CAUTION.

As there are a variety of Drills in the market sold under other patents that are direct infringements on Pennock's patent, we have concluded to publish an extract from the claim of our patent, in order that the public may be able to judge of those that are infringements, and thereby prevent imposition.

It will be seen from the following claim, that all Drills whether sold as patent or otherwise, which have attached to them one or more letters for the purpose of stopping the seed and raising the seed tube out of the ground at one and the same operation, are direct infringements on this claim.

The following is an extract from the claim of the original patent, whose rights are being violated:

"The simultaneous throwing into or out of operation, by the movement of a lever or other mechanical equivalent or device, each separate cylinder or tube, with any number of cylinders or tubes, that may be present in sawing, planing, or other work, and all other similar constructions, is hereby described and represented in the annexed drawing, but to say these in any way that may mislead, proper as that the before described results are effected by means substantially the same as those described in the foregoing specification."

All persons are hereby warned against infringing in any way upon the above claim, under the penalties of the law made and provided therefor.

Proclamation.
