

GOVERNOR JOHNSTON'S MESSAGE.

That struts and finds his hour upon the stage, And then is heard no more! We have read the Message of the present acting Governor and the Governor elect of this great Commonwealth...

His Excellency pays a handsome tribute to the sterling worth of his immediate predecessor in office, the great, good, and lamented GUNN, while he acknowledges that a difference of political views separated them many years before his death...

In a business point of view, the Message, in style and arrangement, is commendable. He states the amount of indebtedness of the Commonwealth, the accruing revenue, and makes suitable suggestions as to a sinking fund being raised by its gradual liquidation...

The Governor recommends cancelling the old Reliance and substituting a new issue in its stead, such time as they can be entirely withdrawn from circulation. He recommends the cancellation of the old Reliance...

The Governor himself means by "any extraordinary increase of banking capital," remains to be seen. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. On the doctrine of the individual liability of the stockholders of banking institutions...

On the subject of the tariff, the Governor seems wedded to the old exploded doctrine of protection. He talks as though he thought the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was but a community of iron masters. It is true he throws in a little gambon about the rewards of labor...

The Harrisburg Telegraph—a rank Federal print—for the purpose of showing the "popularity" of General Taylor, copies several articles from English Tory papers, which rejoice over the election of Taylor and the defeat of Gen. Cass. No doubt Johnny Bull is well pleased at the result of the election in the United States...

The Fops of our Borough.—At a late meeting of the citizens of our borough, the following named gentlemen were appointed to receive contributions from our citizens for the relief of the poor of Carlisle—John M. Gregg, Peter Rowley, Thos. H. Shiller, Samuel A. Coyle, Henry A. Doty, Samuel Ensminger, H. B. Ritter, George Wiles, Jacob C. Doss, Jesse W. Eby was appointed Treasurer.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate. Such an oversight, so happily remedied by the late Governor, is a mark of honor to his name...

It is therefore gratifying to know that the war has fully terminated, and that Peace, the rational desire of all, sheds again its blessings on every portion of our country. To the Almighty Father, who in mercy turned the hearts of the rulers of both countries, to lay aside the sword, to cultivate the spirit of brotherly kindness, and to establish peaceful relations between the citizens of their respective governments...

In the late contest with Mexico, the Commonwealth was called upon by the National Government, to furnish a portion of the troops deemed necessary by the Government for the purpose of restoring to the Government the territory of Texas, which was in its hands, and the preservation of which was a matter of just pride to their fellow citizens...

It is indeed to be deemed improper in me to say a few words in reference to the character of the illustrious deceased. The late Gov. Shunk having spent a large portion of his life in the public service, and having mingled much with his fellow citizens, was well and extensively known to the masses of the people...

Under the provisions of the original act of the 4th of May, 1841, the amount of notes issued was twenty millions and six hundred and eighty-two thousand and six hundred dollars, and a specific appropriation of the support of the government during the year, the payment of debts, and other special purposes therein mentioned. Within two years thereafter, the sum of one hundred and thirty-five thousand two hundred and thirty-four dollars and fifty cents was funded by the banks and converted into permanent loans at five per cent.

It is not necessary now to decide. Under the provisions of the original act of the 4th of May, 1841, the amount of notes issued was twenty millions and six hundred and eighty-two thousand and six hundred dollars, and a specific appropriation of the support of the government during the year, the payment of debts, and other special purposes therein mentioned.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

The first failure to comply with the Act of Assembly requiring the cancellation of these notes, was prior to, or on the 31st of Dec. 1844. The amount directed to be cancelled in 1844, and 1845, and which was not done, was $165,000.

The amount of failure to cancel in 1845 was 23,700. The amount of failure to cancel in 1847 was 50,000. The amount of failure to cancel in 1848 was 11,000.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

It is worth the attention of the Legislature, the Governor, and the people; that no provision exists in the Constitution in the contingency of the death, resignation, or removal of the Governor, for the selection of a presiding magistrate.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Total amount added to the above deficit makes 924,912 19. Deduct excess of apparent revenue, 87,349 30. Real deficit under existing laws, 837,562 89.

The operation of laws on the part of the national government, framed with a view to the assessment of duties and collection of revenue, is a subject seriously affecting the finances of the Commonwealth. No State in the Union depends in greater degree for the advantages of wholesome enterprise and the safe investment of capital, on the stability and agency of laws affording reasonable protection to domestic industry.

Of the interests favorably affected by the establishment of manufactures, none deserve more especial notice, than the laboring and producing classes. These compose the great mass of our population, and in all respects differ radically from the same classes in other countries. Here, they are a part of government itself, and as such, are frequently required to perform the duties of citizens, than the peace of the State depends on their well-being.

The manufacturer, if he be sustained in his enterprise, produces this result, by opening to the laborer a new source of employment. It is frequently urged that the system of protection to domestic industry is of more interest to the manufacturer than to the laborer as it enables him to dispose of his fabric at a higher price, and to receive a better return on his capital; but it is the capital of the laborer, not of the manufacturer, that is the source of his support.

It is not, however, in enhanced prices alone, that he finds his reward. In the home market he is his own factor, and avoids the risk of agencies, the dangers of foreign competition, and the cost of transportation. In another form he is still more favorably benefited. One of the elements of well regulated industry, is unity of interest.

The existing revenue laws of the Commonwealth, by opening our ports to foreign manufactures, involve the labor of the wretched, and operating of Europe, to a competition with the healthy and prosperous condition of things. The consequences are ruinous to the interests of the laboring and producing classes, and dry the streams of property in every branch of industry.

It is not, however, in enhanced prices alone, that he finds his reward. In the home market he is his own factor, and avoids the risk of agencies, the dangers of foreign competition, and the cost of transportation.

It is not, however, in enhanced prices alone, that he finds his reward. In the home market he is his own factor, and avoids the risk of agencies, the dangers of foreign competition, and the cost of transportation.

It is not, however, in enhanced prices alone, that he finds his reward. In the home market he is his own factor, and avoids the risk of agencies, the dangers of foreign competition, and the cost of transportation.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Total amount added to the above deficit makes 924,912 19. Deduct excess of apparent revenue, 87,349 30. Real deficit under existing laws, 837,562 89.