

THE VOLUNTEER.

CARLISLE, THURSDAY, SEPT. 19, 1850.

John B. Beaton, Editor and Proprietor.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER.

WILLIAM T. MORISON, of Montgomery County.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL.

BPHRAIM BANKS, of Mifflin County.

FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL.

J. PORTER BRAWLEY, of Crawford County.

COUNTY TICKET.

James X. McLANAHAN, of Franklin County.

Senator, JOSEPH BAILY, of Perry county.

Assembly, HENRY CHURCH, of East Pennsboro'.

Commissioner, THOMAS G. SCULLER, of Mifflin.

Director of the Poor, WM. H. TROUT, of Carlisle.

SKILES WOODBURN, of Newton.

Auditor, LEWIS HYER, of Allen.

County Surveyor, PATRICK DAVIDSON, of Carlisle.

Prosecuting Attorney, WM. H. MILLER, of Carlisle.

Messrs. McLANAHAN and Mann, of the House of Reps., will accept our thanks for their kind attentions.

The Clerks.—The lovers of fun must not forget that Robinson & Eldred's celebrated Circus is to perform in Carlisle to-day.

The Young Democrats of the 3d Congressional district, in Philadelphia county, have organized an association, under the title of the "Young Men's Democratic Bigler Association, No. 1."

Democracy, are you Assessed?

Let every Democratic freeman throughout this County, examine the Assessor's list, and ascertain whether his name is properly enrolled. Remember that the law requires it to be done ten days previous to the election, and if neglected, it will deprive him of one of the highest privileges known in our land—the right to vote.

Our old Democratic friend, WILLIAM D. BOAS, Esq., of Harrisburg, has received the nomination for Congress by the Democrats of Dauphin, Schuylkill, and Lebanon. This is a Whig district, but yet we think "Billy Boas" can whip any coon in the district. We shall rejoice at his success, for he is a decidedly clever man, and a true Democrat.

The People in our county will this fall vote for the following officers:

A STATESMAN, A CONGRESSMAN, A STATE SENATOR, TWO MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE, A COUNTY COMMISSIONER, A DIRECTOR OF THE POOR, A COUNTY SURVEYOR, A COUNTY AUDITOR, A PROSECUTING ATTORNEY, and FOR OR AGAINST THE AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION, RESPECTING THE ELECTION OF JUDGES BY THE PEOPLE.

JOHN COENA, Esq., of Bedford.—We are glad to see that this able and sterling Democrat has been nominated for Assembly by the democracy of Bedford county. Mr. Coena was one of the most prominent members of the Legislature, and his course was that of a true Democrat and honest man. We hope the Democracy of Bedford may rally to his support as one man.

Our Candidate for the Senate.—The Harrisburg Union, after congratulating the democracy of this Senatorial district upon the happy termination of our difficulties, thus speaks of Mr. Baily:

As to his election there cannot be a shadow of doubt. He represented the county of Chester in the Senate with great ability, and was always found amongst the true and tried Democrats on all questions that arose, and he will not fail to represent Perry and Cumberland with equal faithfulness, integrity and ability.

THE CALIFORNIA SENATORS.—The two U. S. Senators from California having taken their seats in the U. S. Senate on Monday week, and lots being resorted to, as usual in such cases, to determine their respective terms, Mr. Gwin drew the long and Mr. Fremont the short term. The term of the latter consequently expires on the fourth of March next, and that of the former on the fourth of March 1850.

Col. Bigler in Lebanon County.

The Lebanon Advertiser says "we have this day hailed to the lead of our ticket, the name of Col. William Bigler, of Clearfield, as our choice for Governor in 1851. We do so, not only because he is our preference, but because we are satisfied that the Democrats of Lebanon county will go heart and hand to gain, and then support his nomination. We hope to keep it there until the chief of Pennsylvania have declared him the next chief executive."

Gov. Johnston.

This political mountebank, says the Harrisburg Union, is now scheming to secure a majority in the State Legislature, favorable to his election to the U. S. Senate. A few days ago he made a political harangue to the Whigs of Union county, and in other quarters we notice that invitations have been extended to his Excellency for a like purpose. What seems a little strange, and which confirms our belief, is the fact that in these pilgrimages he monopolizes all the glory. He appears determined to head Copper or die.

