against his chest, and the whole percon is often exposed to the open mal, thus sketches the daughter of a ranchero:

You have never seen a Californian belle. A real, genuine, out-and-out, live, native belle, I mean; indigenous to the soil. I can assure you I have nearfy ly lost my heart with one of them, the daughter of a ranchero, who lives about forty miles in the interior; and should my application for leave of absence prove unsuccessful, I don't know but what I shall really become a ranchero myself! The girl is beautiful; her complexion is of a dark, ruddy hue, tinged with red, like the leaves in autumn; with raven tresses, eyes intensely sparkling, teeth as white as pearls, but not like them, for no string of pearls was over so regular; a faultless form, embodying a soul as pure and guilo less as an angel's. In addition to all these natural declarations, and the seed of the Well, gentlemen, there she is—what do you think of her? A paragon, truly! Don't be alarmed if she should make a descent upon your quiet little circles, some of these fine mornings, for there is no danger to be apprehended when I am along side. She is delighted with the idea of crossing the Andes, and is ready to accompany me to morrow. So take your telescope, and keep a sharp lookout in the offing for this strange craft.

We learn from Capl. Richardson, that the greatest excitement prevailed in Paris and Have, between the rich and the poor. The rich were in apprehension of being killed daily by the poor. They had to close their doors and strongly bar them. The military were called out on the morning of the 29th ult. for the purpose of stopping any outbreak that might take place.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT. REPUBLIC PROCLAIMED IN PRUSSIA.

AEPUBLIC PROCLAMED IN PRUSSIA.
A tolographic despatch, dated Metz, received yes, terday, states that a Republic had been proclaimed at Berlin. The King had been dethroned, and his Majosty and Ministers arrested.
This news is confirmed by the Paris Commerce of the 25th. That paper says, "this time the fact to official. The telegraph despatch which we add to this was addressed to the Provisional Government, and control at the Brusses.

enthusiasm. It a short speech, he called on them to easiet him in maintaining order. About a handred working men joined the National Juards, saying that they were honest men, and they desired to act with thom. This demostration of the union between the authorities, the National Guard and the people will, says the Journal de Let et Garonne, secure the tranquility of the town, and the triumph of ideas of order and liberty in the department.

The official rourns of the foreign commerce for the first two months of the year show that up to the present time the amount of business has not been considerably diminished. The customs' receipts, it is true, have been reduced, but many articles of first consumption show an increase; as for fastance chig ton, eastings, coals, zine, lead, olong inous seeds, nitraje

Nice the first of March, it is stated that silver plate to the value of fifty millions has been coined into five franc pieces in Paris.

Movelution in Genoa.
We read in the Patria of the 24th ult. At the moment of going to press we were assured that a great movement had taken place at Genon, and that it had detached itself from Sardinia with the project of contributing to the formation of an Italian unity, with a republican form of government.
