

Terrible News from Santa Fe. All the Men and animals of Col. Fremont reported to have perished, except himself.

Intelligence from Santa Fe to Feb. 24, has been received at Independence, Missouri. The Republican contains letters from Taos, which represent the winter as having been so very severe that Col. Fremont while passing through one of the mountain gorges, lost 150 mules in one night. Being then left on foot, he came to the conclusion that it was impossible to proceed further, and finally he dispatched three men to seek the nearest settlement and procure succor. This party not returning in twenty days, Col. Fremont started for Taos, distant 350 miles, where he arrived in nine days. Major Deale immediately dispatched a party of dragoons, with mules and provisions, to relieve Col. Fremont's men.

Col. Fremont, though much emaciated and worn out by anxiety and the deprivations to which he had been subjected, accompanied the dragoons. The sufferings of the party are represented to have been so very great, that they were even reduced to the extremity of feeding on the bodies of their comrades. Mr. Green, who brought this news to Independence, left Santa Fe several days after its publication. Later reports say that all of Col. Fremont's party perished except himself, and he is badly frost-bitten.

Our correspondent at Independence expresses doubts as to the correctness of this news, but we do not see with what reason.

Terrible Disaster-Holler Explosion-Five Persons Killed-Five Dwellings Destroyed.

Our neighboring city of Allegheny was thrown into a great excitement by the explosion of the boiler of the cotton baling machine of Fio & Brothers. The boiler was thrown forty feet, and the roof raised from the building. Five of the adjacent buildings were destroyed by the explosion.

Five of the proprietors of the factory, were killed, and the bodies of four others have been dug from the ruins. Four persons were badly injured by the fall of a chimney, and it is feared that several persons are yet buried in the ruins.

Cholera on the Western Waters Again.

The steambots from below report that the cholera has again broken out on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. The steamer Bride was ordered to Louisville yesterday, on her passage from New Orleans, had a large number of cases of cholera on board, fourteen of which proved fatal. The steamer George Washington, which arrived at Memphis on the 22d, also had cholera on board, and several cases. The Creole also had three deaths. The cholera has been confined principally to the migrant passengers.

Arrival of California Gold.

The ship Tear, Capt. Kennedy, arrived here today on the Sandwich Islands, having left Nov. 10th, at San Francisco. She brings $70,000 in California gold. Her news from the gold region is not as previously reported.

From the Harrisburg Telegraph, March 21, 1849.

Sudden Death. Henry Haldeman, Esq., of Bainbridge, Lancaster county, was found dead in his bed this morning, at the residence of his brother Jacob Haldeman in this borough. He went to bed in his usual health and cheerfulness.

"Sudden Death."—A lad named Root, 16 years of age, died at Covington, Ky., last week, as is alleged by the Cincinnati Commercial, from the effects of mercury, administered ten or twelve weeks ago, by a physician, to alleviate typhoid fever. The Commercial says:

In a few weeks, spots made their appearance on each side of the face, followed by mortification and sloughing of the parts, the usual result of mercurial action when thus manifested. For several weeks, the poor sufferer lay thus, the poison augmenting its awful work, until the whole jaw, with the exception of a small portion of the chin, was exposed to view from the rotting of the teeth. The upper and under lip were entirely gone, and the appearance was presented of a skull covered with flesh excepting the teeth and jaw's most pitiable sight. On the right side of the face the infection extended to the eye, scalp and ear, and had the youthful sufferer lived a few days longer, he would have lost his right eye, ear, and all the flesh on that side of his face and head, but fortunately for himself and friends, death has kindly come to his aid and relieved him of misery.

THE SACRAMENTO.—The following description of the great golden river of California, the Sacramento, is given in a new work, just issued from the Boston press, entitled "A Tour of Duty in California," by Lieut. Joseph Warren Revere, U. S. N.