A Standard Refuted!

The statement in certain of the Federal papers, says the Pennsylvania, that W. T. Morrison, the Democratic Candidate for Canal Commissioner, while a member of the last Legislature voted for giving the members full pay after the one hundred days, is a characteristic slander. We are authorized by Mr. Morrison to say that this story, by whomsoever originated is untrue. He did not vote as charged—he received pay for only one hundred days service—and all due him after that, has not yet been paid, and will not be received by him.

Death of Hon. Henry Nix.—We learn that this gentleman, the Whig member of Congress from the York and Adams District, who has long been indisposed, died on Tuesday evening of last week at his residence in York borough.

Our county, has instructed Judge BLACK.

The Democratic Candidate for Senator—Joseph Baily again Nominated.

It is with much pleasure that we announce to the Democracy of this Senatorial district the adjournment of the unfortunate difficulty, which originated in the disagreement of the Senatorial Conventions of Cumberland and Perry counties, and the result of which would have been placing before the Democracy of this district two Senatorial candidates. The difficulty has been settled in a mode honorable to both candidates, and which cannot fail to be satisfactory to their respective friends.

In our last we published the question back to the two Conventions of Cumberland and Perry, and by which they agreed that the candidate having the highest number of votes, (to be ascertained by adding together the votes in both Conventions), should be the Democratic nominee for Senator in the district.

In pursuance of the agreement and request of the candidates, the two Conventions met in Carlisle and Bloomfield, on Monday the 16th instant, and their action resulted in the nomination of JOSEPH BAILY as the candidate of the district, by a majority of twenty-four votes, as will be seen by a reference to the report of the Returns Judges published in another column of this paper.

We most sincerely congratulate our Democratic fellow citizens of this Senatorial district in this most fortunate and satisfactory settlement of what we feared might terminate in a most unpleasant and unprofitable controversy; and the two candidates, Messrs. Baily and Anderson, deserve and we doubt not will receive, the commendation of every honest and sincere friend of Democracy in the two counties for the plan adopted by them to reconcile their respective friends and unite the party on one candidate.

We had confidence that the hitherto known and unquestioned Democracy of the two candidates would prevent either from standing in the way of an amicable and honorable arrangement, and in this we have not been disappointed.

With Mr. BAILY we have been long and intimately acquainted. We knew him when he represented the Chester District in the State Senate, and we fearlessly assert that a more pure, honest, and incorruptible Democrat never occupied a seat in that body.

With Mr. Anderson we have not been so long nor so intimately acquainted, but we have always heard him spoken of as an honorable man and sound Democrat. When he suffered his name to be used against Mr. Baily, and in opposition to the known wishes of the Democracy of Cumberland and Perry, we doubt not it was at the instance of bad advisers, who deceived and misled him. His anxiety to settle the difficulty in an honorable manner was evidence to us that he at least had no disorganizing design in view.

With such candidates then as Messrs. Baily and Anderson, we felt an abiding confidence that our unfortunate difficulties could not last long—that they were both too pure and too honest Democrats to be the means of dividing and distracting the party, and submitting us to the burning shame and mortification of seeing our strong Democratic district represented in the Senate by a Whig for the next three years. They mutually came to the rescue in a spirit of amity and conciliation; in doing so they have probably rescued the Senate from the hands of Whiggery for the next three years, and their disinterested course is worthy of all commendation.

We would here take the privilege of saying a word to the respective friends of the two candidates. We were sorry to notice some little acerbity of feeling on the day our Convention met, although not to the extent that some anticipated, for it is generally remarked that family quarrels are the most violent. We most sincerely hope that every Democrat will see the propriety of following the example of the two candidates themselves, who with the most friendly feelings for each other, have been the means of settling the difficulty in an amicable and honorable way. It is the duty of every one, laying aside all personal preferences, and every feeling opposed to harmonious and unity of action, to give a warm and enthusiastic support to the nominee selected in the mode recommended and requested by both candidates. In Mr. Baily, we have a candidate worthy of our undivided support, and who will ably and honestly represent the wishes and interests of his constituents.

