The New Orleans Delta gives the following notice of the 11th Regiment of Regulars, which was re uited in Pennsylvania:

ornited in Pennsylvania:

THE ELEVENTH REGIMENT.—Col. Ramsey, of the 11th Regiment U.S. Infantry, accompanied by the regimental staff, has taken passage on the Crescent City, and will proceed to Fort Hamilton with several companies of his regiment. The detachment is accompanied by the band of the regiment, said to be a confident of the facest in the service, and the passengers will, therefore, be enlivened on the passage by the stirring strains of martial music. The regiment is bomposed of fine material, has been theroughly trilled, and is under oxcellent discipline, which relacts much credit upon its officers. The other portion of the regiment, under command of Major Pitcher, left yesterday in the ship America for Fort Hamilton. the foreignment, under command of major Fuener, liefly esterday in the ship America for Fort Hamilton, with the following named officers: Surgeon Cuntains, Lieut. Evans, Acting Quartermaster; Capte. Carr, Campell. and Gregg; Lieuts. Forster, Tippin, Fitzgerald, Bayard, Stout, Wheeler, Schoonover, Davis and Gogdale, and 153 non-commissioned officers and Gogdale, and 153 non-commissioned officers and captures. ts and privates.

雅. Giddings on Taxlorism .- Mr. Giddings, of Ohio has long been conversant with the secret movements f the whig party; and, being one of its allies, he ha f course been brought into conjunction with its lead ers often enough to form a correct judgment respecting them, and the motives by which they are actua ted. Ho savs :

ted. He says:

"Those Whigs who have got up this movement in avor of Gen. Taylor, and knowing him to be in falsor of Gen. Taylor, and knowing him to be in falsor of extending slavery, are men of desperate fortunes, who have been anxious to share in the spoils of office; they are men, who would sell their country.

On Thursday lest May. tunes, who have been auxious to share in the spoits of office; they are men who would sell their country, their party, and their God, for an emphemeral success,—or to enable them to bask in the sunshine of Executive favor. They have underrated the intelligence of, the people. They believe the masses to be as politically corrupt as those who seek to mislead them. Time will demonstrate the error."

Missouri AFTER US .- The St. Louis Union, in epirit of commendable emulation, has given the Deocracy of our State the following notice:

Illinois was the baning State in 1844, and if she rishes to ratain that proud distinction she must out on herself; for Missouri is resolved on bearing off he palm, if possible."

Missouri must prepare to give over twenty thous and for Cass and Butler if she expecte to pull up even vithin hailing distance of Illinois. But Illinois is at this time, more afraid of having to surrender her broud " Banner" to Ohio, to say nothing of Pennsy ania, Virginia, &c., regarding, of course in the callation, the difference in population

State Register.

The Western Reserve.—The Sentinel tries to buoy up the confidence of the despairing Taylorites, by thothing out some hopes of the Western Reserve.—But these hopes are too late. Mr. Giddings and his friends are openly committed against Taylor. Mr. Giddings generally possesses the confidence of the Reserve far more than any man in Ohio. So long as he continues to act fearlessly against the extension of slavery, so long will be have that confidence. In 1844, when Mr. Clay carried Ohio by 5,940, Mr. Giddings' district, composed of only four counties gave Mr. Clay 5,293! majority over Mr. Polk. The other counties of the Reserve added to that 3000 majority. So it is clear that when the Reserve yields, the whig party of Ohio are prostrated. This is a conceded fact. Those who know the indomitable energy of Giddings and Hamlin, are aware that they are not men to shrink from the responsibility they have assumed.

It is known that Gen. Taylor is more distinct.

It is known that Gen. Taylor is more disliked mong the whig masses of Ohio, on account of his dentity with the war and slavery, than any man in mention. If the whigs had nominated Scott or Clay, they could have carried that State; but as it is, Gen. Taylor's prespects in Ohio are below par. As was cogenity said by one intimately acquainted with Ohio politics: "When the whigs in the national convention trampled down Ohio, they crushed out their bwn heart's blood."—Daily Wisconsin.

THE RECEPTION OF THE RETURNED VOLUNTEERS.—
Fo-day the volunteers, who left this city a year and a shalf ago for Mexico, return again to their homes amid the warm welcomes of the whole city. Two years ago they left Philadelphia nearly one thousand in numbers, most of them hale and hearty men; they return to it with their canks dreadfully thinned by death from the hands of the enemy they went to encounter, and a still more subtle for they found in the climate and pestiferous exhalations of the country. Gallantly have they berne themselves in the field and the banner of their native State has been planted in tritiumph on the prondest heights of the enemy's works. The torms of the matter of the rative State has been planted from vore. The torms of the country were won by the noble band that marched from Vera wore won by the noble band that marched from Vera the notal yearly judgment of the very heart of the enemy's country, over The most signal triumphs over achieved by an army were won by the noble band that marched from Vera Cruz to the very heart of the enemy's country, overcoming in every encounter the numerous armies which the fee brought against them. Cerro Gordo, pueble, Contreras, Churubusco, Molino del Rey and Chupultepee, all attest the undaunted bravery of the Consylvania Regiments. Having so nobly proved their country and maintained the patriotic character of their country and maintained the patriotic character of their native State, they come back among us again, poor perhaps in purse, weary, toil-worn and wounded, but rich in the honor they have acquired and worthy of the welcome they will receive. From the preparations now making we feel confident that the reception will be a handsome one—one that will wake the returned soldier forget for a while the hardships and toil he has endured in the stronger, feeling of patriotic pride that it, was for his country they were encountered, and his countrymen know how to appreciate the sacrifice.—Ledger of Monday.
