

ARRIVAL OF THE CALDONIA

The steamship Caldonia, with dates from Paris to the 5th, London to the 6th, and Liverpool to the 7th last, arrived at Boston on Saturday.

The Caldonia has 45 passengers for Boston exclusive of 18 of the 43 survivors of the ill-fated bark, Charles Bartlett, of Plymouth, Mass. Wm. Bartlett, master, which, on the 27th of June, at 3 o'clock, P. M., about 700 miles to the westward of Cape Clear, was run down by the steamship Europa, and sunk in 3 minutes, with one hundred and thirty-four of the passengers and crew.

The catastrophe occurred during an immense fog and although the boats of the Europa were instantly lowered, and every possible assistance rendered, only 44 out of the 177 souls were saved. The captain, second mate and 19 of the crew among the survivors.

The Europa is acquitted of all blame not only by the survivors, but by the unanimous vote of the British press and the public subscription of £252 was promptly raised by the passengers of Europa, to which the proprietors have added $200, they likewise offer to carry the whole of the survivors from Boston to New York free of all expense.

The Charles Bartlett, was bound from London to New York with emigrants, and had on board 450 men, women and children, including 100 emigrants. R. B. Forbes, Esq., a passenger per Europa, behaved with surprising gallantry upon this occasion, and has been presented with the gold medal of the Liverpool Shipping and Humane Society. The Europa sustained no material damage by the collision.

On the 30th ult. the permanent assembly of Rome, finding that further resistance to the French army would be in vain, ceased hostilities and virtually surrendered the Eternal City to the besiegers. On the 15th inst. an official notification was received from the French legislative assembly, that in consequence of the arrangement entered into between Gen. Oudinot and the Roman Government, the gates of Paolo Paoletti and St. Pancrazio had been opened to the French troops, who were adopting measures for the immediate occupation of Rome, which would take place with perfect quietness and order.

A correspondent writing from Paris says that it was stated positively just as the Bourbons were closing their eyes, that the government had received a telegraphic dispatch announcing the entry of the French army into Rome on the 2nd inst., and that they were received by acclamation by the people. The division of Garibaldi had been conducted to Civita Vecchia, where they would stay down to the 15th inst. The army would be lodged and maintained by the Roman government. The funds rose on the news 1/2 per cent.

Just previous to the reception of the decisive news from Rome, Gen. Bugeau left Paris to take command of the army in Italy, and General Oudinot was ordered home in disgrace. Arrangements were promptly made to increase the army of Italy to 60,000 men.

Immediately on the reception of the news of the surrender of Rome a telegraphic dispatch was sent to Marseilles, despatching Gen. Bugeau to wait there for fresh instructions before proceeding to Rome.

According to the diplomatic circles of Paris, on Thursday the Gen. is to take the place of M. de Cour, ambassador, and is also charged with a mission to Marshal Radetzky, to negotiate all military matters respecting the occupation of Italy. It appears certain that Gen. Lamoriciere goes to Peterburg as ambassador, and that he is to protect against the Emperor taking any part in the affairs of Italy.

As yet we have not received any reliable intelligence from Hungary. The contest between those gallant aspirants for freedom, and the millions of despotism, was still going on at the last accounts; but the reports are contradictory, and there is no knowing to which side the victory leans. The revolutionary spirit in Europe certainly is not yet subdued. Venice still holds out against the Austrians; but the revolutionists of Berlin have been defeated.

Important from the Gold Regions. State of Affairs in South America. Over $1,500,000 in Gold at Valparaiso, to be shipped to England.—Departure of the Chilean—Return of the Hon. Sr. Barros—Arrival of Mr. Rosier, bearer of dispatches.—Appearance of the Cholera at Panama.—Flight of the Insurrectionists.

At Valparaiso, on the 30th of May, considerable excitement was occasioned by the report that the abundance of gold in California still continued. Emigration from Chile was on the same scale as at first, and many were taken from Valparaiso to San Francisco for $80.

In Peru, there had been a considerable lull in the spirit of enterprise, as regards California. From intelligence which has reached Calcutta of the low price of merchandise of a description of the kind, in France, there had been a stop put to further exports. The disposition to emigrate, however, maintained its force among the lower classes of population.