The Sacramento is a most picturesque and beautiful stream, and presents, for a great part of its extent, the remarkable peculiarity of two sets of banks, which appear to be formed by the river in its second, or furthest removed, having been deposited by the river at the highest stage of its waters. This country beyond the banks, and the woods which line them, is rolling, fertile, and fertile, interspersed with groves of oak and the soil is rich and fertile, extremely productive and luxuriant. The banks of the river are thickly wooded, being lined on either side by a strip of heavy timber generally about a league in breadth. The deep, clear, and rapid waters are available to the Buttes for several seasons of the year. As yet, however, no steam vessel has disturbed its solitude. The tributaries of the Sacramento are numerous, rising in the Sierras on each side of the valley, amongst timber of huge size, and their waters, by the snows of the Sierras, make a delicious beverage. Nor is there any lack of water power, the sites for mill seats being almost without number. Some of these tributaries present the feature common to many of the rivers of California, of the American Falls. The water re-appearing ere they disengage into the main stream. The principal of these subterranean rivers are the Rio de las Plumas, known among the Americans as Father River, and the Rio de las Americas, otherwise called the American Falls. The region washed by these streams had proved especially prolific in gold, and it may be that large deposits of this precious metal are hidden in their subterranean beds.

A HUMAN CROCHET.—A correspondent of the Germantown Telegraph gives the following account of the capability of the human stomach which he came across while reading "The Principles of Medical Psychology," published by the Sydenham Society, London, 1847; and of course coming from such a quarter, is to be relied on. Being struck with it, he has sent us a copy for publication in the Telegraph. It is a very remarkable thing:

"Urban Faded was a lunatic confined at Gratz, in Germany. One of his morbid conceptions was, that the stomach must always be strengthened with iron. He was suddenly seized with a violent inflammation of the stomach, which nearly proved fatal. He recovered, however, and, as soon as he could speak, asserted that he had swallowed the blade of a knife, which was not credited. In November, 1829, he was again taken ill, and died on the third day. On opening the body, there were found seven oxidated iron nails, each 2 1/2 inches long; 33 nails 2 inches long, some blunted by oxidation, some pointed and large, and 49 smaller iron nails and rivets; 3 pieces of wound up iron wire; an iron screw 1 inch long; half a knitting needle; 2 iron tobacco pipe cleaners; a brass hinge of a snuff box; the size of a penny; a brass buckle; part of the blade of a knife, 2 inches long; which was quite blunted on the edge and at the point by oxidation; and, lastly, a roll of lint about the size of a hazel nut. The total number of articles amounted to 100, and weighed about the size of a penny. The stomach was very much drawn down, but not perforated. Judging from the state of oxidation, it was concluded that many of the above named contents had been retained a couple of years in the stomach, and that probably many pieces of iron had passed through this man's body."

Enormous Cheese.—The London papers mention the arrival there of an enormous cheese. The milk of seven hundred cows was used in making it, and it weighs 1,474 pounds. It is thirteen feet in circumference, four feet and a quarter in diameter, and eighteen inches in thickness. It was made by Messrs. Smith & Stone, farmers of Ainstbury, Ohio, United States of America, and was offered for and obtained prize in New York.

Missionary to California.—The insufficient number of teachers of religion on the Pacific coast induced, some weeks ago, an independent movement among a number of the Episcopal congregations in New York, for the purpose of securing means to sustain there at least one missionary. The fund has accumulated so rapidly that already the Rev. David S. Miles has departed for San Francisco, at which place there is a Protestant Episcopal Church. He sailed in the steamship Crescent City, and the New York Commercial Advertiser says of him: "Mr. Miles is said to be a native of Virginia; was formerly a Presbyterian clergyman, but uniting himself with the Episcopalians, was for some time pastor of a church at St. Croix, whence he returned about twelve months since, and has recently had in charge a church at Rossville, Staten Island."

These Missouri Twins.—These wonderful children are now being exhibited in St. Louis. They are the children of Mr. Benjamin Ross, Texas county, Missouri, and were born on the 16th of December, 1847. They are conjoined from the breast bone and abdomen, measure 20 inches in height, and weigh 20 pounds. Their connection is such that they stand face to face, heads coated over with fine black hair, and in all other respects perfect in form and feature.

DALLEY'S

Magical Pain Extractor. (THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY ORIGINAL.)

