PENNSYLVANIA DISUNIONISTS.

We have a few short words to address to every pa riot! They are intended only for those who have a incore regard for their country, and for the perpe tuity of this glorious Union—a Union that has brought them so many blessing. They are intended only for those who can love their country more than their party, and who are not afraid to show their love by their conduct at the polls. Our remarks are not addressed to any others, and no others need take the rouble to read them.

You all know that the recent session of Congress has been a continual tempest of strife on the subject of slavery, and that our Nutional Government has who have leisure see that their neighbors are prebeen threatened with destruction by the conflicts of Northern and Southern function and factionists. You pared to go to the polls. know that these factionists have had the Union up as a sort of stake—each party risking it on abstractions in which there was no practical object—and each willing to dissolve and destroy it rather than let the other triumph, or indeed rather than not themselves come off with victory. In fact they used he union of these great States as a mere foot ball, kicking it about as it were in sport, and for their ersonal aggradizoment and gratification.

Can you pardon conduct of this kind? Can you olerate it in any way? If not, can you, or will you cratic voter hand his ticket to the Inspector withanction it at the ballet box? If you can sanction it out first having examined it closely, and ascerby your vote, then there is but little hope that you, ourself, have any regard for the Union.