We were much gratified at the very general attendance of the delegates at the Convention on Monday—although some had more than twenty miles to travel and at a season when the farmers are very much engaged in putting in their grain, of the 44 delegates composing the Convention but 3 were absent, and one of the absentees was not in the county, having left with his wagon for Baltimore before the day of meeting. Such disinterestedness speaks well for the Democracy of our county, who are willing at any time to devote a day to their own expense to promote the interests and safety of their party. To our friends in Cumberland and Perry we would now say, the lowering clouds of division and division are past and gone—we have a fair field before us and a bright sky above us. Let us arouse to unity, concert and energy of action, and proclaim to our Democratic friends throughout the State, that no Galphin Whig shall represent old Cumberland and gallant Little Perry in the Senate of Pennsylvania for the next 3 years.

JOSEPH BAILY.

The Democratic nominee in this district for State Senator, is just such a man as honest Democrats desire to vote for. He is a plain, practical man, of irreproachable moral character, and possessed of a strong well cultivated mind. He is favorably known to a large portion of the people of Cumberland and Perry counties, and is regarded by all as a high-minded, honest, and honorable man. Mr. Baily has had experience as a legislator, having served one session in the House and three in the Senate, during the whole of which time his course was unexceptionable in every particular. His firmness, ability, and zeal, gave him an influence in the Senate truly enviable. He was always true to his party and his constituents, and never faltered in his public duties.

Mr. BAILY is emphatically a self-made man, and a Democrat from principle. We have had the pleasure of his acquaintance for the last twelve years, and we defy any man living to sayught against his character, moral and political. Democrats of Cumberland—you may rest assured Joseph Baily will never deceive your confidence. Then rally to his support. The Democratic flag of this Senatorial district has been placed in his hands, and we confidently look to the Democracy of old Cumberland to give him their united and zealous support. He is worthy of and entitled to every Democratic vote, and if any one calling himself a self-made man, and a Democrat from principle, he will be regarded as a disorganizer and a Federalist in disguise, and treated as such. But there will be no opposition to Mr. Baily. Since his nomination, the best of feeling prevails, and we feel satisfied that he will receive the full Democratic vote of old Cumberland. Then, Democrats, be up and doing, and, (as we advised you in our last,) let your watch-words be, "McLANAHAN BAILY, and the whole County Ticket!"

Former Slave Bill.—On Thursday last, the Federal House of Representatives by a vote of 109 to 75, the only remaining bill, that has reference to the exciting subject of slavery, yet to be disposed of, is the one for the suppression of the Slave Trade in the District of Columbia. We hope this bill may also pass.

COL. WILLIAM BIGLER.

It is gratifying to notice the unanimity of the Democracy in support of this gentleman as our next candidate for Governor. A large majority of the democratic papers of our State express a preference for him, and the earnest and eager language they use, display an enthusiasm in his support, that gives unequivocal evidence of his popularity, and the confidence that every portion of the party has in his integrity and ability.

This is no less pleasing to his numerous personal friends, than it is to every true Democrat and well wisher of Pennsylvania. It is the harbinger of certain victory; it presents a perfect organization and a united front, long before the contest—it gives us the feeling of certainty that there will be no discord nor factions when our strength is to be tried—it gives to our ranks what all Generals like in war, a unity of feeling and purpose—a union and affection for one common object. When these are the governing principles, there can be no such thing as defeat.

We have known Col. Bigler long and well, and have always found him a high-minded and honorable man. He has been a Democrat from his youth up. The principles of the party have always been the rallying point of his whole family. He has not been a mere spectator of our contests and victories—a mere well wisher and congratulator—but an active laborer in the cause. He has always done whatever was in his power, and was among the first and readiest to enter the contest, and carry our flag wherever danger called for encouragement and exertion.

While he was in the Senate of Pennsylvania, Col. Bigler was an active champion of democracy. Three things distinguished his course, personal kindness and courtesy, unbounding integrity, and unwavering devotion. He was not merely the Senator for his own district, but the welfare of the whole commonwealth was constantly in his view, and the principles which he deemed the best, he sought to spread in every direction.