The New York Herald has an account of a shipwreck by which two pupils of the Charlotte Academy, near Lake Ontario, were drowned, with a person who went to their rescue. They belonged to New York City, and their names were Frances Cavill and Hannah Ann Ferguson. While on a visit they were induced to sail upon a mill pond with a lad 15 years old.

It seems George Decker took two of the girls first, and left them at a little bath house at some other part of the dam, and then returned and took the two others. "In returning, they all got into the boat, and were more than half way back, when, by a sudden movement of one of the girls, the boat rocked and slipped full of water. Their weight, of course, sunk it, and left them afloat, but as the boat came again to the surface, they all took hold on the sides and supported themselves in the water, and the boy swam to shore to help.

Their situation was soon ascertained by James Strain, Esq., the owner of the mill, who hastened to the spot, and being expected, placed a ladder to their aid. He took two of the girls, and instructing them to hold on to his clothes, started for the shore, while the other two clung to the boat as before. But when not more than twelve or fifteen feet from the shore, he was heard to cry, "oh my back!" and immediately sank with his precious charge. A Mr. Snow, who saw him after he started from the boat, and being a expert swimmer, plunged in to their aid. He took two of the girls, and instructing them to hold on to his clothes, started for the shore, while the other two clung to the boat as before. But when not more than twelve or fifteen feet from the shore, he was heard to cry, "oh my back!" and immediately sank with his precious charge. A Mr. Snow, who saw him after he started from the boat, and being a expert swimmer, plunged in to their aid.

It seems probable that all would have been saved had Mr. Strain gone out to them. "He was so ill," I understand, with a lame back, and probably was seized at that moment with a crick or cramp, and instantly disabled. "They must have been some thirty minutes under water when I arrived, and one could tell the place where they sank. One young man dived several times, while we pulled the boards from a sled by the aid of a horse, and finally prepared a strip of board from the saw mill with which to reach them for them. The water was 12 feet deep, and not very clear. With the aid of our raft we soon found the place, and reaching down, took up first Mr. Strain, and then F. A. and then E. I had the melancholy satisfaction of assisting to bear their precious remains on shore, but too late to save life. Two physicians were present to aid, but their skill could not avail anything.

THE BONAPARTE FAMILY. Napoleon put away Josephine for state reasons, married again, and was the father of illegitimate children. Jerome put away his wife to please Napoleon. Jerome's daughter, the princess Demidoff, has left her husband within six years after marriage. Joseph lived apart from his wife and had illegitimate children. Pauline behaved so badly that her husband, the viceroy of Sicily, walked out of the door of his house against her, and separated. Pierre Bonaparte charges the present President, the supposed son of Louis Bonaparte, with being illegitimate. Lucien's second daughter married an Englishman, when she deserted, and has a family of illegitimate children now in Paris.

Jerome's eldest son now lives in Paris with an Italian lady, without marriage. Only three of the whole tribe now appear at the President's levee. The President is unmarried, but is not without a female companion of great beauty. KENDALL describes the proceedings of the French courts of justice as laughable, if not ludicrous. He says that the French understand but little of trial by jury, and that there is an utter want of that dignity which obtains in all such courts in England and America. The prisoners, to use his own expression, jaw the judges, the witnesses take part in the arguments, and for a space he found it difficult to ascertain who were the accused and who the accusers.

Hon. Jos. Jones, the late President of Girard College, has been chosen to address the Annual Yearly College in August. "Do you make yourself at home ladies," said a lady one day to her visitors. "I am at home and I wish you all here!"

SAD SCENES IN CINCINNATI.—The Cleveland Plain Dealer contains the following letter, dated Cincinnati, July 19. "The cholera is doing its work here and is decidedly alarming, having grown more violent in its attack and more fatal. The deaths have daily increased 20 per cent for the last 10 days. Yesterday 60 funerals were counted up in one building, and yesterday 60 funerals and the stretch from such a mass is terrible. The mortality among the negroes is nearly as much thronged during the night as during the day, but they bury from the German part of the town to all hours, in all ways and shapes, from a goat cart to a wheel barrow. The mortality among them is beyond anything you can ever hear of. One of my men visited a house occupied by five families and found ten dead, and fifteen had died in all in the 48 hours preceding. In one house epidemic our manufactory, 25 Germans have died of cholera; I have seen a dry load of coffee go there at once. Nearly all business houses have stopped. The streets were a Sunday like appearance, except the funerals. I have counted 23 in a single day pass my window.
