AT $200 PERANNUM.

VOL. 37.

CARLISLE, PA., THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1850.

THE AMERICAN VOLUNTEER,

T published every Thursday, at Carlisle, Pa., by JOHN I BRATTON, upon the following conditions, which will be rigidly adhered to:

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

Square, too insertions,
square, three insertions,
y an state of the state

Office. —The office of the American Folunteer is in the see and story of James II. Graham's new stone building, in Sout Ianovor street, a few doors south of the Court House, when hose having business are invited to call.

Boetical.

BLESS GOD FOR RAIN. BY OKOROR W. BUNGAY,

"Bless God for Rain," the poor man said,
And wipod away a grateful tear—
That we may have our daily bread,!
He drops a shower upon us hera.
Our Pacher. Thou who dwell'st in Fraven,
We tnank Thee for the pearly shower,
The blessed present thou hast given
To man and beast and bird and flower.

The dusty earth, with lips apart,
Lonked up where rolled an orb of flame,
As though a prayer came from its heart
'Year rain to come; and to, it came.
The Indian corn with sliken plume.
And flowers with timy pitchers filed,
Send up their praise of sweet perfuine,
For precious drops the clouds distilled.

The modest grass is frush and green— The brooklet swells its song again; Methinks an angel wing is seen. In every cloud that brings us rain. There is a rainbow in the sky. Upon the arch where tempests trod; Got wrote it ere the world was dry— It is the autugraph of God.

Up where the heavy thunders rolled, And clouds on lire were swept along. The sun rides in a cur of gold, And searing larke dissnive in song. The rile that gust from mountains rude, Flow trickling to the verdant base—Just like the lears of gratitude. That often stain a good man's face.

Small Sweet Courtesles of Life Extract from a letter of the late William Wirt to Extract from a letter of the late William Wirt to his Daughter:

"I want to tell you a secret. The way to make yourself pleasing to others, is to show that you care for them. The whole world is like the miller at Manafield, "who ared for nobody—no not he—bet cause nobody cared for him." And the whole world will serve you so, if you give them the same cause. Let every one, therefore, see that you do care for them, by showing them what Sterne so happily calls, "the small sweet courtesies of life"—those courtesies in which there is no parade; whose voice is to still not to tease, and which manifests themselves by tender and affectionate looks, and little kind acts of attention—giving others preference in every little enjoyment at the table, in the field, walking, sitting ar standing. This is the spirit that gives to your time of life, and to your sex, its sweetest charm. It constitutes the sum total of the witcheraft of woman. Let the world see that your first care is fur yourself, constitutes the sum total of the witchcraft of woman. Let the world see that your first care is for yourself, and you will spread the solitude of the Upos tree around you, in the same way, by the emanation of a poison which kills all the juices of affection in its neighborhood. Such a girl may be admired but for her understanding and accomplishments, but she will never be beloved.

The seeds of leve can never grow but under the warm and genial influence of kind feelings and affectionate manners. Vivacity goes a great way in young persons. It calls attention to her who displays it; and, if it then be found associated with a generous sensibility, its execution is irresistible.

SHAVING A NOTE.

BY JOE MILLER, JR.

Old Skinflint was the most celebrated broker in Philiadelphia; his "shaving" operations were famous, as he generally took not only beard and whishers, but "a point of fifths" in addition. Young Harry Scarum was one of those dashing chaps, who love wince and horses, and who form the majority of the great army of betrowers. Harry, having many wants, on various occasions betrowed of Skinflint, at three per cent, a misnth "off." At last he got tired of such constant berrowing and repaying. It would be aix years before his estates could be sold, under the terms of his father's will, who had prudently postponed that event until Harry could reach the age of thirty, and concluded it would be better to make a heavy operation at once, and be rid of the bother of continual berrowings. Away to Skinflint he went, determined to procure a good round sum and be done with it.

"I wunt ten themsead for all years "I want to bleman and have a bear of many to be in a walf beating about in the sea of print, without an owner—which is as full of truth as an egg in that it is their interest to preserve peace and order and who let mass of the people. Enable them to see that it is their interest to preserve peace and order and they will preserve them. And it requires no very high degree of education to convince them to round the will be deucation of our children," said John Adams to his wife, "is never out of my mind. Affaith and them to virtue; habituate them to industry, activity and spirit; make then consider every post of any useful or ornamental knowling and they will preserve them. And it requires no very high degree of education to convince them to convince them to that it is their interest to preserve them. And it requires no very high degree of education to convince them to convince them to that it is their interest to preserve them. And it requires no very high degree of education to convince them to convince them to that the preserve them. And it helps, the preserve them. And they will pres sprrow: but to observe an honest life more strictly than an oath; and meditate on serious things.—No Cross No Cross. No Cross. No Cross. No Cross.

A Western paper announces the sitting of the court of common fisas. We suppose that, of course, very well by sight, but swallow me if I can remember the big bugs are also in attendance at the hetels.

A Western paper announces the sitting of the court of common fisas. We suppose that, of course, the big bugs are also in attendance at the hetels.

A willage pedagogue, in despair with a stupid boy, knotty.

A willage pedagogue, in despair with a stupid boy, knotty.

BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENT.—On a sailor's grave stone, quick as possible."

What are you writing such a big hand for Pat?"

Why, you see, my grandmother's dafe, and I'm writing a loud letther to her."

Why, you see, my grandmother's dafe, and I'm writing a loud letther to her."

will very probably run.

young persons. It calls attention to the superior of the people alone can protect on sansibility, its execution is irresistible.

On the contrary, if it be found in alliance with a cold, haughty, selfish heart, it produces no further effect, and adverse one. Attend to this my daughter, It flows from a heart that feels for you all the anxiety a parent can feel, and not without the hope which constitutes the parent's highest happiness, may God protect and bless you. Your affectionate to which with the proper of the property to the which constitutes the parent's highest happiness, may God protect and bless you. Your affectionate to government, or information to the people. This list is the most certain and the most legitimate engine of government. Educate and inform the whole mass of the people. Enable them to see that it is their interest to preserve peace and order that it is their interest to preserve peace and order

Get Lings Clay and a service of the control of the

- NO. 4:

A WHARP EXECUTION.

In this property of the mountain of the supplies of the property of the pr

See al. Against a continue to a set of the second action of the second a

The Western papers state that the Mississippi has - sixed one foot. When it ruises the other foot, it