During the last political contest for Governor of this State, he displayed a disinterestedness and a magnanimity that has gained him the admiration of every Democrat. His name was placed before the convention with that of Judge Lengstreth, for the nomination, which Mr. Longstreth was successful in getting. In such cases we too often see the evidence, in meaner spirits, of disapproval and disaffection—a grumbling and unprincipled determination to do every thing to defeat the fortunate competitor—or at least a perfect indifference in regard to the election of the ticket. But such was not the case with Col. Bigler. With a noble spirit he went to work, and labored to secure the election of the man who had been his rival for the nomination. He canvassed his own and adjoining counties, and the vote that was given, proves the influence that he carried with him. Such conduct has done much, we have no doubt, to gain him the confidence and admiration of every section of the State, but his personal qualifications, his known integrity, and the blandness of his manners, has done much more. Should this sterling Democrat and excellent man be chosen as the next Democratic candidate for Governor, the Democracy of old Cumberland will give him a majority that will astonish the natives, and knock Jerry into a cocked hat.

ORGANIZATION.

It is high time that the Democracy of this county should make active preparations for the approaching election. We might write whole pages about the benefits of organization, and unless attended to it would be of no greater benefit than a breath of idle wind. Democrats of old Cumberland—you must be up and doing—the work of organization should not be postponed. Let our friends in every township get together, consult over the prospect ahead, and agree on whatever steps are necessary for bringing out the largest Democratic vote ever polled in the county. Democrats, buckle on your armor and prepare for the fight, and neither long nor grow weary, until you receive your reward in the route of the Whig party of Cumberland county.

WHIG SENATORIAL CONFERENCE.

There is nothing that has so sadly disappointed the hopes and expectations of the Federalists, as the adjustment of the Senatorial difficulty, which lately existed in the Democratic party. A week or two since their conferees met, and under the counsel and advice of Mr. Smith, the candidate for Governor, they agreed to meet again, if the two Democratic candidates continued in the field. They stood off like thieves at a configuration, waiting for a chance to steal the spoils. But fortunately we have quenched the fire of discord, and our ranks are again united in the good work, and will now move forward in solid column. The indignation of every honest and honorable Whig was excited by the trucking course of their conferees, in not nominating a candidate of their own, and of the attempts that were made in our borough to keep both the Democratic candidates on the track, promising their support to Mr. Anderson's friends if this was done. They will never learn that honesty is the best policy—that an honorable straight forward course is the only way to secure respect, or give satisfaction. They have now to snub back to the top of the mountain, and make a nomination, after their scheming among the democracy has failed of success. It looks, indeed, very much like it. The Whigs are wedded to principle and not men, who one of two Democratic candidates will suit them better than a candidate of their own. Have they no distinctive principles any longer, or have they found out that the Democratic creed is the only true creed, that they have done that? We hope Mr. Baily may have "a good time" answering these questions.

CAUTION.—The Harrisburg Union says: "A new counterfeit of the Bank of Middletown, has just appeared—5's, new plate, letter B. The clouds behind the eagle too dark. The double line around the 5's, imperfect and the short perpendicular line in the center of each 5, wanting. The shading of the helmet of the female face too light. The whisker on the farmer very stiff, and the foliage of the trees above him, imperfect. Signatures good. In the engraver's name fit in, perfectly awkward."

JAMES LOWREY, Esq., is the Democratic nominee for Congress in the district composed of Bradford, Tioga and Susquehanna—nominated by the two last mentioned counties. Mr. WILSON is the Free Soil candidate—nominated by Bradford.

Governor Johnston has offered a reward of $1000 for the apprehension and conviction of the murderer of Charles Burd, Jeweller, who was cruelly murdered in the street in Philadelphia some time since.

The Democratic Convention of Chester county, at their recent meeting, passed a resolution in favor of Col. William Bigler for Governor. The delegates from that county to the next State Convention have not yet been appointed.

Col. Andrew Parker, of Juniata county, is the Democratic candidate for Congress in that district.

MARK WHIG.

The following are the Whigs in Congress from Pennsylvania, who voted against settling the slave question.—We give their names in full. Let the people remember and reward them! HENRY D. MOORE, THADDEUS STEVENS, JESSE C. DICKEY, SAMUEL GALVIN, ANDREW J. OGLE, ROBERT R. REED, and JOHN W. HOWE.