Burns and Scalds. CHALLENGE the world to prove that my genuine Extractor has ever failed (since its introduction by me in 1839), in one single instance, to cure the worst Burns and Scalds. But it must be the genuine article, not the vile counterfeit stuff that is flooding the market.

MARK THE TEST! Dalley's Genuine Extractor, in Burns and scalds, affords immediate relief, as soon as applied; it cools and draws out the fire and pain in a few minutes. Counterfeit Extractors, no matter by what name or under what title they appear, when applied irritate and increase the pain.

Try all the imitations that profess to be the same virtues, and the above test will be found conclusive. In Burns, however, do not apply to Burns and scalds, but in cuts, wounds, sores and inflamed eyes, and all cases of external and painful inflammation, the same relief will be observed.

Piles, Bruises, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Erysipelas, Eruptions, Scabies, Itch, Swollen Testicles, Chills, Fever, Sore, old Sores & Burns, and all external inflammation, yield readily to the all-powerful pain subduing, and curative properties of this extraordinary remedy. But mark, it must be the genuine Dalley.

CAUTION. To the Public.—Being cognizant of the danger attending the use of the counterfeit extractors, I distinctly declare that I will not hold myself responsible for the effects of any Extractor, unless the same be procured of my own Dispensary, 118 Broadway, N. Y., or from my authorized agents.

TO THE LADIES. And Especially to Mothers and Heads of Families. The great and substantial benefit that may be derived, and the pain and suffering that may be avoided, by the use of Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor, (see printed pamphlet, especially the article addressed to Mothers, &c.) ought to make it an inmate of every family. In many cases, being preserved by its use, and applied to my genuine Extractor. I would therefore caution you not to purchase without a box of it on hand, not for a single day; for where there are children, accidents will occur. And what is of vast importance, especially to girls, is that it will cure without a scar.

DANGEROUS PUNCTURE. Mr. Dalley—Sir, I cut my finger with a copper nail, the poisonous nature of which I am very anxious to well counteract, with constant shooting pains up to the shoulder. A large swelling taking place at the stump, with increasing pain, and I became fearful of the lock-jaw. In this extremity, your Pain Extractor was recommended to me, which I immediately prevailed upon to try. The consequence was, that it afforded me almost instant relief, and in three days I was completely cured. JOSEPH HARRISON. New York, cor. Broome & Sullivan streets. September 8, 1848.

LIFE SAVED!—WFUL CASE OF SCALD. WREATHFIELD, NIAGARA CO., N. Y. Mr. Dalley—Dear Sir—While on the 29th of March, I was at work in the shingle manufactory of L. P. Rose, he had the misfortune to slip and fall into a large vat, used for the purpose of boiling blocks preparatory to cutting. The blocks had just been removed from the vat containing a large quantity of boiling water. I fell forward, scalding both hands and arms, all on one side and one leg and hand, and other partially. The scalds were so bad on his arms and leg, that most of the flesh came off by both his physicians and friends.

Dalley's Pain Extractor was procured as soon as possible (which was in about 48 hours) and applied and which relieved him from all pain, prevented inflammation and swelling, and in a few days commenced healing his sores. There appeared a general improvement, so much so that in three weeks he was removed to his father's house, distance about one mile and a half.

We concluded the use of the above medicine about two months, and we believe it was the means, under Providence, of saving his life, and we would cheerfully recommend it in all similar cases, as a safe and invaluable remedy. With sentiments of respect, I remain, dear sir, your most obedient and humble servant. ADLAI CLARK. SUSANNAH CLARK. C. E. CLARK.

We, the undersigned, being personally acquainted with the case of Mr. Clark's son, believe the above statement substantially correct, and we hereby certify. M. Dewey, Louis Dewey, J. S. Kealey, Henry P. Pearce, Wm. Evans, E. Clark, L. P. Rose, Ira Newman, Wm. Newman, Mary J. Rose.

CHILBLAINS—The Extractor has not yet in any single instance, failed of curing. Cuts, Wounds, and Punctures, no matter how severe, (see page 12, printed pamphlet,) always yield readily to the wonderful properties of this wonderful stuff.