On the other hand, says the Pennsylvania, every Democratic member from the State voted AYE, on the subject of settling these questions. Even Will not deserted his post, in the crisis, left his province to shift for itself, and went home to elector for a re-nomination; having been beaten in which, he came out against his successful competitor! We hope the people of Pennsylvania, in the districts represented by the Whigs whose names we give above—especially where they are up for re-election—will hold them to a strict accountability for deserting the Union in the day and the hour of its utmost need.

THE TARIFF MEMORIAL.—From the proceedings of the House of Representatives on the 14th inst., we take the following:

Mr. Toombs, Whig, from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported a resolution declaring an alteration of the Tariff Inexpedient. Mr. Vinson proposed an amendment to secure protection to iron and coal. Lost, 33 to 96, and Mr. Toombs' resolution adopted, 33 to 91. Mr. Brooke moved to reconsider the vote, with a view of appointing a committee to consider the question of modification of the tariff during the recess of Congress. The motion to reconsider was laid on the table by a vote of 93 to 22.

DEATH OF BISHOP BASCOM.—This eloquent pulpit orator, who has been lying ill at Louisville for several weeks, breathed his last a few days ago. Dr. Bascom was but recently chosen a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, but his name and fame were familiar to the whole country; and to the denomination to which he was attached, he was a shining light. His death will be sincerely mourned by all who were admirers of true eloquence and sterling worth.

CLARK'S FERRY BRIDGE DESTROYED BY FIRE.—Clark's Ferry Bridge, about 16 miles above Harrisburg, was totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 10th inst. It was a portion of the public works, containing the towing path of the main canal. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The bridge cost $40,000. It was half a mile long, and connected the east bank of the Susquehanna with Duncan's Island. If it is considered necessary, steam tow boats will be substituted.

MEETING OF THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

In pursuance of notice given, the Delegates composing the last Democratic County Convention of Cumberland County, re-assembled at the Court-house in Carlisle, on Monday last, the 16th inst. The former officers of the Convention took their seats. The Convention was then called to order by the President, who stated that the business of the Convention was to take a vote on the question of Senator Joseph Baily and Alexander B. Anderson were then placed in nomination, and the Convention proceeded to ballot. After the Delegates had all voted, the votes were counted, and the result was as follows:

Joseph Baily had 25 votes.

Alexander B. Anderson had 16 votes.

Robert C. Sterrett, Esq., Abraham Lamberton Esq., and Philip Quigley, Esq., were then appointed Judges to meet the return Judges of Perry county, at Sterrett's Gap on Tuesday the 17th instant.

On motion, the following resolutions were then unanimously agreed to: Resolved, That this Convention will use all fair and honorable means to secure the election of the candidate nominated for the Senate by the Conventions of Cumberland and Perry counties. Resolved, That the candidates for the Senate this day nominated be instructed to vote for the caucus nominations made by the Democratic members of the Legislature, for United States Senator and State Treasurer. That our thanks are due and are hereby tendered to the officers of this Convention, for the prompt and impartial manner they discharged their duties. Resolved, That these proceedings be signed by the officers published in the Democratic papers of this Senatorial district.

JAMES WOODBURN, President.

WILLIAM H. GORHAM, Secretary.

JOHN M. WOODBURN, Secretary.

MEETING OF THE RETURN JUDGES.

At a meeting of the Judges appointed from Cumberland and Perry counties, on the 17th inst., at Sterrett's Gap, Mr. JAMES WOODBURN was appointed President, and ABRAHAM LAMBERTON Secretary. On motion, the following proceedings were had: Messrs. George Spahr, James White, and Christian Stouffer, having been appointed on behalf of the Democratic County Convention of Cumberland County, did meet in pursuance of their appointments at Sterrett's Gap on Tuesday the 17th September, 1850, to ascertain the aggregate number of votes, given for the respective candidates for Democratic Senator in the respective Conventions held on the 16th inst. We do report that:

In Cumberland County Joseph Baily had 26 votes.

In Perry County Joseph Baily had 28 votes.

Making together 54 votes.

In Cumberland Co. A. B. Anderson had 15 votes.

In Perry County A. B. Anderson had 17 votes.

Making together 32 votes.

Majority of Joseph Baily 22 votes.

We therefore declare JOSEPH BAILY to be duly elected by the said Conventions. The Democratic nominee for the Senate in the district composed of the counties of Cumberland and Perry.

In testimony whereof we have subscribed our names, at Sterrett's Gap, this 17th day of September, 1850.

ABRAHAM LAMBERTON, Return Judge of Cumberland County.

PHILIP QUIGLEY, Return Judge of Perry County.

GEORGE SPAHR, Return Judge of Cumberland County.

JAMES WHITE, Return Judge of Perry County.

CHRISTIAN STOUFFER, Return Judge of Cumberland County.

On motion of R. C. Sterrett, Esq., Resolved, That the above proceedings be published in the Democratic papers of this Senatorial District.

Unanimously agreed to. JAMES WHITE, Pres.

ABRAHAM LAMBERTON, Sect.

For the Volunteer.

A NUISANCE.

From the complaints that we hear frequently made, we find that the soldiers at the garrison are leading an intolerable nuisance to all the families in the vicinity for several miles around our borough. Many of them go out in large parties, and rob the farmers of their fruit and poultry, and frequently insult the families in the most gross and outrageous manner. Not less than day before yesterday, (and the papers informing us says that there has not been the only occasion) a family within a mile and a half of town was most grossly abused and insulted. A couple of young ladies were in the garden getting some apples, and some method of trespass should be adopted. It was better to be without an army altogether than have a set of ruffians and outlaws, to abuse and trample upon our citizens.

JENNY LIND'S FIRST CONCERT.

Jenny Lind's first concert took place at Castle Garden, New York, on Wednesday evening, and created the greatest excitement. As early as 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the Battery was thronged by the eager multitude, and every avenue leading to the building was completely blocked up. A despatch to the Philadelphia Sun thus speaks of the audience and the appearance of Jenny Lind:

Such an assemblage as here met my eye, I never saw before, except in the same place more than a quarter of a century since, at the ball given to Lafayette. The whole vast amphitheatre was filled with ladies, gentlemen, and boys, and the appearance of Jenny Lind was the signal for a furor of applause, which lasted for some minutes; about upon about rent the air, and boquet upon boquet flew through it towards the "nightingale," until the stage looked like "the gardens of Gul in their bloom." At last silence was effected, and the very first paucity of second bar of "Casta Diva," gave me every assurance that her voice was of surpassing sweetness.

Nothing could exceed the pathos, devotion, and tender fervor of her rendering of this delightful drollard prayer. I heard Steffanoni sing it last night, but the Lind's was the thinking of silver bells to the very cow bell, in comparison of the sweet voiced Italian. In volume, strength and expression, her voice can be compared to none other I ever heard—it is a constant gushing of melody—flowing without an effort or impediment—brilliant in the upper register, and managed with an effect that baffles all description—like some of the variations on the harp—pure and noble in the middle notes, and clear, deep, and sustained with the most perfect truth and evenness in the lower scale. We had heard her voice described as a throat voice, under astonishing management; but her tones come from her chest, as vigorously as they do from the gigantic Mahtini. The following is the prize song, written by Bayard Taylor, which was sung amidst the greatest applause. It is entitled "Greeting to America."

I greet, with a full heart, the Land of the West, Whose banner of stars and a world is unfurled; Whose empire of freedom America's glory is, And whose the sunniest gateway of gold! The land of the mountains—the land of the lake, And where that roll in ungodly and bold! Where the souls of the mighty from slumber awake, And follow the soil for whose freedom they die!

At the close of the concert, Mr. Barum announced the following donations which Jenny Lind intended to make:

- Fire Department Fund $5000
Musical Phil Society 2000
Home of the Friendless 500
Society for the Relief of Indigent Females 500
Dramatic Fund Association 500
Home for Aged Colored Persons 500
Colored Orphan Asylum 500
Lying-in Asylum for Destitute Females 500
New York Orphan Asylum 500
Human Catholic Half-Orphan Asylum 500
Protestant Half-Orphan Asylum 500
Old Ladies' Asylum 500

THE PHILADELPHIA MARKET.

The Flour market continues inactive. Sales of a few hundred barrels, fresh ground for shipment at 85 per cent, at which there are plenty of offers and but few buyers.
